Speedy, Friendly Conclusion Hoped for in Steel Bargaining

Union Plan To Avert Big Strike

Firm Is Asking Fairness for All

Pittsburgh, June 7 (AP)—United States Steel Corp. and the CIO United Steelworkers began wage negotiations today with both sides expressing hope for a "peaceful and equitable settlement."

Clifford H. Hood, president of Big Steel, attended the opening session and briefly addressed the nearly 100 negotiating members from the union and the company.

Vice President John H. Stephens, who heads U. S. Steel's negotiators, said:

"I HOPE FOR a speedy and friendly conclusion to these negotiations with a settlement that will be fair not only to the employes of the corporation but to the stockholders and the public as well."

Earlier, David J. McDonald, president of the 1,200,000-member union, said his union is determined to win "a substantial wage increase." But he also expressed hope the settlement could be reached in advance of June 30—the date the union would be free to strike if no agreement is reached.

FIVE OTHER big producers stood by in the wings awaiting their cue to hear the union's demands.

Tomorrow at 10 a. m. (EDT), the union is to present its demands to Bethlehem. Four hours later the proposal will be laid before Republic Steel.

Union negotiators will meet Thursday with Jones and Laughlin at 10 a. m. and Youngstown Sheet & Tube at 2 p. m. On Friday at 10 a. m. the union opens its talks with Inland.

THE FIRST ROUND of negotiations is expected to last several days, with the union presenting its proposals to each firm separately and the companies taking time out to study them before getting down to bed-rock bargaining.

With the steel industry operating near capacity and enjoying healthy profits, observers consider it a foregone conclusion that the big union will get a wage increase. The question is: How much?

Guesses range from 10 to 25 cents an hour. Steelworkers now average $2.33 an hour. The union has not made its demands known.

Youth Gets 60 Days, Others Await Hearing

One of seven youths arrested Saturday night in Saugerties on disorderly conduct charges pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon to carrying a dangerous weapon and was sentenced by Police Justice Daniel Lamb of Saugerties to 60 days in the Ulster County Jail.

He is Howard Ricketson, 18, of Ulster avenue, Saugerties.

THE SAUGERTIES Police Department reported at the time of the arrest of the seven youths, described as members of a "gang" or "club" known as "The Black Cats," that one of the seven carried a "homemade" or improvised "brass knuckle."

Through his attorney, Ernest E. Schirmer of Saugerties, young Ricketson also pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct and received a 30-day suspended sentence.

Also in the Ulster County Jail today was Anson E. Spenser Jr., of Saugerties, whose bail was fixed at $500.

SPENSER AND the remaining five youths, all charged with disorderly conduct, will appear before Justic Lamb for hearings on Friday of this week or Monday of next week.

Appearing at 7 p. m. Friday will be Richard Fisher, 16, of

Police, CAA Probing Crash

Storm May Have Forced Plane Down

The gruesome task of removing the dismembered bodies of a Schenectady doctor, his wife and two other passengers from the wreckage of his plane on Mount Airy near Quarryville was completed about 7 p. m. Monday under the direction of state police and Coroner Michael A. Galietta.

The dead, as identified after checking papers found in the plane and talking with relatives, were:

Dr. Howard D. Lester, about 52, of 905 State street, Schenectady, owner and pilot of the four-place Cessna aircraft.

Mrs. Louise Lester, his wife, about 45.

Mrs. Margaret K. Glendmyer, about 45, of 1½ Swan street, Schenectady.

Maurice L. Goff, 55, of 1607 Santa Fe street, Schenectady, a foreman employed by the New York Power and Light Company at Albany.

THE FOUR left Reading, Pa., at 2:45 p. m. Saturday after attending an aviation equipment exhibit and were due to arrive in Schenectady at 5:25 p. m.

Investigations are being conducted by state police and CAA officials.

Authorities appeared of the opinion that the plane probably crashed sometime Saturday night during a violent thunderstorm.

The plane struck the mountain from the northwesterly direction, cutting a swath through small trees and scattering parts along a straight line about 100 yards long. The direction from which the craft hit the ground indicated that the plane went

Labor Committee Approves Bill on $1 Minimum Wage

Washington, June 7 (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee today overwhelmingly approved a bill to raise the 75-cent hourly minimum wage to $1.

More than two million workers would get automatic wage increases if the bill becomes law, it was estimated.

The committee headed by Sen. Hill (D-Ala.) rejected a motion by Sen. Ives (R-N. Y.) to raise the nation-wide wage floor to $1.25. A second motion by Sen. Allott (R-Colo.) to peg it at 90 cents an hour, the figure recommended by President Eisenhower, also was defeated.

THE $1 FIGURE was proposed by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), subcommittee chairman, last week.

Hill said Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas hoped to bring the measure to the Senate tomorrow for almost certain passage.

The Allott motion for 90 cents was beaten 11-2. Allott and Sen. H. Alexander Smith (D.-N. J.) voted "yes."

The Ives motion went down 8-5. Ives and Sens. Murray (D.-Mont.), Neely (D.-W. Va.), McNamara (D. Mich.) and Lehman (D.-N. Y.) voted for this $1.25 minimum, recommended by major labor unions.

LEHMAN OFFERED another plan—raise the minimum to $1.25 and extend coverage to new groups of workers. That lost on a voice vote.

The bill makes no change in the present coverage provisions

Rail Strike Formula Is Accepted

Opens Way to End Britain Walkout

London, June 7 (AP)—Striking locomotive engineers and firemen today accepted a peace formula aimed at settling Britain's 10-day-old railway walkout.

The acceptance by the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen (ASLEF) opened the way to possible direct negotiations with the British Transport Commission, which runs the nationalized railway system.

LEADERS. of the powerful Trades Union Congress (TUC), meantime, were conferring with Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton in an effort to get governmental approval for the final peace talks even while the strike is still on.

Prime Minister Eden's government and the transport commission have insisted up until now that the 67,000 strikers must return to work before talks to break the deadlock over wage differentials could begin.

The rail walkout, slowly trottling Britain's booming industrial machine, was discussed at a two-hour meeting of Eden's cabinet and at a meeting of TUC and ASLEF chiefs with representatives of a nonstriking railway union.

JIM BATY, general secretary of ASLEF, told newsmen after a meeting of his union's executive:

"After due thought and consideration of the principles embodied in the recommendations of the general council, my executive committee have directed me to notify the TUC of their acceptance of the provisions of the formula."

Zoning Agenda Set Wednesday

The following applications and petitions will be considered at the meeting of the Zoning Board to be held Wednesday in the city court room of the city hall at 8 p. m.

A petition from residents of Court avenue complaining that a residence property owned by Harold Reis was being used for business purposes.

Application by Robert Spaulding of Hartsdale to re-zone property at 424-430 Foxhall avenue to permit him to raze the gasoline station and erect a retail store. Now in the residential zone, the gasoline station has been operated under existing non-conforming use.

Applications to build closer to the street than law allows from Mrs. Heybruck, 619-621 Delaware avenue; John W. Krueger, corner of Court and Merritt avenues; and Charles Kelse of 10 Reynolds street.

Big Four Is Not Cure-All: Ike

Struggle for Peace May Last Generation

West Point, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower cautioned today against any "fatuous expectations" that the proposed Big Four conference will miraculously cure "a world sick with ignorance, mutual fears and hate."

The struggle to win an enduring peace "may last a generation," the President said in the commencement address at his Alma Mater, the U. S. Military Academy.

THE PROJECTED "at the summit" conference will be only the beginning of a new effort, Eisenhower told an overflow audience in the flag-draped 10,000-seat West Point Fieldhouse.

He called for a "stern determination . . . not to be reckless and witless, relaxing our posture merely because a persistent foe may assume a smiling face and a soft voice."

Directly in front of the President were seated the 469 members of the graduating class and the rest of the cadet corps. To either side were the families, sweethearts and friends of the graduates.

THE MILITARILY trained seniors listened quietly as the President told them their "enduring contribution to America may well be at a council table far removed from wars."

The President was not interrupted by applause once during his 20-minute talk by the solemn audience. But he got a standing ovation when he concluded.

Immediately after the address Eisenhower awarded diplomas to the 469 graduates. He shook hands with each of them.

Fire Topics for Convention

Heater Fires, Future Of Service Considered

Addresses by Chief Henry Thomas of the Hartford, Conn., Fire Department, and by Paul R. Lyons of Boston, associate editor of Fireman, official publication of the National Fire Protection Association, will feature the topics and essays program at the 66th annual convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association which opens in Kingston on Thursday June 16.

Chief Thomas will speak on the topic, "The Fire Service Looks Ahead," while Mr. Lyons will take for his subject, "Loss of Life Due to Fire in Oil Stoves and Space Heaters."

THE OPENING session of the three-day convention at 10 a. m. on June 16, in the Elks Club, will be featured with addresses of welcome by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy of the Kingston Fire Department, by Mayor Frederick H. Stang of the convention city, and by State Senator Arthur H. Wicks. James Locke, chairman of the Kingston convention committee, will call the convention to order and afterwards he will turn the gavel over to Anthony Delisio of Haverstraw, president of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, who will preside at the business meetings.

Outstanding features of the convention will include a memorial service for deceased members; the annual address of the association president; election of officers; designation of the 1956 convention site; entertainment of members and delegates by the Kingston Conven-

Move Seen To Stall Shutdown

Firm, UAW Are Keeping Silent

Detroit, June 7 (AP)—General Motors Corp., according to reports circulating through its big Detroit office building, today put a new contract offer before the CIO United Auto Workers in a move to head off a possible midnight strike.

None would say, however, where the rumored offer paralleled provisions of a new contract won from Ford Motor Co. yesterday, or whether it embodied Ford's version of a guaranteed wage plan.

NEITHER John W. Livingston, UAW vice president and chief of its GM department, nor Louis G. Seaton, GM director of labor relations, would confirm nor deny the new offer reports.

But the GM-UAW bargaining ran an hour past its scheduled breakup time and delayed for half an hour a meeting of the union's General Motors Council.

There was an unusual bustle of activity around bargaining rooms in the GM building, and Livingston announced he would hold a news conference immediately after the council session adjourns.

The council has power to order a midnight walkout with ending of the five-year GM-UAW contract, or to extend the strike deadline.

Livingston said he wanted a GM settlement better than the union won at Ford.

"I DON'T see any reason why we can't do better than they did at Ford, Livingston said. "General Motors certainly can afford it."

Reuther, parodying the Ford promotional slogan "There is a Ford in your future," said "There's a Ford in GM's future."

The question was whether GM would go along with the controversial wage plan, even in the modified version negotiated at Ford or would stand firm and buck the plan opposed by so many American businessmen.

For GM to fight would mean facing an almost certain strike and a major setback in its fiercely competitive fight with Ford for leadership in the auto sales market.

A STRIKE among GM's 325,000 workers also would be a test of the UAW's solidarity. The union's biggest previous strike was the 1945-46 GM walkout involving 175,000 workers.

Meanwhile, debate broke out

Hot, Sticky Weather Forecast for State

Albany, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—The state will stew in unseasonably hot and sticky weather at least until Thursday, the weather bureau says.

Temperatures were expected to hit the high 80s and 90s across the state today for the second day in a row. Thundershowers starting in the western New York sections and slowly working easterly may bring spot relief.

Continued hot and humid weather was predicted for tomorrow with some break in the heat Thursday.

The mercury soared 10 to 15 degrees above seasonal normals yesterday and shattered records for the date in at least two cities.

It was 90 in Buffalo. The hottest June 6 since 1900 when the mercury touched 89. Utica's 96 broke a record set in 1935.

Doctor Shortage 'Alarming'

Nation Faces Problem, Health Conference Told

Lake Placid, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today called the shortage of medical personnel "alarming."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the 51st annual New York State Health Conference, the governor said, "the shortage of doctors is a national problem—a national emergency, if you will—and I am disappointed that federal action has not been forthcoming long ago."

Harriman noted that the state budget called for adding 200 persons to the state medical schools in New York city and Syracuse.

"The shortage of medical personnel is an alarming one," he asserted. "Physicians have not been added as fast as the population has grown, whether we compare the present with a decade or a century ago, and we must serve an estimated 35 million more people in the nation in the next 15 years."

The four-day conference continues through Thursday.

Harriman reported that the occupancy of mental hospitals in New York state was rising at the rate of 3,000 a year. "But as in the case of other diseases there have been promising advances," he said. "And more important advances may lie not far ahead."

The governor said seven counties and New York city were organized under a program of community preventive services in mental health. The state is spending four million dollars this year to provide matching funds, he added.

"This is one expenditure I want to see increased," he declared.

Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner, told the conference that the death rate for heart disease, diabetes and tuberculosis was down last year in New York state. Cancer deaths increased.

Infant and maternal mortality declined to new low records. The number of syphilis cases fell to a record low. Hilleboe also reported:

1. Births in New York state climbed to an all-time high of

Dulles Sees More Freedom For Satellites of Moscow

Washington, June 7 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Russia may now be willing to loosen the reins somewhat on its eastern European sattelites.

In a discussion of Big Four meeting prospects and decreasing world tensions, Dulles also told a news conference that shooting has stopped in the Formosa area and the situation there is less dangerous and hazardous than it was three months ago.

He spoke of the situation as one in which a cease-fire exists in effect without formal agreement.

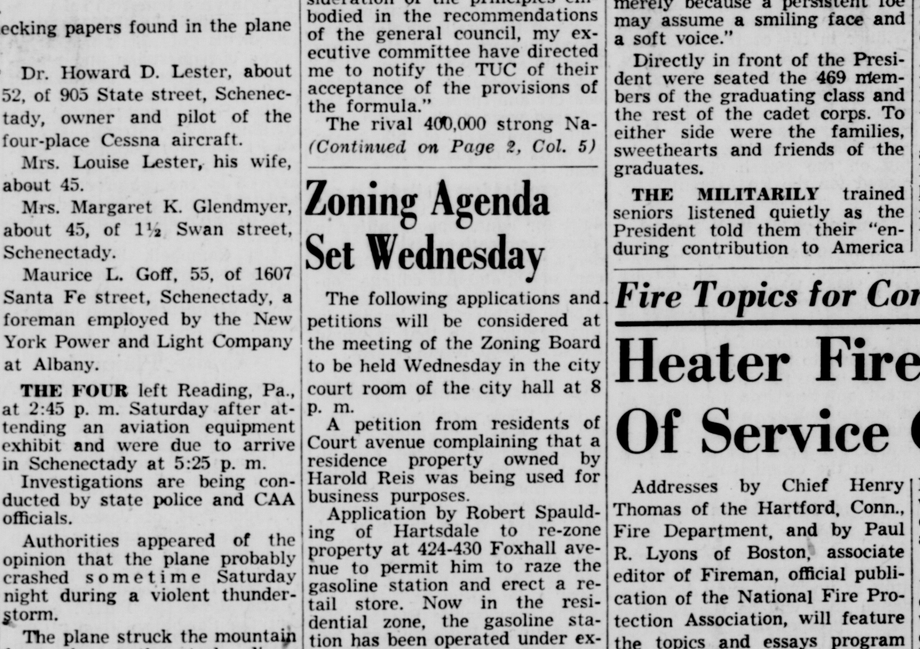

Dulles linked his hopes of greater freedom for eastern European Communist nations with the last week's visit to Yugoslavia by top Soviet leaders who accepted Yugoslavia's independent status.

That Communist state broke with Russia in 1948.

Dulles said it seems to him that the attitude of the Soviet Union expressed in this action and in the recent signing of an Austrian treaty after eight years delay may indicate a changing Soviet attitude toward all of Eastern Europe.

Dulles said that in pressing the Soviets to loosen their hold on the eastern European states,

In proclaiming the week Mayor Stang pointed out that the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL) was sponsoring the eighth annual nationwide observance June 6-11. The mayor explained that local unions of public employes in the Kingston area were celebrating the week by bringing to the attention of the general public the value of services and activities supplied by the state and local governments. He called the week a "developing our citizens' interest in better government and more efficient public service." He said he "heartily endorsed" the objectives and purposes of the Public Servants Week and "commend them to all citizens in the city of Kingston." (Freeman photo)

Variety of Animals Coming To New Forsyth Park Zoo

A plan for expansion of the Forsyth Park zoo by means of loans of animals from the Catskill Game Farm was announced today by Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

Loan of the animals, which will be changed in variety from time to time, will be at no additional cost to the city.

The mayor said acquisition of the animals, delivery of which is expected within two or three weeks, would provide the city with one of the finest zoos in this part of the country.

The first lot of animals will consist of two pair of deer (not local types), a pair of Persian Karakul sheep, a pair of African Aoudad sheep, a pair of Peruvian llama, a pair of American bison, a pair of Australian kangaroos and two or three African ostriches.

The arrangement for loans of animals from the game farm was made through Roland Linderman, owner of the farm. It was pointed out by the mayor that contact with Mr. Linderman had come through Robert Boice of Catskill.

New compartments for the animals and birds are practically completed. There will be six large compartments from 15 by 25 feet to 25 by 40 feet in size, four small ones about eight by 15 feet, one about 12 by 20 feet and several smaller cages.

Rail Strike Formula Is Accepted

Hot, Sticky Weather Forecast for State

Albany, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—The state will stew in unseasonably hot and sticky weather at least until Thursday, the weather bureau says.

Temperatures were expected to hit the high 80s and 90s across the state today for the second day in a row. Thundershowers starting in the western New York sections and slowly working easterly may bring spot relief.

Continued hot and humid weather was predicted for tomorrow with some break in the heat Thursday.

The mercury soared 10 to 15 degrees above seasonal normals yesterday and shattered records for the date in at least two cities.

It was 90 in Buffalo. The hottest June 6 since 1900 when the mercury touched 89. Utica's 96 broke a record set in 1935.

Doctor Shortage 'Alarming'

Nation Faces Problem, Health Conference Told

Lake Placid, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today called the shortage of medical personnel "alarming."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the 51st annual New York State Health Conference, the governor said, "the shortage of doctors is a national problem—a national emergency, if you will—and I am disappointed that federal action has not been forthcoming long ago."

Harriman noted that the state budget called for adding 200 persons to the state medical schools in New York city and Syracuse.

"The shortage of medical personnel is an alarming one," he asserted. "Physicians have not been added as fast as the population has grown, whether we compare the present with a decade or a century ago, and we must serve an estimated 35 million more people in the nation in the next 15 years."

The four-day conference continues through Thursday.

Harriman reported that the occupancy of mental hospitals in New York state was rising at the rate of 3,000 a year. "But as in the case of other diseases there have been promising advances," he said. "And more important advances may lie not far ahead."

The governor said seven counties and New York city were organized under a program of community preventive services in mental health. The state is spending four million dollars this year to provide matching funds, he added.

"This is one expenditure I want to see increased," he declared.

Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner, told the conference that the death rate for heart disease, diabetes and tuberculosis was down last year in New York state. Cancer deaths increased.

Infant and maternal mortality declined to new low records. The number of syphilis cases fell to a record low. Hilleboe also reported:

1. Births in New York state climbed to an all-time high of

Dulles Sees More Freedom For Satellites of Moscow

Washington, June 7 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Russia may now be willing to loosen the reins somewhat on its eastern European sattelites.

In a discussion of Big Four meeting prospects and decreasing world tensions, Dulles also told a news conference that shooting has stopped in the Formosa area and the situation there is less dangerous and hazardous than it was three months ago.

He spoke of the situation as one in which a cease-fire exists in effect without formal agreement.

Dulles linked his hopes of greater freedom for eastern European Communist nations with the last week's visit to Yugoslavia by top Soviet leaders who accepted Yugoslavia's independent status.

That Communist state broke with Russia in 1948.

Dulles said it seems to him that the attitude of the Soviet Union expressed in this action and in the recent signing of an Austrian treaty after eight years delay may indicate a changing Soviet attitude toward all of Eastern Europe.

Dulles said that in pressing the Soviets to loosen their hold on the eastern European states,

PUBLIC SERVANTS WEEK is proclaimed by Mayor Frederick H. Stang as officials of Local 316, Municipal Employes Association, look on. Standing (l to r) Walter Snyder, Robert Brazee, president; Lawrence Hyatt, treasurer, and Joseph Fabiano, vice-president. In proclaiming the week Mayor Stang pointed out that the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL) was sponsoring the eighth annual nationwide observance June 6-11. The mayor explained that local unions of public employes in the Kingston area were celebrating the week by bringing to the attention of the general public the value of services and activities supplied by the state and local governments. He called the week a "developing our citizens' interest in better government and more efficient public service." He said he "heartily endorsed" the objectives and purposes of the Public Servants Week and "commend them to all citizens in the city of Kingston." (Freeman photo)

Variety of Animals Coming To New Forsyth Park Zoo

A plan for expansion of the Forsyth Park zoo by means of loans of animals from the Catskill Game Farm was announced today by Mayor Frederick H. Stang.

Loan of the animals, which will be changed in variety from time to time, will be at no additional cost to the city.

The mayor said acquisition of the animals, delivery of which is expected within two or three weeks, would provide the city with one of the finest zoos in this part of the country.

The first lot of animals will consist of two pair of deer (not local types), a pair of Persian Karakul sheep, a pair of African Aoudad sheep, a pair of Peruvian llama, a pair of American bison, a pair of Australian kangaroos and two or three African ostriches.

The arrangement for loans of animals from the game farm was made through Roland Linderman, owner of the farm. It was pointed out by the mayor that contact with Mr. Linderman had come through Robert Boice of Catskill.

New compartments for the animals and birds are practically completed. There will be six large compartments from 15 by 25 feet to 25 by 40 feet in size, four small ones about eight by 15 feet, one about 12 by 20 feet and several smaller cages.

Body Is Recovered

Skaneateles, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—The body of Clarence L. Forsythe of Fairmount, a suburb of Syracuse, was recovered last night from Skaneateles Lake after a fisherman found it floating in the water. Forsythe and Clifford S. Ackley of Syracuse disappeared on the lake where they were fishing on April 13 and both had been presumed drowned. Ackley's body has not been recovered.

Assault Charge Dismissed Today

A charge of second degree assault against Adelaide Komasa, 49, of 47 Murray street, was dismissed in city court this morning on a technicality when testimony developed that she had been charged with the wrong violation.

The defendant was arrested late Monday night, May 30, by Officers George Dohnken and William Snyder who charged that in an attempt to "settle a complaint" they had been "assaulted by the complainant."

FOR A VALID charge of second degree assault under the circumstances it would have been necessary for the defendant to have been under arrest at the time of such assault. Since she was not under arrest at the time of assault City Judge Raymond J. Mino was compelled to dismiss the charge. Attorney William Brinnier appeared for the defendant.

Ronald J. Walton, 23, of 610 Delaware avenue, who was arrested by Officer Everett J. Emmick at 2:16 a. m. today in front of 30 East Strand charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5 by Judge Mino.

53 Hour Guess Correct

The 300 pound cake of ice displayed by the local Montgomery Ward store as a promotion last week melted in 53 hours, 23 minutes, it was announced today. Winner in the contest was Mrs. H. Boyce of 582 Broadway, whose guess was 53 hours. A blanket was frozen in the ice cake to climax the store's annual May blanket sale. More than 3,000 guesses were submitted on the length of time required for the ice to melt.

Schemes Are Warned

Washington, June 7 (AP)—Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes said today local associations of car dealers "may be engaged in conspiracies to fix or pack prices for new automobiles." If they "continue to agree among themselves upon price, or any element entering into the price of new automobiles, we shall prosecute ," he said. He added "prosecutions of price fixing schemes are on the criminal side."

Reports Jobless Drop

Washington, June 7 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks announced today a "substantial" drop in unemployment and predicted 1955 will be the nation's most prosperous year—given "industrial peace in our key industries." He told reporters that new employment and unemployment totals show improvement greater than normal for the season.

Late Bulletin

CONTRACT EXTENDED

Detroit, June 7 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers Union moved today to extend its General Motors contract from midnight tonight to midnight Sunday.

Union sources said a resolution to extend the deadline had been prepared for submission to the union's 300-member General Motors council meeting in Detroit today.

Approval was anticipated. Such is usual on moves originating at the top of the UAW hierarchy.

Oklahoma Orders Integration in 18 State Colleges

Oklahoma City, June 7 (AP)—The Oklahoma Board of Regents for higher education has ordered the integration of white and Negro students at all state-supported colleges.

The historic order, affecting 18 colleges, is to go into practice with the start of the fall term in September. The vote by the board yesterday was 8-1.

THE ACTION is in line with the recent U. S. Supreme Court ruling that public schools should complete integration "as soon as feasible."

It also brings to a climax an integration process started six years ago when the high court ordered graduate Negro students admitted to Oklahoma colleges.

Since then enrollment of Negroes in the graduate fields has become common and there has been no adverse reaction.

Under the motion, governing boards and presidents of the colleges were authorized to accept enrollment of all Negro students who qualify for admission.

Negro leaders hailed the action as the final victory in their fight for equal opportunities in higher education. Negro students comprise less than 10 per cent of Oklahoma's college population, so integration is not expected to have the impact in this border state that it would have in deep South states.

No Interpreters Needed

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific Fleet Training Command scurried around for interpreters when told the Pakistan Minesweeper Muhafiz was coming for training in American Navy ways. When the ship arrived, its skipper, Lt. Cmdr. Mak Lodi said: "We look forward to visiting this community. We've heard a lot about it." He and all the crew speak English. He said it was a Pakistan navy requirement.

Move Seen . . .

over the terms of the Ford settlement, embodying for the first time in a negotiated labor contract between a major industrial firm and union the principle of the guaranteed wage.

Reuther and the Ford Company hailed it as an historic new plan to safeguard worker income during a worker's involuntary unemployment. But President Henry G. Riter III of the National Association of Manufacturers said:

"IF INDUSTRY gives in to labor's demands for a guaranteed annual wage, even in principle, it could have seriously damaging effects on the American economy, perhaps leading to a socialistic state and controlled economy."

People were questioning whether the Ford plan establishes a dangerous precedent for business to finance malingering of employes when idled or sets up a carefully limited system for worker security that cannot upset the free enterprise system.

Ford agreed to pay five cents a work hour per employe during the next three years toward a 55 million dollar fund to pay out unemployment benefits to workers of up to $25 a week, supplementing their state unemployment compensation payments.

Faced with a strike and an unsought role of leadership in auto industry bargaining, Ford decided it must accept the guaranteed wage idea or take a costly strike in a period of booming car sales.

Despite the new agreement, more than 15,000 Ford production workers failed to report at four plants today. Three of them were picketed and closed.

Sporadic stoppages from Massachusetts to California developed yesterday, idling 114,000 of Ford's 140,000 production workers as the new contract was hammered out. Most returned to assembly lines today.

Five thousand of those refusing to report today were tool and die makers at Ford's vast River Rouge plant in suburban Detroit. The remainder of the Rouge's 30,000 day shift workers reported, but Ford said the plant would have to be closed in "a few days" if tool and die makers did not return. Tool and die makers said they were dissatisfied with an 8-cent hourly raise they got in the new contract and would hold out for the 30 cents they originally demanded.

At the three closed plants—in Buffalo, St. Louis and Monroe, Mich.—local grievances or agreements outside the national contract were blamed for stoppages.

Rail Strike . . .

tional Union of Railwaymen, which opposes the strike, still has to make its views known on the five-point peace plan.

THE PEACE PROPOSALS were hammered out last night by the general council of the TUC in an attempt to solve the wage dispute which brought four-fifths of Britain's train crews out on strike and reconcile the claims of the striking and non-striking unions.

Jim Baty, secretary of the striking, 67,000-strong Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen (ASLEF), arrived at the conference early and told reporters "we are anxious to reach an amicable settlement."

Jim Campbell, boss of the National Union of Railwaymen (NUR) which opposes the strike, declined to make a statement.

Cruise Planned

Everett (AP)—A couple of British Columbia men with a small boat and a large case of wanderlust are getting ready to start a round-the-world cruise which "might take three years—we're not in a hurry." Barney G. Stoney, 44, of Vancouver, is the skipper. His crew is Brian C. Laurence, a former British army dispatch rider. They have a 33-foot fishing boat. They plan to loaf down the Pacific coast, visit the Caribbean, then return through the Panama Canal and head west.

About 59 per cent of the American people have some type of medical and hospital insurance.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 7 (AP)—Booming demand for steels and nonferrous metals today sent the stock market ahead strongly.

It was the second straight rise to record high levels for the market with today's trading pace at a scorching three-million share rate. Yesterday's total was 2,560,000 shares.

Gains ran to 1 to around 3 points frequently in favored areas of the list. Losses seldom were more than a point.

Yesterday's move into new high ground came after the United Auto Workers and Ford arrived at agreement on a contract.

STEELS TOOK the lead at an early stage. They soon were joined by the aluminum issues and by companies with large alumimnum interests.

Motors were heavily traded at times at higher prices, but as a group they acted indifferently. Some of the smaller motors were backward.

Quick Approval Is Seen for Raise

Washington, June 7 (AP)—The House ticketed for quick approval today a bill to raise the pay of the nation's 500,000 mailmen an average of 8 per cent each.

This would add an estimated 164 million dollars yearly to the postal payroll. Present wage scales were fixed in 1951.

President Eisenhower vetoed a previous 8.6 per cent pay hike and the veto was sustained in the Senate. Eisenhower said that raise was too large and that the bill failed to correct existing inequities in pay scales.

This time, however, an 8 per cent raise is reported to be acceptable to the president. House leaders scheduled it for speedy disposal under suspension of the usual rules of procedure. Thus, a two-thirds margin is required for passage.

Salk Is Honored

Atlantic City, N. J., June 7 (AP)—Dr. Jonas Salk, described as a "humble scientist," was given a $10,000 check and gold medal by an insurance company today for his development of a polio vaccine and was advised: "For the love of Pete, put it on the mortgage!" The suggestion that Salk should keep the money for himself, instead of turning it over to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis as he has with other contributions, came from Dr. Elmer Hess of Erie, Pa., president-elect of the American Medical Assn.

Public Schools Cost

Government estimates indicate it costs from $13,000 to $55,000 per classroom to build new public schools, depending on location.

Labor Committee

of the Fair Labor Standards law. But Douglas told a news conference that he would hold hearings on that question "at an appropriate time."

In the House, the labor committee is holding hearings on the minimum wage and is believed likely to approve a boost to $1.

SEN. McNAMARA (D.-Mich.), a committeeman, said in advance of today's closed session (10 a. m. EDT) he probably would not renew his effort to boost the wage to $1.25, the target of major labor unions.

McNamara last week lost his bid to do that when a subcommittee headed by Sen. Douglas (D.-Ill.) voted an increase to $1. Douglas himself proposed $1 figure and only Sen H. Alexander Smith (R.-N. J.) voted against it, while reserving a right to support it on the Senate floor.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE bill does not seek any change in the present coverage provisions of the Fair Labor Standards act. Further consideration of controversy over extended coverage was postponed until late this year or early next.

McNamara predicted "rapid approval" of the 25-cent increase by the Senate.

Some 23 million workers in interstate commerce are now covered by the minimum wage. All but 2,100,000 of them already make $1 an hour or more. Thus an increase to $1, the first boost since 1950, would mean automatic wage boosts next Jan 1, when the new figure would become effective, for slightly more than two million workers, many of them in southern states.

Youth Gets . . .

100 Dock street, Saugerties, Maurice Hinchey, 16, of Route 3 Box 61, Saugerties, and Alfred Brooks, 16, Saugerties. Brooks is not represented by counsel. Fisher and Hinchey are represented by Mr. Schirmer.

Fisher and Hinchey were paroled in custody of Attorney Schirmer.

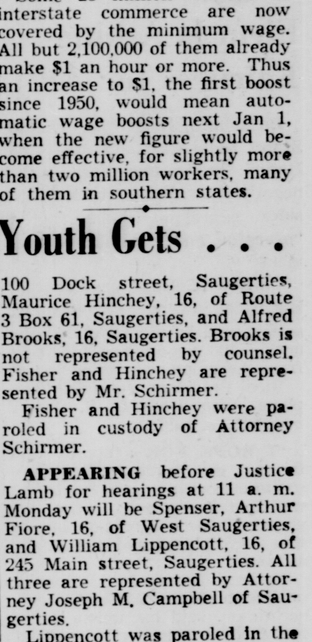

APPEARING before Justice Lamb for hearings at 11 a. m. Monday will be Spenser, Arthur Fiore, 16, of West Saugerties, and William Lippencott, 16, of 245 Main street, Saugerties. All three are represented by Attorney Joseph M. Campbell of Saugerties.

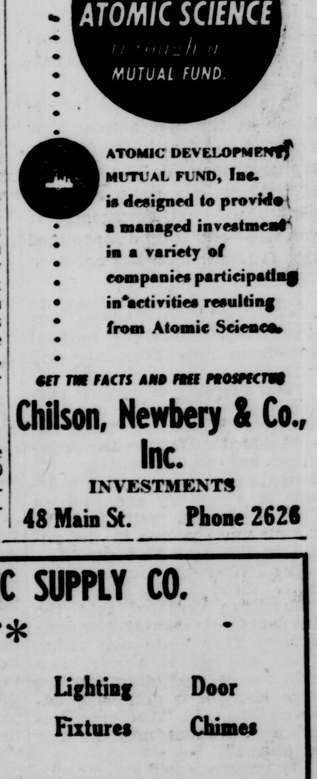

Lippencott was paroled in the custody of his mother and brother and Fiore in custody of his mother.

The seven youths were arrested when they failed to disperse after Officer Donald Sullivan had ordered them to move on after a small fight started among them on Main street.

Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Assault Charge Dismissed Today

A charge of second degree assault against Adelaide Komasa, 49, of 47 Murray street, was dismissed in city court this morning on a technicality when testimony developed that she had been charged with the wrong violation.

The defendant was arrested late Monday night, May 30, by Officers George Dohnken and William Snyder who charged that in an attempt to "settle a complaint" they had been "assaulted by the complainant."

FOR A VALID charge of second degree assault under the circumstances it would have been necessary for the defendant to have been under arrest at the time of such assault. Since she was not under arrest at the time of assault City Judge Raymond J. Mino was compelled to dismiss the charge. Attorney William Brinnier appeared for the defendant.

Ronald J. Walton, 23, of 610 Delaware avenue, who was arrested by Officer Everett J. Emmick at 2:16 a. m. today in front of 30 East Strand charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5 by Judge Mino.

53 Hour Guess Correct

The 300 pound cake of ice displayed by the local Montgomery Ward store as a promotion last week melted in 53 hours, 23 minutes, it was announced today. Winner in the contest was Mrs. H. Boyce of 582 Broadway, whose guess was 53 hours. A blanket was frozen in the ice cake to climax the store's annual May blanket sale. More than 3,000 guesses were submitted on the length of time required for the ice to melt.

Schemes Are Warned

Washington, June 7 (AP)—Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes said today local associations of car dealers "may be engaged in conspiracies to fix or pack prices for new automobiles." If they "continue to agree among themselves upon price, or any element entering into the price of new automobiles, we shall prosecute," he said. He added "prosecutions of price fixing schemes are on the criminal side."

Reports Jobless Drop

Washington, June 7 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks announced today a "substantial" drop in unemployment and predicted 1955 will be the nation's most prosperous year—given "industrial peace in our key industries." He told reporters that new employment and unemployment totals show improvement greater than normal for the season.

Late Bulletin

CONTRACT EXTENDED

Detroit, June 7 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers Union moved today to extend its General Motors contract from midnight tonight to midnight Sunday.

Union sources said a resolution to extend the deadline had been prepared for submission to the union's 300-member General Motors council meeting in Detroit today.

Approval was anticipated. Such is usual on moves originating at the top of the UAW hierarchy.

Oklahoma Orders Integration in 18 State Colleges

Oklahoma City, June 7 (AP)—The Oklahoma Board of Regents for higher education has ordered the integration of white and Negro students at all state-supported colleges.

The historic order, affecting 18 colleges, is to go into practice with the start of the fall term in September. The vote by the board yesterday was 8-1.

THE ACTION is in line with the recent U. S. Supreme Court ruling that public schools should complete integration "as soon as feasible."

It also brings to a climax an integration process started six years ago when the high court ordered graduate Negro students admitted to Oklahoma colleges.

Since then enrollment of Negroes in the graduate fields has become common and there has been no adverse reaction.

Under the motion, governing boards and presidents of the colleges were authorized to accept enrollment of all Negro students who qualify for admission.

Negro leaders hailed the action as the final victory in their fight for equal opportunities in higher education. Negro students comprise less than 10 per cent of Oklahoma's college population, so integration is not expected to have the impact in this border state that it would have in deep South states.

No Interpreters Needed

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific Fleet Training Command scurried around for interpreters when told the Pakistan Minesweeper Muhafiz was coming for training in American Navy ways. When the ship arrived, its skipper, Lt. Cmdr. Mak Lodi said: "We look forward to visiting this community. We've heard a lot about it." He and all the crew speak English. He said it was a Pakistan navy requirement.

One pound of sulphur is required to make enough sulphite pulp for the manufacture of one pound of rayon.

Move Seen . . .

over the terms of the Ford settlement, embodying for the first time in a negotiated labor contract between a major industrial firm and union the principle of the guaranteed wage.

Reuther and the Ford Company hailed it as an historic new plan to safeguard worker income during a worker's involuntary unemployment. But President Henry G. Riter III of the National Association of Manufacturers said:

"IF INDUSTRY gives in to labor's demands for a guaranteed annual wage, even in principle, it could have seriously damaging effects on the American economy, perhaps leading to a socialistic state and controlled economy."

People were questioning whether the Ford plan establishes a dangerous precedent for business to finance malingering of employes when idled or sets up a carefully limited system for worker security that cannot upset the free enterprise system.

Ford agreed to pay five cents a work hour per employe during the next three years toward a 55 million dollar fund to pay out unemployment benefits to workers of up to $25 a week, supplementing their state unemployment compensation payments.

Faced with a strike and an unsought role of leadership in auto industry bargaining, Ford decided it must accept the guaranteed wage idea or take a costly strike in a period of booming car sales.

Despite the new agreement, more than 15,000 Ford production workers failed to report at four plants today. Three of them were picketed and closed.

Sporadic stoppages from Massachusetts to California developed yesterday, idling 114,000 of Ford's 140,000 production workers as the new contract was hammered out. Most returned to assembly lines today.

Five thousand of those refusing to report today were tool and die makers at Ford's vast River Rouge plant in suburban Detroit. The remainder of the Rouge's 30,000 day shift workers reported, but Ford said the plant would have to be closed in "a few days" if tool and die makers did not return. Tool and die makers said they were dissatisfied with an 8-cent hourly raise they got in the new contract and would hold out for the 30 cents they originally demanded.

At the three closed plants—in Buffalo, St. Louis and Monroe, Mich.—local grievances or agreements outside the national contract were blamed for stoppages.

Rail Strike . . .

tional Union of Railwaymen, which opposes the strike, still has to make its views known on the five-point peace plan.

THE PEACE PROPOSALS were hammered out last night by the general council of the TUC in an attempt to solve the wage dispute which brought four-fifths of Britain's train crews out on strike and reconcile the claims of the striking and non-striking unions.

Jim Baty, secretary of the striking, 67,000-strong Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen (ASLEF), arrived at the conference early and told reporters "we are anxious to reach an amicable settlement."

Jim Campbell, boss of the National Union of Railwaymen (NUR) which opposes the strike, declined to make a statement.

Cruise Planned

Everett (AP)—A couple of British Columbia men with a small boat and a large case of wanderlust are getting ready to start a round-the-world cruise which "might take three years—we're not in a hurry." Barney G. Stoney, 44, of Vancouver, is the skipper. His crew is Brian C. Laurence, a former British army dispatch rider. They have a 33-foot fishing boat. They plan to loaf down the Pacific coast, visit the Caribbean, then return through the Panama Canal and head west.

About 59 per cent of the American people have some type of medical and hospital insurance.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 7 (AP)—Booming demand for steels and nonferrous metals today sent the stock market ahead strongly.

It was the second straight rise to record high levels for the market with today's trading pace at a scorching three-million share rate. Yesterday's total was 2,560,000 shares.

Gains ran to 1 to around 3 points frequently in favored areas of the list. Losses seldom were more than a point.

Yesterday's move into new high ground came after the United Auto Workers and Ford arrived at agreement on a contract.

STEELS TOOK the lead at an early stage. They soon were joined by the aluminum issues and by companies with large alumimnum interests.

Motors were heavily traded at times at higher prices, but as a group they acted indifferently. Some of the smaller motors were backward.

Usual age for marriage in Great Britain is 19-25 for women, 21-30 for men.

Quick Approval Is Seen for Raise

Washington, June 7 (AP)—The House ticketed for quick approval today a bill to raise the pay of the nation's 500,000 mailmen an average of 8 per cent each.

This would add an estimated 164 million dollars yearly to the postal payroll. Present wage scales were fixed in 1951.

President Eisenhower vetoed a previous 8.6 per cent pay hike and the veto was sustained in the Senate. Eisenhower said that raise was too large and that the bill failed to correct existing inequities in pay scales.

This time, however, an 8 per cent raise is reported to be acceptable to the president. House leaders scheduled it for speedy disposal under suspension of the usual rules of procedure. Thus, a two-thirds margin is required for passage.

Salk Is Honored

Atlantic City, N. J., June 7 (AP)—Dr. Jonas Salk, described as a "humble scientist," was given a $10,000 check and gold medal by an insurance company today for his development of a polio vaccine and was advised: "For the love of Pete, put it on the mortgage!" The suggestion that Salk should keep the money for himself, instead of turning it over to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis as he has with other contributions, came from Dr. Elmer Hess of Erie, Pa., president-elect of the American Medical Assn.

Public Schools Cost

Government estimates indicate it costs from $13,000 to $55,000 per classroom to build new public schools, depending on location.

Labor Committee

of the Fair Labor Standards law. But Douglas told a news conference that he would hold hearings on that question "at an appropriate time."

In the House, the labor committee is holding hearings on the minimum wage and is believed likely to approve a boost to $1.

SEN. McNAMARA (D.-Mich.), a committeeman, said in advance of today's closed session (10 a. m. EDT) he probably would not renew his effort to boost the wage to $1.25, the target of major labor unions.

McNamara last week lost his bid to do that when a subcommittee headed by Sen. Douglas (D.-Ill.) voted an increase to $1. Douglas himself proposed $1 figure and only Sen H. Alexander Smith (R.-N. J.) voted against it, while reserving a right to support it on the Senate floor.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE bill does not seek any change in the present coverage provisions of the Fair Labor Standards act. Further consideration of controversy over extended coverage was postponed until late this year or early next.

McNamara predicted "rapid approval" of the 25-cent increase by the Senate.

Some 23 million workers in interstate commerce are now covered by the minimum wage. All but 2,100,000 of them already make $1 an hour or more. Thus an increase to $1, the first boost since 1950, would mean automatic wage boosts next Jan 1, when the new figure would become effective, for slightly more than two million workers, many of them in southern states.

Hal March Gets Real Lift From Coca Show Role

New York, June 7 (AP)—Whatever success the Imogene Coca show may have had otherwise, it has given a boost to the career of Hal March, who has been Imogene's partner in comedy the past few months.

The 35-year-old actor and writer begins tonight as emcee of the $64,000 Question on CBS-TV, and on June 25 starts another new show entitled The Soldiers on NBC-TV.

March has been around in radio and TV a long time with scores of guest roles and regular parts in such shows as My Friend Irma and Burns & Allen. But he concedes his role in the Saturday night Coca show has given his career a lift.

"A TREMENDOUS shot in the arm," is how the affable, wavy haired actor-writer describes it.

Miss Coca's new show, her first solo venture after the breakup of the Coca-Sid Caesar-Max Liebman team of Your Show of Shows, floundered rather badly when it started last fall. Then March was brought in as regular partner and foil as her TV husband, and the show has gained steadily in ratings.

March disclaims personal credit for the improvement, saying it was due to the change in format rather than his individual efforts. But he does credit the role for making him better known—at least for making people remember his name.

BECAUSE so much of his work was on a free lance basis on different programs, says March, many viewers who knew him well by sight did not remember his name.

March, a native of San Francisco, made his network radio debut in 1943 as half of the comedy team of Sweeney and March on CBS. He was a frequent guest of the Perry Como Supper Club show in 1947 and subsequently made appearances on the Jack Benny and Bob Hope radio shows. He was Harry Morton, next door neighbor of George Burns and Gracie Allen, for a couple of years on radio and continued the role for a time after the show moved to TV.

HE HAS BEEN a featured guest on comedy hour telecasts with partner Tom D'Andrea in a comic soldier skit.

His new NBC-TV show Saturday nights will be based on the same theme as the soldier skit.

He will become a cross-country commuter when the Coca show goes off for the summer June 25 and his new one, The Soldiers, starts the same day.

Thereafter, March will have to be in Hollywood every Saturday for The Soldiers and back in New York for the $64,000 Question every Tuesday. The final Coca show and the first telecast of The Soldiers are on the same night—Coca from New York and The Soldier from Hollywood. That will be solved by putting the first of The Soldiers series on film. After that it will be a live show.

NBC-TV's It's a Great Life goes on a rerun basis for the summer starting with tonight's telecast. . . . Next Sunday's NBC telecast of Mr. Peepers marks the season's finale and probably a permanent farewell for the junior high school teacher portrayed by Wally Cox. The summer replacement will be a do-it-yourself program, with an entirely new show due in the time spot next fall.

Austrian Party Leaders Differ Over Army Size

Vienna, Austria, June 6 (AP)—Austrian leaders are divided over how large and what sort of army their country will need when troops of the Big Four pull out this year.

Austria intends to declare its military neutrality as soon as its independence treaty, already signed by the United States, Britain, France and Russia, becomes effective.

TO PROTECT IT from aggression, should this nation have a large force of nonprofessional militiamen like Switzerland or an elite standing army of maybe 20,000 to 30,000?

The two government coalition parties are split on the matter. They hope for some compromise when the issue comes up in a month or so in the Austrian parliament.

The minority Socialist party reportedly favors calling up 150,000 to 180,000 men each year for training under a comparatively few professional officers.

The larger People's Party, headed by Chancellor Julius Raab, reportedly favors an elite of about 20,000 to 30,000 men, supplemented by a limited number of draftees each year. Neither party has a majority in Parliament.

BOTH PARTIES are agreed on two things: There should be universal military training, and an army is absolutely necessary.

Austria is strategically located at the historic Danube river crossroads of Europe. She needs protection against aggression from any of her six neighbors, three of them Communist.

The future defense force is the hottest problem facing the government coalition in the wake of Big Four agreement to give Austria its freedom. Chancellor Julius Raab has announced that he probably will ask the Big Four for permission to begin preparatory work on its formation even before the occupation troops leave.

Not a single youth group in the country of seven million people so far has raised objections publicly to going back into uniforms cast off when the Nazis were defeated in 1945.

RAAB'S PEOPLE'S party reportedly does not want an army much larger than 30,000 at the present time because of the financial burden. Austria has heavy payments to make to Russia as the price she has paid for her independence. The party also believes that a minimum of one year's training is necessary for draftees.

The Socialists reportedly favor a six-month training period for infantry and nine months for special troops.

Informed sources say the country probably will buy its weapons from either Switzerland or Sweden — to guard its neutrality in the east-west conflict.

TO INSPECT—Gen. Chung Il Kwon, Republic of Korea army chief of staff, will fly to the United States for an inspection of military installations. He is expected in the U.S. sometime in June.

U. S. Criticized

Tokyo, June 7 (AP)—Peiping radio said today Red China is doing something about dust storms but the United States isn't. Peiping said the government is vigorously pushing reforestation to combat dust storms through China. The radio added: "In the United States, where the dust storms have been expanding in size every year the people of the Great Plains are being told that the best hope they can have is that the dry cycle will end as in the 1930s."

Financier Dies

Chicago, June 7 (AP)—Harley L. Clarke, 73, former president of the 400 million dollar utilities power and light corporation, from which he resigned in 1936, and also once prominent in motion picture and real estate enterprises, died Friday, it was disclosed yesterday. The one-time utilities magnate had a spectacular career in finance and his utilities power and light held direct control of 50 subsidiary companies. The firm which he founded before World War I spread into more than 500 cities in the British Isles, four Canadian provinces and the United States.

Kingston Point Park

Editor, the Freeman:

As a resident of Kingston for thirty years, I am interested in what happens to our Kingston Point Park area. I noticed that it is up for sale for $25,000. I'm sure that there are many others besides myself who would like to see this area become a city park.

I suggest therefore that a committee be selected in order to raise the necessary funds to buy this land and then turn it over to the city for use as a Kingston public park.

With proper publicity and an effort at least as equal given to fund raising campaigns for other organizations, I think $25,000 could be collected in a short time. If every interested person gave a donation of a dollar, it would help and they would be investing in untold moments of relaxation and enjoyment.

Hoping to show Kingston Point to my friends as the most beautiful spot along the Hudson, I remain

FARM PRODUCTION BOOMS

Americans hear much about the way their remarkable economy goes on year after year producing more and more for less and less. Most of the time it sounds like a purely industrial story, but it isn't.

An important revolution has been taking place on our farms. Not much of it occurred before the 1930's, but in the last 20 years or more the forward strides have been tremendous.

In 1935 a U. S. farm worker turned out enough food and fiber to support 10 people. Today he produces sufficient to support 18. Farm output per man-hour in 1953 was 125 per cent above the 1935 level. That's the statistical measure of the American agricultural revolution.

All this time, Americans have been streaming away from the farms and into the cities and towns. In the last two decades the number of farm workers has declined one third.

Their place has been taken by machines, and these machines, along with better seeds, better planting techniques, greater use of fertilizer, soil conservation and other devices, have been responsible for the great boost in productivity.

In 1935 farmers had about a million tractors. By 1954 they had 4.4 million. In 1935 they had less than a million trucks. Now they have 2.6 million. The figures could be extended to many types of farm machines.

Reliance on fertilizer has mounted substantially. Consumption in 1935 was 1,153,000 tons, but today the annual tonnage is around 5,400,000.

The steady exodus of people from farm areas undoubtedly gave a strong push to the revolution. If output was to be maintained and increased, mechanization was absolutely essential.

MAN, THE MAGNIFICENT

Man is a pretty magnificent creature. He's learned how to make weather by plowing a few seeds in the clouds. He can fly through the air with a good deal more ease most of the time than he can crawl about the surface of the earth. He really is a Jim Dandy when it comes to running circles around poor old Mother Nature.

He has flowers figured out. By slapping a little glass around them and keeping the temperature cozy, he can make seasons and coax the buds to bloom. Birds are no twittering mystery. Incubators incubate better than hens and man has created a housing surplus among birds with his everlasting do-it-yourself projects.

Bees present no major problems. A Sunday supplement to a mid-western paper ran an article on what to do about bees. That Sunday afternoon a swarm measuring better than three feet long descended upon the back yard of a reader of the article. After phoning every bee expert listed in the feature and finding none of them at home, the reader simply settled down to watch the bees swarm in his maple tree.

Man is a magnificent creature all right. He's certainly running poor Mother Nature to a frazzle. Those bees were probably worried buzzless about the control Jim Dandy was exerting on them from behind his window.

When keeping a date, why not try to be a little early now and then? If everyone regarded himself as punctual if he was no later than everybody else, nothing ever would get started.

IMPROVED SCORE

When the world seems beset by an endless number of unsolved territorial problems, a glance at the score is reassuring. Of eight which were troublesome a year ago, a settlement of some sort has been achieved in the case of four. These are the Suez Canal, a source of friction between Great Britain and Egypt; Trieste, over which Italy and Yugoslavia were struggling; the Saar, a long-time object of dispute between France and Germany; and Austria, which the Russians have agreed to restore to freedom.

Four areas are still a cause of strife. These are Kashmir, over which India and Pakistan are at odds; Western New Guinea, claimed by Indonesia and the Dutch; Formosa; and partitioned Germany.

These are still sensitive areas. If not as perfect as we should like the score does show that the world is making progress.

A STREET ARGUMENT

After one of the political meetings which I attended in England, crowds gathered on the street to argue points. This was a working class district and the British workingmen have memories of such campaigners as George Bernard Shaw, H. G. Wells, Sidney Webb, and other intellectuals and they like big ideas and big words. A British Communist took over, assisted by a young lady who may have been his wife. Their argument fascinated me:

"Who has bases all over the world? Do you see any Russian air bases in England? Do the Russians have bases for atom bombs and hydrogen bombs in England or Portugal or Spain? Of course not! Only the Yanks have bases all over the world. That proves that the Yanks want war and I won't fight for the Yanks. Not me!

"The Russians in 1945 were the most powerful people on Earth. Did they take Germany, France, Holland, Belgium? Of course not! They stopped and let every country run itself. What did the Yanks do? They organized NATO. They organized for war, that's what they did.

"In 1945, the Russians could have taken England and they could have taken America. Did they. They tried for peace. They tried to find a way to peace. Only the Yanks kept them down because Wall Street wants to own the world."

Most of the listeners gave this fellow blow for blow. It was a quiet argument, apparently not to wake the neighbors, but a very heated one. However, so overpowering is the desire for peace that I could feel that this fellow was making some headway, particularly among the women. There can be no question but that these people, who live in a section that had been bombed, fear war more than any American can understand. The Communist said that he had fought in Korea and was a fool for doing the Yanks' job for them.

His parting shot was:

"I have statistics to prove that the amount of aid the Yanks gave the Russians is next to nothing, less than one per cent of what it cost the Russians to free Europe from the Nazi menace."

Of course, these arguments did not count for much in the final results, but it is of some importance to note the line. My inquiries showed that it is this line which is being used in all circles, a definite anti-American propaganda designed to convince Europeans and Asiatics that the United States alone is the enemy of peace, that all the world would have peace were it not for American efforts to make war. NATO is painted as an American war machine designed to enslave Western Europe.

We, in this country, do not come across this line of arguments and if we did, we could answer it. In Great Britain I found no effective presentation of the American point of view either by official Americans or by the news which is sent from this country. This is not said in criticism of individuals but rather of a point of view that people are more interested in exciting news than in explanatory background. The truth is that thy are interested in both and the British workingman has had a long history of listening to talks on economics, history and government.

Some 30 years ago, the American Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai protested to news agencies that the news coming into China and published in the local newspapers misrepresented the United States, giving the impression that we are all gangsters and savages. The same can be said today about the presentation of the United States to Great Britain, with rare and notable exceptions. What comes over to the masses of the British people are juvenile delinquency, misbehavior by Hollywood stars and some political and economic data not too well stated. The "class" newspapers and weeklies, particularly "The Economist," do better. We get a fuller presentation of the British point of view in this country.

I have been told that cable tolls have much to do with this. They are not only costly but the export of dollars is very limited and therefore British publications cannot afford long cabled accounts. This is as much an American as a British problem. It is not so much propaganda that is needed as full political coverage such as used to be sent by that great correspondent, Sir Willmott Lewis.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

CRYING IN THE OLDER CHILD

Yesterday I wrote about some of the causes of crying in babies and I stated that hunger was the chief cause of crying in the younger baby while boredom and loneliness was the most frequent cause in the older baby. What about crying in the young child, after babyhood is over?

Some authorities feel that in the older child most crying is related to his developing personality and his arrival at the "no" stage. This is a problem stage for parents and, fortunately, as he gets on to the age of four, he gradually outgrows it. In the meantime, parents can help by being consistent. Do not make him do something one day and then the next day give into his "No" and allow him to skip it. Forcing a child to do anything it does not want to do usually leads to crying.

In the one-to-three-year-old group, crying is often a device to attract attenion. Sometimes a youngster will cry too long over just a surface scratch when what he really wants is to be reassured that he is loved and secure. This happens when parents are too busy to notice. It can also happen where crying is frowned upon, but the scratch is the opportunity for penned back tears to come forth. It may continue when even a slight scratch brings too much adult sympathy. Crying at night is common in this age group through fear or night terrors.

Insecurity from any cause — whether due to unhappiness, jealous or overprotection — leads to excessive crying in the young child. Indeed when we think of it, how much adult crying is not due to just these same causes? Intolerance and impatience in the parent must not be overlooked as a cause. Crying is always increased by tiredness, boredom or hunger.

Fortunately, parents today no longer let babies "cry it out." The cause of the crying should be found and removed because it is harmful. It may give the child the feeling that there is no comfort, love and strength to be had from adults when he needs them most. "Rigid disciplinarians breed unhappy children with no confidence in themselves or their parents." This can do psychological harm and lead to behavior problems in later life.

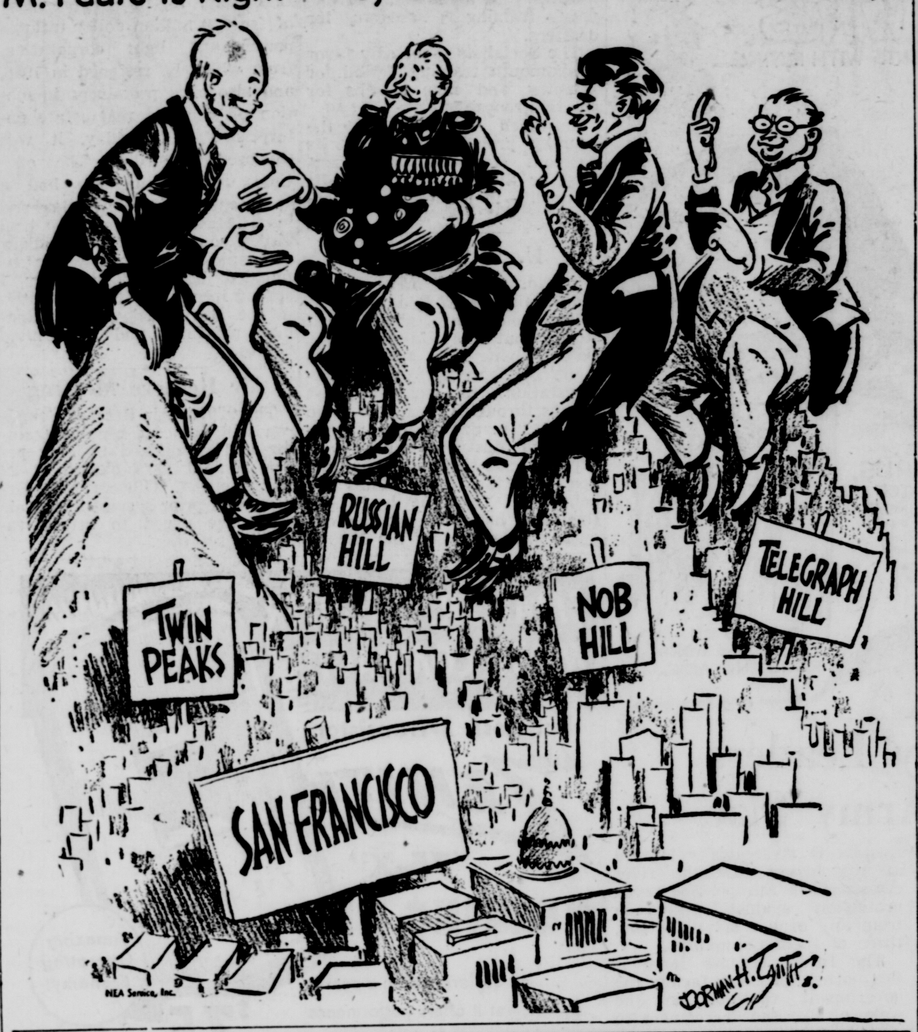

No one likes to hear a child cry without trying to help it. Of course, we are talking about crying and not temper tantrums. If tantrums are continuous or persist after the age of five, they may be a signal to seek help from child-guidance authorities.

M. Faure Is Right--They Could Find No Better Summits

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington —(NEA)— From June 15 to 17, newspaper readers will see a strange dateline in the columns of their favorite dailies. It will be something like:

Information Headquarters, Operation Alert, 1955:

Radio news broadcasts and telenewscasts will also purport to be coming from this same mysterious location.

It will be strictly a "Somewhere in America" dateline.

It's exact location is more or less an open secret in Washington. But to carry out the fiction that Washington has been atom-or-H-bombed out of existence and that the President and all the big shots of government have beat it for parts unknown, nobody is supposed to tell where the secret headquarters are.

FEDERAL CIVIL DEFENSE ADMINISTRATION under Gov. Val Peterson and Office of Defense Mobilization under Dr. Arthur Flemming will be in charge of setting up this Information Headquarters. It will be under control of the White House.

For the American news services and the radio and TV networks this will be a first test of where their U. S. government news will come from and how it will be handled in case of an actual bombing attack.

Not too much attention has been paid to this problem by the news media up to now. Their first job will of course be to give coverage to local disaster and recovery.

"Operation Alert" may be an eye-opener on how the national news will be handled, with many of the usual lines of communication to government news sources disrupted.

Into this Information Headquarters will come primarily news on how the Operation Alert exercise is going. This involves 50 designated cities of the 92 prime, metropolitan target areas of the United States, plus seven other cities which will have a surprise alert, without warning.

THIS TEST WILL RUN 24 HOURS, beginning at 11 a. m. June 15. But the Washington government will run its test for another 48 hours just to test its own operations under emergency conditions.

In all, 15,000 out of the Washington area's 250,000 government employes will take part in the evacuation test.

Emergency headquarters for the White House and 30 principal government agencies will be established out of town. They will be in secret locations, 50 to 300 miles from Washington, in a sector that is west, northwest and southwest from the capital.

None of the emergency headquarters will be to the east because prevailing winds would normally spread fall-out dust in that direction from a bomb blast over the capital.

Included in the 30 government agencies setting up emergency headqquarters for the Operation Alert test will be all 10 of the cabinet rank departments. Also agencies like Atomic Energy Commission, Budget Bureau, Central Intelligence Agency, Federal Reserve Board and Selective Service Administration.

THERE WILL BE NO NEWSMEN assigned to any of these agencies at their emergency hideouts—not even for Departments of State and Defense. All the news from them will be funneled into the central Information headquarters and given to reporters there.

Governor Peterson and Doctor Flemming plan to have one news conference at the headquarters. Other agencies are being told to plan at least one release through the information center, just to test the operation.

Queries from the reporters will be relayed to the departments and agencies for answers. It will have one big news room, with telephone and telegraph facilities for filing stories.

There will be a press corps of 12 selected men with President Eisenhower at his emergency White House. They will represent the wire news services, networks and picture agencies. No special correspondents for individual newspapers will be accredited to the emergency White House, which may be at several secret locations.

The President may move about. But an elaborate communications network has been set up so that the President can meet with his cabinet in conference, television, phone calls. Signal Corps and Navy will handle this communication network.

Washington won't exactly fold up while all this is going on. Congress will remain in session. And all the agencies will be open for routine business as usual.

Expensive Eggs

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP) — Five-year-old David E. Gardner used his father's cigaret lighter to gather eggs in the hen house at night. He found nine eggs and burned the hen house to the ground. David and the chickens managed to scramble to safety.

"Scot free" originally meant without payment of a scot, or tax. Today, this expression means "safe" or "without penalty."

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

June 7, 1935—The Kingston High School Music Association presented the oratorio, "The Messiah," at the school.

Mrs. Emily T. Butze died in Woodstock.

Shirley Snyder, of Brewster street, suffered a leg injury when struck by a truck.

John McNamara, of Summer street, died.

June 7, 1945—A demonstration, "This Is Your Infantry," was scheduled to be held June 12 at the municipal stadium in support of the Seventh War Loan drive.

The Kingston High School baseball team lost to Middletown 3-0 in a DUSO contest at Middletown.

The Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association was considering a proposal to hire a parking ground attendant.

Three boys, ages nine to 13 were picked up by police for damaging Cornell Park equipment and breaking a shop window at 311 Abeel street.

Today in Europe

Many Unforgettable Impressions Are Noted of Europe's Policy Makers

By DAVID LAWRENCE

En route from Europe, June 6 —Unforgettable impressions of the men who make the policies in Europe today are carried away by the writer upon completion of a series of private conferences during the last two months—some with the statesmen of "the summit" and some with the personalities who sit alongsile them in the top councils.

Foremost is an impression of Sir Anthony Eden, Prime Minister of Great Britain, an earnest, resourceful, likable man, whose sturdiness and firmness — first displayed when he broke with the appeasers in the Chamberlain Cabinet of the '30s—is coupled with an awareness of present day intrigues by the Communists. His long experience in government will prove invaluable now. He maintains a flexibility of approach which is a tradition of British diplomacy. He is far better informed about America's ideals and purposes in the world than most of the people in government circles in Britain. He is a specialist in foreign affairs, but finds his time taken up considerably nowadays with the intricate cross-currents of domestic policy.

Edgar Faure, Premier of France, is a levelheaded, hard-working individual with perhaps the most difficult job in Europe—how to develop a majority from time to time in the French Parliament out of a lot of blocs and factions and split parties. He makes an impression of sincerity. He has a keen appreciation of American support and calls constantly for a common policy among the Allies, not just in facing the Soviets but in extricating France from the morass of dilemmas growing out of the situations in Indochina, Tunisia, Morocco and Central Africa. He is a good friend of the United States. While he does not always see eye to eye with us—as, for example, on Far Eastern policy—this is due largely to the same lack of understanding of American ideals which is characteristic of so many people in Europe who are influential in forming public opinion.

Gen. Franco, head of the Spanish State, is a quiet, soft-spoken, indefatigable man of deep conviction, who wonders at the tragic lack of information about Spain which prevails in other countries. There can be no denying the progress Franco is making in a country where only a few years ago more than a million persons were killed in a civil war and where, if communism had succeeded in that war, there would today be no air bases for American military forces which are so essential to the defense of Europe. The men around him are able. Talks with the Foreign Minister and with other leaders reveal the planning of Spain to take her rightful place in the family of nations.

Germany's statesmen, especially the younger men around Chancellor Adenauer, are about as alert a group as the writer found anywhere in Europe. There need be no fear about the course of German policy if fate takes Adenauer from the scene. My talks with the new Foreign Minister, Heinrich von Brentano, and with Minister Franz Josef Strauss and with Chairman Georg Kiesinger of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Bundestag gave me a new light on the tremendous influence for peace in Europe that Germany can be. Even Erich Ollenhauer, the leader of the Socialist opposition — a kindly man with whom this correspondent spent an evening—is well aware of the importance of maintaining American friendship. Altogether, the German picture has in it many elements of strength for the West.

Speaking of foreign ministers, Americans can have reason to be glad that Harold Macmillan heads up the Foreign Office in Britain. It is not just because he is half-American and is a close friend of President Eisenhower, but because he can be counted upon to apply himself zealously to the task of removing Anglo-American misunderstandings.

The unsung heroes of diplomacy today, however, are the ambassadors who work tirelessly to explain America to Europe and to smooth out the many embarrassing situations caused by thoughtless partisans back home.

Thus, it is fortunate that a man of the ability, pleasing personality and intimate knowledge of Britain which Winthrop Aldrich possesses, should be the American Ambassador at London. He stands high in England, not merely because of the unselfish service he has rendered Britain in war relief causes in the past, but because today he reflects so carefully and tactfully the American viewpoint.

Over in France, Ambassador Douglas Dillon is doing a remarkable job. He speaks French fluently and carries on an intimate, day-by-day contact with French leaders, besides presiding over one of the busiest embassies in the world. Career men in all our embassies are extremely important and indispensable, but business men of the broad-gauged perspective of Ambassadors Aldrich and Dillon, with their background of knowledge of the economic picture, are invaluable today as the representatives of the United States.

Former Gov. John Lodge of Connecticut is new at his post as Ambassador at Madrid, but he is studying the Spanish language daily and catching on to the Spanish problem very rapidly.

Our Ambassador to Germany, James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University, is making speeches to the German people in the German language and conveying the American viewpoint effectively.

The writer had a long talk with Charles E. Bohlen, American Ambassador at Moscow, while he was in Paris recently Mr. Bohlen's ability to read and speak Russian is a tremendous asset. He has perhaps the most perplexing assignment of any of our ambassadors.

The barrier of language is formidable in Europe, especially in governmental circles. American schools should not neglect the study of languages. This writer found it helpful, for example, to be able to read the French and German newspapers while abroad, and was particularly glad he had acquired a speaking knowledge of Spanish many years ago, because this permitted direct and uninterrupted conversations with Gen. Franco and members of the Spanish government—something that is not possible when it becomes necessary to use interpreters.

Impressions of the trend of affairs in Europe formed from all these talks can best be set forth in a separate dispatch tomorrow.

Brownell Calls for Consent Decree in Advertising Case

Washington, June 7 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell says the government will not settle a pending antitrust case against advertising agencies and publisher groups "without the entry of a consent decree."

However, Brownell yesterday reaffirmed an earlier statement that the Justice Department is "willing to re-examine the facts" if the defendants "maintain that the government does not have the true facts and hence the suit should not have been instituted."

HE ADDED, in a statement that the department is confident the statement of facts "alleged by the government in this case is complete and adequate."

Rep. Celler (D.-N. Y.) had demanded that Brownell clarify the status of the advertising agency-publishers case.

This action, filed May 12 in New York city, charged conspiracy to restrain trade in relation to alleged uniformity of contracts and commissions in the placing of national advertising in newspapers and magazines.

BROWNELL issued this statement:

"The statement made by Congressman Celler has come to my attention. The antitrust division has no intention of settling any pending case without the entry of a consent decree. There could be no effective enforcement of any agreement unless it is made a matter of record by entry of a consent decree.

"As I stated at South Bend (Ind.) Sunday with reference to the Publishers Association case, the government is always willing to listen to defendants who maintain that the government does not have the true facts and hence the suit should not have been instituted. If that be demonstrated, the suit shoud be dismissed by the government. As in any case, we are willing to re-examine the facts, but if the alleged facts are proved there can be no settlement of this litigation without that settlement being embodied in a consent decree. I might add that we are confident that the statement of facts alleged by the government in this case is complete and accurate."

THE SUIT was directed against American Assn. of Advertising Agencies, American Newspaper Publishers Assn., Publishers Assn. of New York city, Associated Business Publications, Inc., Periodical Publishers Assn. of America, all of New York, and Agricultural Publishers Assn., of Chicago.

Celler had demanded an explanation of published reports that the civil suit might be settled by "mutual agreement."

Celler, chairman of a House Antitrust subcommittee, described as "strange" an interview quoting Brownell as saying in South Bend the suit might be ended without filing of a consent decree with the court.

THE AMERICAN newspaper Publishers Assn. said May 12 it had offered full cooperation with the department of Justice to make any changes in its practices that might be required under law changed by court decision. The comment by ANPA President Richard W. Slocum said the department was willing to discuss the issues only if the association would agree in advance to a consent entered in court.

It called the suit a "premature waste of taxpayers' money in the hope of satisfying someone's desire for public victory and an injunction against an arm of the press."

In New York a spokesman for the ANPA said yesterday there would be no comment at this time on Brownell's South Bend statement.

Most of the listeners gave this fellow blow for blow. It was a quiet argument, apparently not to wake the neighbors, but a very heated one. However, so overpowering is the desire for peace that I could feel that this fellow was making some headway, particularly among the women. There can be no question but that these people, who live in a section that had been bombed, fear war more than any American can understand. The Communist said that he had fought in Korea and was a fool for doing the Yanks' job for them.

His parting shot was:

"I have statistics to prove that the amount of aid the Yanks gave the Russians is next to nothing, less than one per cent of what it cost the Russians to free Europe from the Nazi menace."

Of course, these arguments did not count for much in the final results, but it is of some importance to note the line. My inquiries showed that it is this line which is being used in all circles, a definite anti-American propaganda designed to convince Europeans and Asiatics that the United States alone is the enemy of peace, that all the world would have peace were it not for American efforts to make war. NATO is painted as an American war machine designed to enslave Western Europe.

We, in this country, do not come across this line of arguments and if we did, we could answer it. In Great Britain I found no effective presentation of the American point of view either by official Americans or by the news which is sent from this country. This is not said in criticism of individuals but rather of a point of view that people are more interested in exciting news than in explanatory background. The truth is that thy are interested in both and the British workingman has had a long history of listening to talks on economics, history and government.

Some 30 years ago, the American Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai protested to news agencies that the news coming into China and published in the local newspapers misrepresented the United States, giving the impression that we are all gangsters and savages. The same can be said today about the presentation of the United States to Great Britain, with rare and notable exceptions. What comes over to the masses of the British people are juvenile delinquency, misbehavior by Hollywood stars and some political and economic data not too well stated. The "class" newspapers and weeklies, particularly "The Economist," do better. We get a fuller presentation of the British point of view in this country.

I have been told that cable tolls have much to do with this. They are not only costly but the export of dollars is very limited and therefore British publications cannot afford long cabled accounts. This is as much an American as a British problem. It is not so much propaganda that is needed as full political coverage such as used to be sent by that great correspondent, Sir Willmott Lewis.

That Body of Yours

CRYING IN THE OLDER CHILD

Yesterday I wrote about some of the causes of crying in babies and I stated that hunger was the chief cause of crying in the younger baby while boredom and loneliness was the most frequent cause in the older baby. What about crying in the young child, after babyhood is over?

Some authorities feel that in the older child most crying is related to his developing personality and his arrival at the "no" stage. This is a problem stage for parents and, fortunately, as he gets on to the age of four, he gradually outgrows it. In the meantime, parents can help by being consistent. Do not make him do something one day and then the next day give into his "No" and allow him to skip it. Forcing a child to do anything it does not want to do usually leads to crying.

In the one-to-three-year-old group, crying is often a device to attract attenion. Sometimes a youngster will cry too long over just a surface scratch when what he really wants is to be reassured that he is loved and secure. This happens when parents are too busy to notice. It can also happen where crying is frowned upon, but the scratch is the opportunity for penned back tears to come forth. It may continue when even a slight scratch brings too much adult sympathy. Crying at night is common in this age group through fear or night terrors.

Insecurity from any cause — whether due to unhappiness, jealous or overprotection — leads to excessive crying in the young child. Indeed when we think of it, how much adult crying is not due to just these same causes? Intolerance and impatience in the parent must not be overlooked as a cause. Crying is always increased by tiredness, boredom or hunger.

Fortunately, parents today no longer let babies "cry it out." The cause of the crying should be found and removed because it is harmful. It may give the child the feeling that there is no comfort, love and strength to be had from adults when he needs them most. "Rigid disciplinarians breed unhappy children with no confidence in themselves or their parents." This can do psychological harm and lead to behavior problems in later life.

No one likes to hear a child cry without trying to help it. Of course, we are talking about crying and not temper tantrums. If tantrums are continuous or persist after the age of five, they may be a signal to seek help from child-guidance authorities.

M. Faure Is Right--They Could Find No Better Summits

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington —(NEA)— From June 15 to 17, newspaper readers will see a strange dateline in the columns of their favorite dailies. It will be something like:

Information Headquarters, Operation Alert, 1955:

Radio news broadcasts and telenewscasts will also purport to be coming from this same mysterious location.

It will be strictly a "Somewhere in America" dateline.

It's exact location is more or less an open secret in Washington. But to carry out the fiction that Washington has been atom-or-H-bombed out of existence and that the President and all the big shots of government have beat it for parts unknown, nobody is supposed to tell where the secret headquarters are.

FEDERAL CIVIL DEFENSE ADMINISTRATION under Gov. Val Peterson and Office of Defense Mobilization under Dr. Arthur Flemming will be in charge of setting up this Information Headquarters. It will be under control of the White House.

For the American news services and the radio and TV networks this will be a first test of where their U. S. government news will come from and how it will be handled in case of an actual bombing attack.

Not too much attention has been paid to this problem by the news media up to now. Their first job will of course be to give coverage to local disaster and recovery.

"Operation Alert" may be an eye-opener on how the national news will be handled, with many of the usual lines of communication to government news sources disrupted.

Into this Information Headquarters will come primarily news on how the Operation Alert exercise is going. This involves 50 designated cities of the 92 prime, metropolitan target areas of the United States, plus seven other cities which will have a surprise alert, without warning.

THIS TEST WILL RUN 24 HOURS, beginning at 11 a. m. June 15. But the Washington government will run its test for another 48 hours just to test its own operations under emergency conditions.

In all, 15,000 out of the Washington area's 250,000 government employes will take part in the evacuation test.

Emergency headquarters for the White House and 30 principal government agencies will be established out of town. They will be in secret locations, 50 to 300 miles from Washington, in a sector that is west, northwest and southwest from the capital.

None of the emergency headquarters will be to the east because prevailing winds would normally spread fall-out dust in that direction from a bomb blast over the capital.

Included in the 30 government agencies setting up emergency headqquarters for the Operation Alert test will be all 10 of the cabinet rank departments. Also agencies like Atomic Energy Commission, Budget Bureau, Central Intelligence Agency, Federal Reserve Board and Selective Service Administration.

THERE WILL BE NO NEWSMEN assigned to any of these agencies at their emergency hideouts—not even for Departments of State and Defense. All the news from them will be funneled into the central Information headquarters and given to reporters there.

Governor Peterson and Doctor Flemming plan to have one news conference at the headquarters. Other agencies are being told to plan at least one release through the information center, just to test the operation.

Queries from the reporters will be relayed to the departments and agencies for answers. It will have one big news room, with telephone and telegraph facilities for filing stories.

There will be a press corps of 12 selected men with President Eisenhower at his emergency White House. They will represent the wire news services, networks and picture agencies. No special correspondents for individual newspapers will be accredited to the emergency White House, which may be at several secret locations.

The President may move about. But an elaborate communications network has been set up so that the President can meet with his cabinet in conference, television, phone calls. Signal Corps and Navy will handle this communication network.

Washington won't exactly fold up while all this is going on. Congress will remain in session. And all the agencies will be open for routine business as usual.

Today in Europe

By DAVID LAWRENCE

En route from Europe, June 6 —Unforgettable impressions of the men who make the policies in Europe today are carried away by the writer upon completion of a series of private conferences during the last two months—some with the statesmen of "the summit" and some with the personalities who sit alongsile them in the top councils.

Foremost is an impression of Sir Anthony Eden, Prime Minister of Great Britain, an earnest, resourceful, likable man, whose sturdiness and firmness — first displayed when he broke with the appeasers in the Chamberlain Cabinet of the '30s—is coupled with an awareness of present day intrigues by the Communists. His long experience in government will prove invaluable now. He maintains a flexibility of approach which is a tradition of British diplomacy. He is far better informed about America's ideals and purposes in the world than most of the people in government circles in Britain. He is a specialist in foreign affairs, but finds his time taken up considerably nowadays with the intricate cross-currents of domestic policy.

Edgar Faure, Premier of France, is a levelheaded, hard-working individual with perhaps the most difficult job in Europe—how to develop a majority from time to time in the French Parliament out of a lot of blocs and factions and split parties. He makes an impression of sincerity. He has a keen appreciation of American support and calls constantly for a common policy among the Allies, not just in facing the Soviets but in extricating France from the morass of dilemmas growing out of the situations in Indochina, Tunisia, Morocco and Central Africa. He is a good friend of the United States. While he does not always see eye to eye with us—as, for example, on Far Eastern policy—this is due largely to the same lack of understanding of American ideals which is characteristic of so many people in Europe who are influential in forming public opinion.

Gen. Franco, head of the Spanish State, is a quiet, soft-spoken, indefatigable man of deep conviction, who wonders at the tragic lack of information about Spain which prevails in other countries. There can be no denying the progress Franco is making in a country where only a few years ago more than a million persons were killed in a civil war and where, if communism had succeeded in that war, there would today be no air bases for American military forces which are so essential to the defense of Europe. The men around him are able. Talks with the Foreign Minister and with other leaders reveal the planning of Spain to take her rightful place in the family of nations.

Germany's statesmen, especially the younger men around Chancellor Adenauer, are about as alert a group as the writer found anywhere in Europe. There need be no fear about the course of German policy if fate takes Adenauer from the scene. My talks with the new Foreign Minister, Heinrich von Brentano, and with Minister Franz Josef Strauss and with Chairman Georg Kiesinger of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Bundestag gave me a new light on the tremendous influence for peace in Europe that Germany can be. Even Erich Ollenhauer, the leader of the Socialist opposition — a kindly man with whom this correspondent spent an evening—is well aware of the importance of maintaining American friendship. Altogether, the German picture has in it many elements of strength for the West.

Speaking of foreign ministers, Americans can have reason to be glad that Harold Macmillan heads up the Foreign Office in Britain. It is not just because he is half-American and is a close friend of President Eisenhower, but because he can be counted upon to apply himself zealously to the task of removing Anglo-American misunderstandings.

The unsung heroes of diplomacy today, however, are the ambassadors who work tirelessly to explain America to Europe and to smooth out the many embarrassing situations caused by thoughtless partisans back home.

Thus, it is fortunate that a man of the ability, pleasing personality and intimate knowledge of Britain which Winthrop Aldrich possesses, should be the American Ambassador at London. He stands high in England, not merely because of the unselfish service he has rendered Britain in war relief causes in the past, but because today he reflects so carefully and tactfully the American viewpoint.

Over in France, Ambassador Douglas Dillon is doing a remarkable job. He speaks French fluently and carries on an intimate, day-by-day contact with French leaders, besides presiding over one of the busiest embassies in the world. Career men in all our embassies are extremely important and indispensable, but business men of the broad-gauged perspective of Ambassadors Aldrich and Dillon, with their background of knowledge of the economic picture, are invaluable today as the representatives of the United States.

Former Gov. John Lodge of Connecticut is new at his post as Ambassador at Madrid, but he is studying the Spanish language daily and catching on to the Spanish problem very rapidly.

Our Ambassador to Germany, James B. Conant, former president of Harvard University, is making speeches to the German people in the German language and conveying the American viewpoint effectively.

The writer had a long talk with Charles E. Bohlen, American Ambassador at Moscow, while he was in Paris recently Mr. Bohlen's ability to read and speak Russian is a tremendous asset. He has perhaps the most perplexing assignment of any of our ambassadors.

The barrier of language is formidable in Europe, especially in governmental circles. American schools should not neglect the study of languages. This writer found it helpful, for example, to be able to read the French and German newspapers while abroad, and was particularly glad he had acquired a speaking knowledge of Spanish many years ago, because this permitted direct and uninterrupted conversations with Gen. Franco and members of the Spanish government—something that is not possible when it becomes necessary to use interpreters.

Impressions of the trend of affairs in Europe formed from all these talks can best be set forth in a separate dispatch tomorrow.

Expensive Eggs

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP) — Five-year-old David E. Gardner used his father's cigaret lighter to gather eggs in the hen house at night. He found nine eggs and burned the hen house to the ground. David and the chickens managed to scramble to safety.

"Scot free" originally meant without payment of a scot, or tax. Today, this expression means "safe" or "without penalty."

Brownell Calls for Consent Decree in Advertising Case

Washington, June 7 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell says the government will not settle a pending antitrust case against advertising agencies and publisher groups "without the entry of a consent decree."

However, Brownell yesterday reaffirmed an earlier statement that the Justice Department is "willing to re-examine the facts" if the defendants "maintain that the government does not have the true facts and hence the suit should not have been instituted."

HE ADDED, in a statement that the department is confident the statement of facts "alleged by the government in this case is complete and adequate."

Rep. Celler (D.-N. Y.) had demanded that Brownell clarify the status of the advertising agency-publishers case.

This action, filed May 12 in New York city, charged conspiracy to restrain trade in relation to alleged uniformity of contracts and commissions in the placing of national advertising in newspapers and magazines.

BROWNELL issued this statement:

"The statement made by Congressman Celler has come to my attention. The antitrust division has no intention of settling any pending case without the entry of a consent decree. There could be no effective enforcement of any agreement unless it is made a matter of record by entry of a consent decree.

"As I stated at South Bend (Ind.) Sunday with reference to the Publishers Association case, the government is always willing to listen to defendants who maintain that the government does not have the true facts and hence the suit should not have been instituted. If that be demonstrated, the suit shoud be dismissed by the government. As in any case, we are willing to re-examine the facts, but if the alleged facts are proved there can be no settlement of this litigation without that settlement being embodied in a consent decree. I might add that we are confident that the statement of facts alleged by the government in this case is complete and accurate."

THE SUIT was directed against American Assn. of Advertising Agencies, American Newspaper Publishers Assn., Publishers Assn. of New York city, Associated Business Publications, Inc., Periodical Publishers Assn. of America, all of New York, and Agricultural Publishers Assn., of Chicago.

Celler had demanded an explanation of published reports that the civil suit might be settled by "mutual agreement."

Celler, chairman of a House Antitrust subcommittee, described as "strange" an interview quoting Brownell as saying in South Bend the suit might be ended without filing of a consent decree with the court.

THE AMERICAN newspaper Publishers Assn. said May 12 it had offered full cooperation with the department of Justice to make any changes in its practices that might be required under law changed by court decision. The comment by ANPA President Richard W. Slocum said the department was willing to discuss the issues only if the association would agree in advance to a consent entered in court.

It called the suit a "premature waste of taxpayers' money in the hope of satisfying someone's desire for public victory and an injunction against an arm of the press."

In New York a spokesman for the ANPA said yesterday there would be no comment at this time on Brownell's South Bend statement.

Girl Scout Court Of Awards Is Held

Woodstock, June 6—"I think we have good reason to be proud of this group of Girl Scouts," Mrs. Charles Rapp, leader of Troop 12, said as the 20 members of the troop stood before the platform in the gym of the Woodstock School Friday night to receive their awards.

It was an impressive line of Girl Scouts, some in the regulation green uniforms, and the junior high school group in their green skirts and white blouses, which drew an appreciative round of applause from the large audience of relatives and friends who attended the Girl Scout Court of Awards winding up Girl Scout formal activities for the season.

The high point of the ceremony came when Mrs. Rapp presented Doris Mellin and Bonnie Wilber with the curved bar in homemaking, the highest award in Intermediate Scouting, and Doris Mellin also received the coveted campership to Camp Wendy, presented by Augustus P. Modjeska for the Masonic Square Club which sponsored the award.

Mrs. Rapp was assisted in the presentation of awards by Mrs. Charles Steele, co-leader. Mrs. Kenneth Hefty was also a leader of the troop, and the following have served on the troop committee for the past year: Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, Mrs. Paul Haeussler and Mrs. Theodore Lee.

The following awards were presented to members of Girl Scout Troop 12: One-year attendance stars — Jean Cousins, Virginia Martin, Doris Mellin, Virginia Modjeska, Ellen Ross, Elsie Ross, Diane Shults, Vera VanRijn, Bonnie Wilber and Selma Dendy; five-year pins — Rose Bodie, Carolyn Kinns, Maria Klippel, Barbara Longyear, Judith Rapp, Jean Wilson, Marilyn Wolven, Valerie Fischer, Carol Anne Hefty, Annette Haeussler; second class — Virginia Modjeska, Diane Shults.

The following girls received the rank of first class: Virginia Martin, Valerie Fischer, Carol Hefty, Maria Klippel, Jean Wilson and Judith Rapp. The leaders for Troop 12 will be Mrs. Charles Rapp and Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen with the following on the troop committee: Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, chairman; Mrs. Paul Haeussler, Mrs. Theodore Lee and Mrs. James Kinns.

At the conclusion of the candle lighting ceremony and the recitation of the Girl Scout Promise and Laws, Mrs. Kenneth Martin, Ulster county director of Girl Scouting, invested the following new adult Girl Scouts in the Woodstock Community Association: Mrs. John Derry, Mrs. Victor Allen, Mrs. Charles Goodrich, Mrs. Vernon Wilber, Mrs. Charles Van Voorhis, Mrs. Bruce Gosset and Mrs. Anthony Winchell.

Awards and proficiency badges were presented to the following members of Girl Scout Troop 74, by leaders Mrs. J. C. Hutchins, Mrs. C. J. Van Rijn and Mrs. Inger: One-year attendance stars — Barbara Cohn, Pamela Dendy, Susan Foster, Sue Gurland, Dorothy Haeussler, Suzanne Jurgensen, Marge King, Joanne Marr, Susi McClellan, Barbara Mower, Carol Quednau, Gretchen Wetterau, Betty-Lou Wilber, Joyce Van Voorhis; second class rank—Barbara Cohn, Pamela Dendy, Susan Foster, Sue Gurland, Dorothy Haeussler, Suzanne Jurgensen, Teri Kelley, Marge King, Joanne Marr, Suzi McClellan, Barbara Mower, Carol Quednau, Gretchen Wetterau, Betty-Lou Wilber, Cynthia Wilber and Joyce Van Voorhis.

Proficiency badges were presented to the following members of Troop 12: Cook—Rose Bodie, Jean Cousins, Annette Haeussler, Carol Anne Hefty, Marie Klippel, Barbara Longyear, Judith Rapp, Virginia Modjeska, Jean Wilson, Marilyn Wolven; good grooming (with help from Pauline's Art Beauty Shop)—Rose Bodie, Selma Dendy, Valerie Fischer, Annette Haeussler, Carol Anne Hefty, Carolyn Kinns, Marie Klippel, Barbara Longyear, Virginia Martin, Virginia Modjeska, Judith Rapp, Diane Shults, Jean Wilson, Marilyn Wolven; child care (in charge of Mrs. Paul Haeussler, RN)—Selma Dendy, Rose Bodie, Jean Cousins, Judith Rapp, Marie Klippel, Annette Haeussler, Virginia Martin, Diane Shults, Marilyn Wolven, Virginia Modjeska, Barbara Longyear, Valerie Fischer, Carolyn Kinns, Jean Wilson and Carol Anne Hefty; drawing and painting (under direction of Joseph Gandino)—Valerie Fischer, Selma Dendy, Carol Anne Hefty, Marie Klippel, Judith Rapp, Doris Mellin, Ellen Ross, Elsie Ross, Diane Shults, Jean Wilson; dabbler (an arts and crafts badge in charge of Mr. Gandino)—Doris Mellin, Jean Wilson, Carol Anne Hefty, Judith Rapp, Ellen Ross, Elsie Ross, Vera Van Rijn, Selma Dendy; reader — Valerie Fischer, Annette Haeussler, Carol Anne Hefty, Judith Rapp, Vera Van Rijn, Jean Wilson; pen pal — Virginia Martin, Judith Rapp, Virginia Modjeska, Marilyn Wolven; conservation—Valerie Fischer, Bonnie Wilber, Doris Mellin; homemaker — Ellen Ross, Virginia Martin, Elsie Ross; farm safety — Barbara Longyear, Jean Wilson; animal raiser—Virginia Martin, Diane Shults; personal health—Doris Mellin, Bonnie Wilbur; player—Ellen and Elsie Ross; horsewoman—Vera Van Rijn; pottery—Virginia Martin; seamstress—Marie Klippel; dressmaker—Judith Rapp; writer Vera Van Rijn.

Discusses Problems Of Children's Books

Woodstock, June 6 — Miska Petersham, noted author and illustrator of children's books, spoke at the final meeting of the Woodstock Parent-Teacher Association last Thursday night at the school. Mr. Petersham discussed the problems of printing children's books and explained how the processes of printing has changed since the publication of two of their books, Miki and Noah's Ark, which were created with his wife Maud Petersham. He also described how a book is printed and how he and his wife started in the field.

Thomas Dendy, past president of the PTA, complimented all who helped with the presentation of the PTA fund raising show recently, From Bob to Bach.

It was announced that two new teachers will join the Woodstock School teaching staff. They are Mrs. Mervin Doremus and Mrs. Francis Hancock. Mr. Hancock, who comes from New Hampshire, will arrive here to join his wife who is a teacher in Saugerties.

A discussion took place on the forthcoming art exhibition of work by the Woodstock School children, under the direction of Joseph Gandine, which will open at the Art Gallery Tuesday, instead of Monday as originally announced. There will be a reception at 7:30 p. m. and the Woodstock School Band will play.

Also under discussion was the dinner and dance for the 1955 graduation class, to be held at Deanie's on June 16. Porky Provenzano and his orchestra will play for the event.

The treasurer's report was submitted and it was announced that there was $442.75 in the P-T A treasury, which had been augmented by the recent musical show. According to Mrs. Klothe, the new secretary of the P-T A, the "Bach to Bop" show netted $290.70. As of last Friday contributions were still being received from the 170 letters sent out appealing for funds.

At the close of the meeting, James Kinns the new president, thanked the retiring officers for the work accomplished. It was reported that this year's membership is the highest it has been in four years.

River Not Hospital

Covington, Ky., June 7 (AP)— "Where's the hospital?" Michael Toth asked a bystander. "Just keep walking straight ahead." Toth did—smack into the Ohio river. Fished out by police, Toth, 48, was charged with drunkenness and breach of peace.

U. S. Raw Materials

Before 1930, the United States produced more raw materials that it consumed in most years, but since that time the nation has imported more of such materials than it has exported.

Do pension funds and insurance companies own common stocks?

Question submitted by N. D. Carmichael, Columbia Heights, Minn., Teletype Supervisor.

Yes, many insurance companies and pension funds own common stocks today. So do many other "institutions"—foundations, school and college endowment funds, hospitals, religious and charitable organizations and some savings banks. Also banks administering personal trusts hold large amounts of common stocks.

Today institutions of all types hold about one-fourth of all common stocks listed on the N.Y. Stock Exchange. Their stocks have a market value of about $40 billion. Some university endowment funds have more than half of their investments in common stocks.

Of course, almost all institutions diversify their investments with preferred stocks and bonds as well. Many of these are also listed on the Stock Exchange. These securities generally involve less risk than common stocks—though the return is usually smaller.

Perhaps you've been thinking about investing in common stocks. Before you do, be sure you know the facts about the companies you're considering. A Member Firm of the Exchange will gladly furnish facts without cost and will help you plan an investment that suits your objectives.

Girl Scout Court Of Awards Is Held

Woodstock, June 6—"I think we have good reason to be proud of this group of Girl Scouts," Mrs. Charles Rapp, leader of Troop 12, said as the 20 members of the troop stood before the platform in the gym of the Woodstock School Friday night to receive their awards.

It was an impressive line of Girl Scouts, some in the regulation green uniforms, and the junior high school group in their green skirts and white blouses, which drew an appreciative round of applause from the large audience of relatives and friends who attended the Girl Scout Court of Awards winding up Girl Scout formal activities for the season.

The high point of the ceremony came when Mrs. Rapp presented Doris Mellin and Bonnie Wilber with the curved bar in homemaking, the highest award in Intermediate Scouting, and Doris Mellin also received the coveted campership to Camp Wendy, presented by Augustus P. Modjeska for the Masonic Square Club which sponsored the award.

Mrs. Rapp was assisted in the presentation of awards by Mrs. Charles Steele, co-leader. Mrs. Kenneth Hefty was also a leader of the troop, and the following have served on the troop committee for the past year: Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, Mrs. Paul Haeussler and Mrs. Theodore Lee.

The following awards were presented to members of Girl Scout Troop 12: One-year attendance stars — Jean Cousins, Virginia Martin, Doris Mellin, Virginia Modjeska, Ellen Ross, Elsie Ross, Diane Shults, Vera VanRijn, Bonnie Wilber and Selma Dendy; five-year pins — Rosé Bodie, Carolyn Kinns, Maria Klippel, Barbara Longyear, Judith Rapp, Jean Wilson, Marilyn Wolven, Valerie Fischer, Carol Anne Hefty, Annette Haeussler; second class — Virginia Modjeska, Diane Shults.

The following girls received the rank of first class: Virginia Martin, Valerie Fischer, Carol Hefty, Maria Klippel, Jean Wilson and Judith Rapp. The leaders for Troop 12 will be Mrs. Charles Rapp and Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen with the following on the troop committee: Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, chairman; Mrs. Paul Haeussler, Mrs. Theodore Lee and Mrs. James Kinns.

At the conclusion of the candle lighting ceremony and the recitation of the Girl Scout Promise and Laws, Mrs. Kenneth Martin, Ulster county director of Girl Scouting, invested the following new adult Girl Scouts in the Woodstock Community Association: Mrs. John Derry, Mrs. Victor Allen, Mrs. Charles Goodrich, Mrs. Vernon Wilber, Mrs. Charles Van Voorhis, Mrs. Bruce Gosset and Mrs. Anthony Winchell.

Awards and proficiency badges were presented to the following members of Girl Scout Troop 74, by leaders Mrs. J. C. Hutchins, Mrs. C. J. Discusses Problems Of Children's Books

Woodstock, June 6 — Miska Petersham, noted author and illustrator of children's books, spoke at the final meeting of the Woodstock Parent-Teacher Association last Thursday night at the school. Mr. Petersham discussed the problems of printing children's books and explained how the processes of printing has changed since the publication of two of their books, Miki and Noah's Ark, which were created with his wife Maud Petersham. He also described how a book is printed and how he and his wife started in the field.

Thomas Dendy, past president of the PTA, complimented all who helped with the presentation of the PTA fund raising show recently, From Bob to Bach.

It was announced that two new teachers will join the Woodstock School teaching staff. They are Mrs. Mervin Doremus and Mrs. Francis Hancock. Mr. Hancock, who comes from New Hampshire, will arrive here to join his wife who is a teacher in Saugerties.

A discussion took place on the forthcoming art exhibition of work by the Woodstock School children, under the direction of Joseph Gandine, which will open at the Art Gallery Tuesday, instead of Monday as originally announced. There will be a reception at 7:30 p. m. and the Woodstock School Band will play.

Also under discussion was the dinner and dance for the 1955 graduation class, to be held at Deanie's on June 16. Porky Provenzano and his orchestra will play for the event.

The treasurer's report was submitted and it was announced that there was $442.75 in the P-T A treasury, which had been augmented by the recent musical show. According to Mrs. Klothe, the new secretary of the P-T A, the "Bach to Bop" show netted $290.70. As of last Friday contributions were still being received from the 170 letters sent out appealing for funds.

At the close of the meeting, James Kinns the new president, thanked the retiring officers for the work accomplished. It was reported that this year's membership is the highest it has been in four years.

Village Notes

Woodstock, June 6 — Alan Delano, a former Woodstocker, was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Houston Richards. Mr. Delano returned to this country recently from a three-months round-the-world cruise.

'Hoarding' Charge

Tokyo, June 7 (AP) — Now it's the Japanese army that is under attack for being wasteful. The newspaper Nihon Keizai said today the army has "hoarded" enough winter uniforms to last for 10 years at the present rate of use. The newspaper said the army is ordering uniforms from domestic makers, although the U. S. Army has turned over a plentiful supply. The Japanese army has about 150,000 men.

Strange Bird

Sendai, Japan, June 7 (AP)—To the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington: You are hereby notified that flaggergasted Japanese fishermen found a metal ring on the leg of a big gull-like bird captured in the Pacific about 50 miles off Japan over the weekend. The ring bore the inscription "notify Fish & Wildlife Service, Washington, D. C. Prof. Masakichi Hatanaka of Tohoku University said he never had heard of a bird flying all the way from the United States.

Jamestown Polio Death

Jamestown, N. Y., June 7 (AP) —Marcia Lynn Dorman, 5, died of bulbar polio Sunday in Jamestown General Hospital. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dorman of Ripley. Marcia had not received the Salk vaccine. She was the first victim of polio this year in this area.

River Not Hospital

Covington, Ky., June 7 (AP)—"Where's the hospital?" Michael Toth asked a bystander. "Just keep walking straight ahead." Toth did—smack into the Ohio river. Fished out by police, Toth, 48, was charged with drunkenness and breach of peace.

U. S. Raw Materials

Before 1930, the United States produced more raw materials that it consumed in most years, but since that time the nation has imported more of such materials than it has exported.

Do pension funds and insurance companies own common stocks?

Question submitted by N. D. Carmichael, Columbia Heights, Minn., Teletype Supervisor.

Yes, many insurance companies and pension funds own common stocks today. So do many other "institutions"—foundations, school and college endowment funds, hospitals, religious and charitable organizations and some savings banks. Also banks administering personal trusts hold large amounts of common stocks.

Today institutions of all types hold about one-fourth of all common stocks listed on the N. Y. Stock Exchange. Their stocks have a market value of about $40 billion. Some university endowment funds have more than half of their investments in common stocks.

Of course, almost all institutions diversify their investments with preferred stocks and bonds as well. Many of these are also listed on the Stock Exchange. These securities generally involve less risk than common stocks—though the return is usually smaller.

Perhaps you've been thinking about investing in common stocks. Before you do, be sure you know the facts about the companies you're considering. A Member Firm of the Exchange will gladly furnish facts without cost and will help you plan an investment that suits your objectives.

Innocent Plea Is Entered by Oliver InNegligenceCase

Johney Oliver, 34, of Woodridge was arraigned in County court Monday afternoon on a charge of criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle resulting in death, as a result of an accident in which he was involved on May 8, on the Woodridge road in the town of Wawarsing. Leonard L. Wooten, 41, of 101 West 131st street, New York city, a passenger in the car operated by Oliver, was drowned in a ditch when pinned beneath the car when it failed to make a turn and overturned.

Oliver entered a plea of innocent, asked that counsel be assigned to him since he had just "bought a car" and had no money to pay an attorney. Charles Saccoman was assigned. Twenty days were granted to make motions and Oliver was remanded to jail.

THE OLIVER indictment was one of five open bills returned by the grand jury in a partial report to County Judge John M. Cashin Monday afternoon. Eleven sealed indictments were also filed and there were two dismissals. Bench warrants were directed issued in the sealed indictments on application of District Attorney Howard C. St. John.

No bills were returned against Leslie Youmans, who had been charged with receiving stolen property, or against Joseph Justo Santiago, charged with violation of Section 1906, Subdivision D of the Penal law. Both were discharged.

Robert Milton Peterson, Kingston, was charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry alleged to have been committed on April 18, 1955 and also in a second indictment with the same offense on March 10, 1955. To both indictments he entered a plea of innocent, was granted 20 days for motions and remanded to jail. Cook and Cook appear for him. Among places which Peterson allegedly entered was the D. D. Drive-In, District Attorney St. John said.

RAYMOND LEROY KOONTZ, Napanoch, was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have been committed on March 17, 1955. He allegedly took a car. To two counts of the indictment he entered a plea of innocent, was given 20 days for motions and remanded to jail. James Abernethy was assigned as counsel.

Arthur Michael DeWitt Jr., Walker Valley, was arraigned on a charge of arson, first degree, alleged to have been committed on February 23, 1955, and also arson, second degree, alleged to have been committed on May 1, 1955. A plea of innocent was entered to both charges, 20 days granted for motions and he was remanded to jail. William D. Brinnier was assigned as counsel.

THE CRIMINAL calendar was called by District Attorney Howard C. St. John, and several cases set down for disposition today and Wednesday.

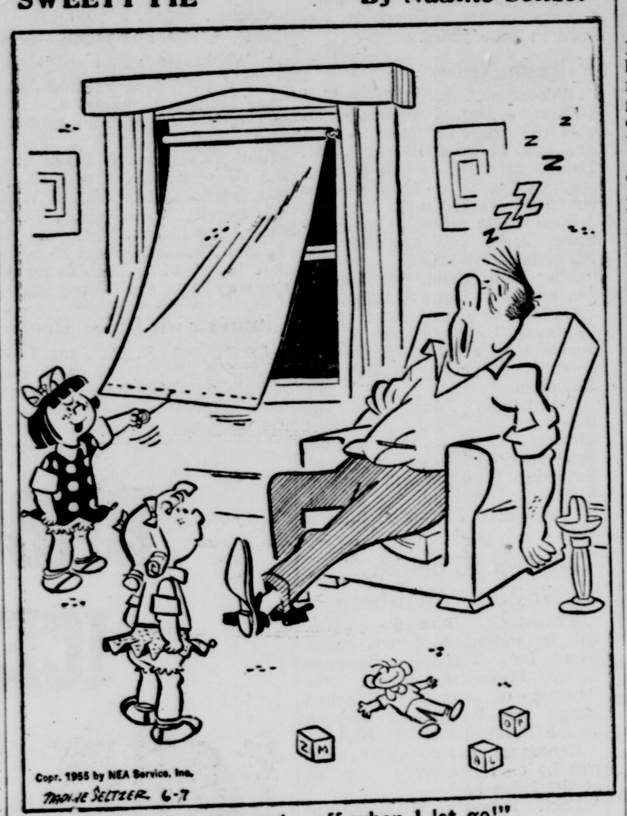

St. John said he had been prepared to go to trial in the Anne Bechtold first degree murder case and since that had been disposed of by a plea he was unprepared to move any other case for trial and he suggested jurors be excused until Wednesday at 10 a. m. Jurors were excused until Wednesday and court recessed until 10 a. m. today.

Judge Cashin denied an application of Joseph Victor Brown, now at Dannemora State Prison, for permission to have the court hear his request for a re-hearing.

Caught in the Act

Long Beach, Calif., June 7 (AP)—The fellow who tried to get his line into Arthur's Drive-in movie is going to have to be content with the silent films he has been watching. The theatre proprietor, Milt Arthur, encountered a man with a shovel trying to dig under the fence. The unidentified shoveler, pressed for an explanation, said he could see the giant screen from his nearby home, but the sound rarely come through. He said he was trying to hook a speaker wire onto one of the theatre sound wires. "Scram," said Arthur.

George Westinghouse is credited with obtaining patents for an average of one new invention every six weeks for 48 years.

Wrong Mail Boxes

Logan, Utah, June 7 (AP)—Police are asking people to mail letters in the mail boxes, and not the receptacles for traffic tickets. Officer Newman Harris said the department daily gets a few letters deposited in boxes which line the main street so that persons who receive traffic violation tickets may deposit them, along with the customary fine for such things as overtime parking.

Yale Alumni Club Pays $50 Fine for Conducting Raffle

Simsbury, Conn., June 7 (AP)—A town justice fined a Yale Alumni Club $50 last night for running a raffle and said its members should have known better than to break the law.

The raffle was held at a scholarship fund-raising outing here last month, and the winner of a new car was retired Connecticut Supreme Court Justice William M. Maltbie—who 17 years ago upheld a state law banning raffles.

Trial Justice Francis J. Gallagher fined the Yale Club of Hartford after its officers pleaded no contest. Gallagher said he wasn't highly in favor of the law but:

"Volunteer fire companies and church groups had to give up using lotteries because of this law. Now we have a well-educated group of men. • • • Undoubtedly many of them realized that this was a violation of the law. It's on the books and has to be enforced."

Maltbie, who bought a ticket but didn't attend the outing, had said he was embarrassed by winning the automobile and that he was going to sell it, turning the money over to the Yale Alumni Fund. Maltbie said he did not understand the two tickets he bought had anything to do with a raffle.

Caught in the Act

Long Beach, Calif., June 7 (AP)—The fellow who tried to get his line into Arthur's Drive-in movie is going to have to be content with the silent films he has been watching. The theatre proprietor, Milt Arthur, encountered a man with a shovel trying to dig under the fence. The unidentified shoveler, pressed for an explanation, said he could see the giant screen from his nearby home, but the sound rarely come through. He said he was trying to hook a speaker wire onto one of the theatre sound wires. "Scram," said Arthur.

George Westinghouse is credited with obtaining patents for an average of one new invention every six weeks for 48 years.

Wrong Mail Boxes

Logan, Utah, June 7 (AP)—Police are asking people to mail letters in the mail boxes, and not the receptacles for traffic tickets. Officer Newman Harris said the department daily gets a few letters deposited in boxes which line the main street so that persons who receive traffic violation tickets may deposit them, along with the customary fine for such things as overtime parking.

Yale Alumni Club Pays $50 Fine for Conducting Raffle

Simsbury, Conn., June 7 (AP)—A town justice fined a Yale Alumni Club $50 last night for running a raffle and said its members should have known better than to break the law.

The raffle was held at a scholarship fund-raising outing here last month, and the winner of a new car was retired Connecticut Supreme Court Justice William M. Maltbie—who 17 years ago upheld a state law banning raffles.

Trial Justice Francis J. Gallagher fined the Yale Club of Hartford after its officers pleaded no contest. Gallagher said he wasn't highly in favor of the law but:

"Volunteer fire companies and church groups had to give up using lotteries because of this law. Now we have a well-educated group of men. * * * Undoubtedly many of them realized that this was a violation of the law. It's on the books and has to be enforced."

Maltbie, who bought a ticket but didn't attend the outing, had said he was embarrassed by winning the automobile and that he was going to sell it, turning the money over to the Yale Alumni Fund. Maltbie said he did not understand the two tickets he bought had anything to do with a raffle.

Stronger Than Reds

Hong Kong, June 7 (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, en route home to become U. S. Army Chief of Staff, said today that "free forces in Asia . . . are stronger numerically and in equipment than the Communists. The American general and his wife arrived here from Formosa. Taylor said a review of Chinese Nationalist troops there yesterday convinced him they were in "splendid condition" and that U. S. military aid to Formosa is "being used very well."

Nehru Flies to Moscow

Vienna, June 7 (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Nehru left Prague today for Moscow, the Prague radio announced. Nehru arrived in the Czechoslovak capital yesterday from Cairo and visited President Antonin Zapotocky and Premier Viliam Siroke. The Indian leader will stay in Moscow 14 days and then will visit Warsaw, Vienna and Belgrade.

Hunt Bank Bandits

Buffalo, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—A police search was on today for two bandits who held up a teller in the Buffalo Savings Bank yesterday and escaped with more than $2,200 before any of about 50 customers were aware of what had happened. A customer standing in line behind the bandits said he thought "they were waiting for a payroll."

50th Reunion Is Held by Kingston Academy Class

The Class of 1905 of Kingston Academy held its 50th reunion at a dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Saturday, June 4. Following the dinner the class adjourned to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Martin De Forest Smith on Pearl street for a class meeting, songs and a social hour. Mr. and Mrs. Austin S. Basten (Mrs. Basten was formerly Mary Isabel Ellis, a member of the class) had prepared an elaborate exhibit of souvenirs of the old days, class pictures, two editions of the Kingston Academy Spectator, the school paper of the time, class pins, invitations for the commencement exercises, Classday, Prize speaking at the old Opera House and various publications. The members of the class certainly appreciated the work involved in the exhibition. It was voted to hold the next reunion of the class in 1960.

The officers elected in 1954 were continued for the five-year period: Holt N. Winfield of Ulster Park, president; Mrs. Fred Sutro, (Elizabeth Winne), vice-president; Miss Jane Van Etten of Kingston, secretary; Miss Frances Osterhoudt of Kingston, treasurer.

Following is a list of the class members and their wives and husbands who were present. In cases where the wives were the members of the class their maiden name follows in parentheses:

Mr. and Mrs. Austin S. Basten of Indianapolis, Ind. (Mary Isabel Ellis); Mrs. F. P. Coons of Kingston (Cornelia Stone Hammond); Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hulsair (Almira Boice) of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Crosby McGiffert of Montclair, N. J.; Robert Gilbert Ennist of New York; Mrs. Fred Wolven of Port Ewen, (Maude S. Freer); Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Wilkins of Bronxville, (H. Elizabeth Hardenbergh); Charles H. Mergendahl of Newtonville, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Matthews of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien of Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Frances J. Osterhoudt of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Osterhoudt of Brooklyn; Dr. and Mrs. Martin De Forest Smith of New York.

Miss Jane Van Etten of Kingston; Miss Ethel J. Waldron of Attleboro, Mass.; Dr. and Mrs. Philip Watters of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sutro (Elizabeth Winne) of Elizabeth, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Holt N. Winfield of Ulster Park.

A telephone message was received from Ednah Smith who is at present in Florida and several letters were read from members of the class who were not able to be present. A tribute was paid to ten deceased members of the class: John J. Mangan, Frank Chappell, Alfred Boyd, Frank Shand, Herbert Snow, Nellie Flynn, Elna C. Boice, Helen Haner, Harry Weiner, and Claude Donohue.

Racketeer Stabbed

Naples, Italy, June 7 (AP)—Frank Frigenti, deported U. S. racketeer, was taken to a hospital with stab wounds last night and put under arrest. Police said he would be held pending investigation of several $100 travelers' checks found in his pockets at the hospital. Officers said they were believed stolen.

Barns Are Smaller

Because baled hay takes less space than hay in mows and modern machinery is more compact than the horses and the equipment they once powered, new barns on American farms often are smaller than the old.

Police Hold Two As VA Bandits

New York, June 7 (AP)—Police have arrested two men as the knife-flashing daylight bandits who jumped aboard a veterans administration truck yesterday and made off with a $3,195 bank deposit.

Two employes of the Bronx VA Hospital were taking weekend cafeteria receipts to a bank when the bandits held them up during a stop at a traffic light.

Grabbing the money, the robbers fled into nearby park. Chauffeur Michael J. Pennise, 44, chased after them and soon was joined by a patrolman who summoned more police aid. From under a bush in the park they flushed one of the men later charged with the robbery.

He was identified as Tony Serra, 20, of the Bronx. Police questioned him and late last night picked up the second man after waiting for him to return to his Bronx apartment.

Police identified the second man as Jose Vargas, 19, the father of an infant child. Both men were charged with assault, robbery and violation of the weapons law.

Most of the stolen money was recovered, police said.

Says Railroads Are Handicapped by U. S.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—An official of the Association of American Railroads said today that a "strait jacket of government regulation" was handicapping the railroads in competing for traffic.

Richard G. May, vice president in charge of the association's operations and maintenance department, said that other carriers as a group were far less restricted by government regulations.

He made the comment in a prepared address at the opening of the annual meeting of the association's safety section. About 400 railroad officials were here for the three-day conference.

Area Soldier Hurt

Leghorn, Italy, June 7 (AP)—The U. S. Army has announced the identities of an American soldier who was killed and two others who were seriously injured near here last Friday. The car in which they were riding collided with a truck. The dead was Pfc. William A. Tilghman, 21, Baltimore, Md. The injured were Pvt. Edward Kennedy of Hopewell Junction, N. Y., and Pvt. Joseph T. Duartes of Youngstown, Ohio. They were taken to the army hospital here.

Arterial Route Proposed

Rye, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Construction of a $5,020,000 arterial highway system for this city was proposed today by the State Public Works Department. The plan was contained in a department report prepared for presentation by Superintendent John W. Johnston to a meeting of city and Westchester county officials. It calls for construction of 4.5 miles of new highway within the city and seven-tenths of a mile of connections with state highways outside Rye.

Glens Falls, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Miss Ella Lovina Shields, who observed her 100th birthday May 19, died yesterday.

Calls Act Petty

Lyons, N. Y., June 7 (AP) — A Republican official contended today that listing of the state thruway as a "second-class road" on highhway condition maps by Gov. Harriman's administration was "an act of petty political spite." Miss Jane Todd of Tarrytown, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee, declared that the action by the Democrats would "prove costly to several sections of the state."

Women to Start Y Swim Classes

The women's swimming class at the YMCA will start Wednesday, June 8, at 7 p. m., by Lou Schafer, general secretary, said today.

This special instruction class will continue until the last Wednesday in August. More than 50 women registered last season and about 30 of those who came regularly learned to swim. All women who participate must become a member of the "Y" for the summer season. William Irland, "Y" physical director, who is an expert swimming instructor, will assist Mr. Schafer in the pool.

The grammar school swimming class for girls will take place Friday at 3:15 p. m. This is for girls between 8 and 13 years of age. Following the three Friday swims in the month of June, there will be a special swimming instruction program Wednesday and Friday mornings through the summer vacation. All girls who participate in the summer program of swimming instructions must fill out an application and have their parent's signature before they enter the swimming pool. Applications can be had at the YMCA front office.

Best Man Killed

Bath, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Newlyweds F. Warren and Beverly Bradley Jr. today interrupted their New England honeymoon to return home for the funeral of their best man, Russell E. Allen, 23. Allen was killed in an auto crash Saturday night, a few hours after the wedding. The bride's sister and bridesmaid, Barbara Van Dusen, 19, was seriously injured in the accident. Allen was a star high school athlete and a sports instructor at Sampson Air Force Base prior to his discharge from the U. S. Air Force. His funeral is tomorrow.

Marines Reach Okinawa

Naha, Okinawa, June 7 (AP)—The 9th Marine Regiment of the 3rd Marine Division began landing on Okinawa today. The reinforced unit, capable of operating on a self sustained basis, was transferred from Japan. It has an estimated 5,500 men.

BUGGY DAZE—The past met the present in LaPorte, Ind., this week when a horse and buggy driven by Frank Hitesman, 75, of nearby Pinola, Ind., came to town on a visit. Both Hitesman, bewhiskered but spry, and the stallion, Golden Dawn, seem puzzled by a parking meter which hardly resembles the old hitching rack. Hitesman used it anyway when told how the contraption worked. He admitted it has been some time since his last visit.

Sentenced to Die

New York, June 7 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Raymond Holley, convicted of the shotgun slaying of another teen-ager last Oct. 1, has been sentenced to die in the electric chair. Holley and his victim, Jesse Lipscomb, 15, had been "war counselors" for rival Brooklyn youth gangs that had been feuding for years. At the time of the shooting Holley and Lipscomb were at odds over a girl. Holley's conviction for first degree murder last Monday, with no jury recommendation for mercy, made the death sentence mandatory.

Captain Believed Lost

Glen Cove, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—The captain of a derrick barge was believed lost early today when his craft capsized and sank while being towed through Hempstead harbor. Authorities said they believed the captain, identified as Robert Dunbar, 43, was caught in the barge cabin when his craft went down about 1 a. m. Cause of the mishap was not immediately learned.

First Army Editor Dead

Phelps, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Funeral services for John Lawrence Bowden, 78, editor of the first U. S. Army newspaper published in Cuba during the Spanish American War, are being held today in this Ontario county village.

Split Is Rumored

Hollywood, June 7 (AP)—Have Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis decided to split up their successful comedy act? Film town buzzed with the question today as Lewis prepared to go east for the premiere of the team's latest opus—and Martin scheduled a trip to Hawaii with his wife. It was said to be the first time the comic duo had failed to get together for an important opening. Martin, some said, is angling for his own TV show, while Lewis would like to go on a personal appearance tour and play more night clubs.

Killed by Tractor

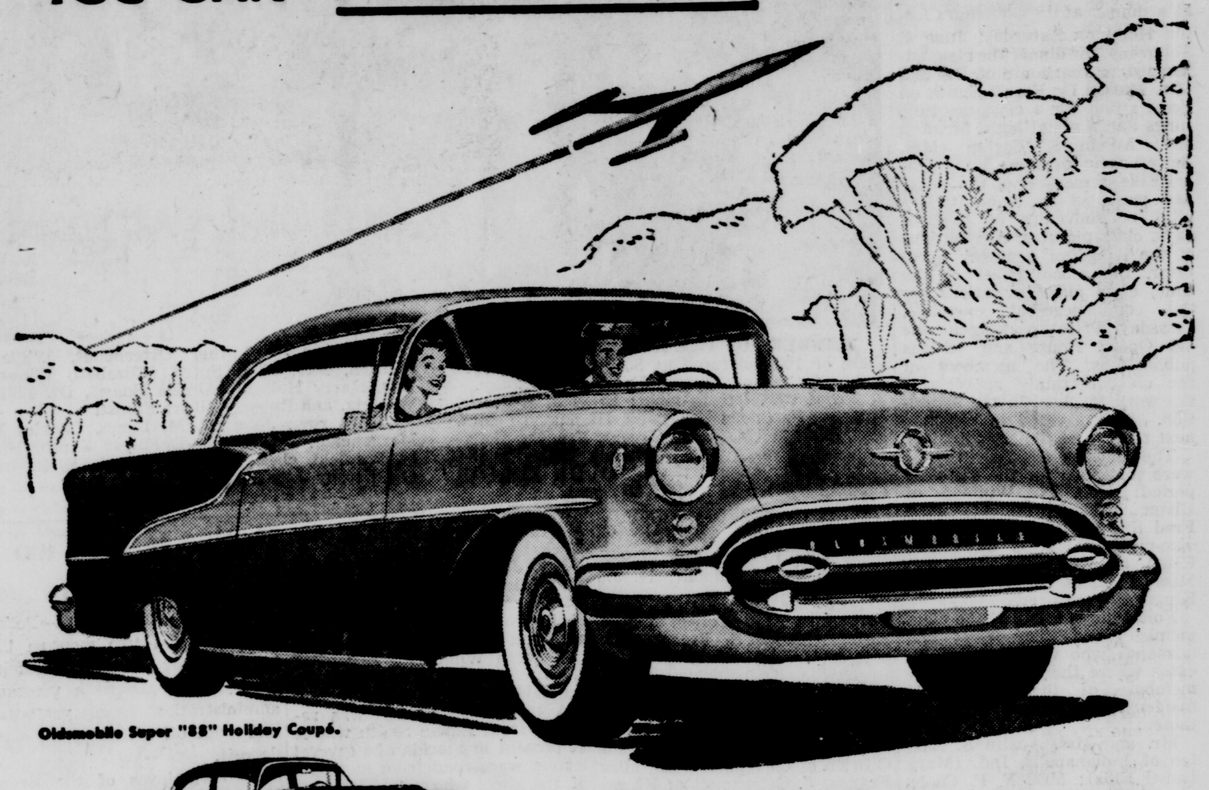

Cowlesville, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—James Kreutter, 38, was fatally injured last night when a tractor overturned on him on his father's farm near this Wyoming county village.

Women to Start Y Swim Classes

The women's swimming class at the YMCA will start Wednesday, June 8, at 7 p. m., by Lou Schafer, general secretary, said today.

This special instruction class will continue until the last Wednesday in August. More than 50 women registered last season and about 30 of those who came regularly learned to swim. All women who participate must become a member of the "Y" for the summer season. William Irland, "Y" physical director, who is an expert swimming instructor, will assist Mr. Schafer in the pool.

The grammar school swimming class for girls will take place Friday at 3:15 p. m. This is for girls between 8 and 13 years of age. Following the three Friday swims in the month of June, there will be a special swimming instruction program Wednesday and Friday mornings through the summer vacation. All girls who participate in the summer program of swimming instructions must fill out an application and have their parent's signature before they enter the swimming pool. Applications can be had at the YMCA front office.

Best Man Killed

Bath, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—Newlyweds F. Warren and Beverly Bradley Jr. today interrupted their New England honeymoon to return home for the funeral of their best man, Russell E. Allen, 23. Allen was killed in an auto crash Saturday night, a few hours after the wedding. The bride's sister and bridesmaid, Barbara Van Dusen, 19, was seriously injured in the accident. Allen was a star high school athlete and a sports instructor at Sampson Air Force Base prior to his discharge from the U. S. Air Force. His funeral is tomorrow.

Marines Reach Okinawa

Naha, Okinawa, June 7 (AP)—The 9th Marine Regiment of the 3rd Marine Division began landing on Okinawa today. The reinforced unit, capable of operating on a self sustained basis, was transferred from Japan. It has an estimated 5,500 men.

BUGGY DAZE—The past met the present in LaPorte, Ind., this week when a horse and buggy driven by Frank Hitesman, 75, of nearby Pinola, Ind., came to town on a visit. Both Hitesman, bewhiskered but spry, and the stallion, Golden Dawn, seem puzzled by a parking meter which hardly resembles the old hitching rack. Hitesman used it anyway when told how the contraption worked. He admitted it has been some time since his last visit.

Sentenced to Die

New York, June 7 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Raymond Holley, convicted of the shotgun slaying of another teen-ager last Oct. 1, has been sentenced to die in the electric chair. Holley and his victim, Jesse Lipscomb, 15, had been "war counselors" for rival Brooklyn youth gangs that had been feuding for years. At the time of the shooting Holley and Lipscomb were at odds over a girl. Holley's conviction for first degree murder last Monday, with no jury recommendation for mercy, made the death sentence mandatory.

Captain Believed Lost

Glen Cove, N. Y., June 7 (AP)—The captain of a derrick barge was believed lost early today when his craft capsized and sank while being towed through Hempstead harbor. Authorities said they believed the captain, identified as Robert Dunbar, 43, was caught in the barge cabin when his craft went down about 1 a. m. Cause of the mishap was not immediately learned.

First Army Editor Dead

Split Is Rumored

Hollywood, June 7 (AP)—Have Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis decided to split up their successful comedy act? Film town buzzed with the question today as Lewis prepared to go east for the premiere of the team's latest opus—and Martin scheduled a trip to Hawaii with his wife. It was said to be the first time the comic duo had failed to get together for an important opening. Martin, some said, is angling for his own TV show, while Lewis would like to go on a personal appearance tour and play more night clubs.

Shades of the Wild West: Geronimo's Apache Tribe Plans to Start Dude Ranch

Mescalero, N. M. (AP)—Tribal kinsmen of Geronimo, leader of the last major Indian uprising in the United States, are considering starting a dude ranch.

Time has calmed the fierce Apaches, once the most feared raiders of the Far West. They have decided there is more profit in doing business than riding ponies into battle.

One of their latest money-making ideas is to establish a dude ranch on their mountainous 719-square-mile reservation here, one of the most picturesque areas of New Mexico. It is no wily redskin plot to lure the white man here and scalp him with resort rates.

"IF WE DO start a dude ranch, we'll operate it on a high level," said Wendell Chino, a distant relative of Geronimo's who is now president of the tribe's business committee.

There is no doubt that if Chino has anything to do with it, it will have to be on a high level.

He is passionately devoted to raising the lot of his people. A short, powerfully built man of 32, Chino was the first member of the Apache tribe to become an ordained minister. He took a leave of absence from his pulpit post in the Reformed Church in America to direct the tribe's economic affairs.

TWO DECADES ago the Apaches lived much as they did in Geronimo's wild heyday. They had only a few hundred cattle. They slept as their roving ancestors had—in brush arbors or "wickups," shelters made by tying young bent fir saplings together and covering the framework with animal skins, cloth and underbrush.

Today most of the Indians live in neat 4-room cottages built by the tribe with funds borrowed from the government. Many have become ranchers or cowboys. The cattle herd has grown to 10,000. The tribe also receives about $150,000 a year from the sale of timber.

"We have come a long way in only 20 years," said Chino proudly.

"BUT OUR AVERAGE cash income is only about $800. "We are still in the lower income bracket, in terms of the general American standard of living. Our big problem is unemployment. We have about 150 without jobs."

The Apache people, numbering some 7,500, dwell on four reservations—two in New Mexica, two in Arizona. The Mescalero tribe here feels it is the most progressive.

"The reservation population fell to about 600 or 700 after the flu epidemic in the First World War," said Chino. "But now it is up to 1,200, and increasing at the rate of about 2 per cent a year."

Some 85 per cent of the Mescaleros now speak English, about the same number are Christian. Although Chino wants to preserve some of the dying customs and arts of his people, he feels that only through more education can they acquire the knowledge and civilized skills they need to survive in the future.

"MOST OF OUR children now attend school through the 8th grade," he said, "but that is not enough."

Geronimo led the Apaches off the reservation on the warpath. It is Chino's dream to free the Apaches from grinding poverty by creating new economic enterprises on the vast reservation.

"Where there is insecurity, there is always a tendency for a people to disintegrate," he said. "But the Apaches can take on the culture of the white man and still retain their tribal integrity and their identity as Indians.

"Those who criticize us don't realize the progress we have made. They forget that the Apaches were the last tribe to lay down their war weapons, and that some who were led by Geronimo are still alive."

VFW Builds Scout Camp at TriMount

A new staff cabin at the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, camp at East Jewitt is under construction with the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 1386 of Kingston, furnishing the labor.

Under the direction of Post Commander Richard Davis, a group of members of Post 1386 spent the weekend at Camp TriMount and began construction of the 12 x 16 foot cabin.

It is hoped that the new cabin will be available for the summer season which opens on July 3.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 1386, are the sponsors of Boy Scout Troop 19 and Cub Pack 19 in the Rip Van Winkle Council.

Popular Packages Perk Up Picnics

It's time to haul out that picnic basket, mom, because this time of year nothing beats a picnic for good, old-fashioned family fun. What to put into that basket? You're the expert on that, with your experience at picking picnic foods that are tasty, easy to fix and easy to eat. And don't forget those little packs of chewing gum that add to the fun and top off the picnic meal to a peak of perfection! Pass some gum around on your way to your picnic spot. It will keep the kids in a patient mood without spoiling their appetites. Chewing gum after lunch is a good idea, too. It helps cleanse the teeth, aids digestion and adds extra pleasure to picnic activities. So remember to pick up some packages of chewing gum when you're doing that picnic shopping. Those popular packages will perk up a picnic every time.

Reckless on River

Detroit, June 7 (AP)—Termed a "menace on land or sea," Louis Morabito was ordered not to pilot a boat for the next four months by Traffic Judge George T. Murphy yesterday. He was convicted of reckless driving on the Detroit river. Morabito already has had his automobile driver's permit revoked. "And don't take up flying," Murphy cautioned Morabito.

Wrong Loot

St. Louis, June 7 (AP)—This thief must have gotten quite a shock. He knocked Maurice Schachter, 68-year-old drugstore clerk, down yesterday and fled with a briefcase while the man was walking near a bank. But Schachter, who was en route to the bank for cloth bags used to carry change, only had his raincoat in the briefcase. He refused medical treatment.

Breakfast Is Poor Meal For Practicing Your Diet

CHILDREN EAT BETTER breakfasts when the family sits down together. Importance of the meal can't be overestimated.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Many women have the mistaken idea that to go without breakfast is a good way to keep their hips down. You need a balanced breakfast, one that provides ¼ of your day's food, just as much as your husband and children do, according to medical men and nutritionists.

Students of family eating habits and family relations state that children eat a better breakfast when the family sits down together. Furthermore the basic breakfast pattern of fruit, cereal with milk, bread, butter or margarine and a beverage in adaptable to all ages.

For Junior who is growing rapidly, the glass of whole milk supplies important protein. If father is a sedentary worker, the basic cereal fills his needs. If he does strenuous physical work add an egg or two. Junior can use an egg, too.

This summer menu follows the basic breakfast pattern:

BREAKFAST: Cantaloupe with sprigs of mint, oven-toasted rice cereal with milk, flaky bran biscuits, butter or margarine, milk and coffee.

Flaky Bran Biscuits
(Yield 10 to 12 biscuits)

One cup whole bran, ¾ cup milk, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup shortening, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine.

Soak whole bran in milk. Combine dry ingredients; sift into mixing bowl. Cut shortening into flour mixture with pastry blenders or knives until it is finely divided and mixture resembles meal. Add bran mixture; stir with knife or spatula just until ingredients are mixed. Turn dough onto lightly floured surface. Knead lightly 6 times. Roll dough ½-inch thick. Cut into rounds with biscuit cutter or into diamonds with sharp knife. Brush tops with melted butter or margarine. Place 1-inch apart on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (425-degrees F.) until done, 10-12 minutes.

The mother trying to keep her figure trim can eat smalled serving of all the foods on the menu.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Broiled hamburgers, vegetable relish, sliced sweet onions, mashed potatoes, Swiss chard, flaky bran muffins, butter or margarine, rhubarb sauce, sugar cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

Six Phones Tied Up

Houston, June 7 (AP)—A Houston firm, claiming its six telephone lines were tied up all day, obtained a temporary restraining order against a nationwide credit clothing firm. A petition filed yesterday by Horton & Horton, shell and sand dealer alleged representatives of Lane's credit clothiers tied up the six telephone lines while trying to collect a debt from one of the Horton firm's employes. Horton seeks a permanent injunction to prohibit "harassment" and damages totaling $15,000 for business lost on May 31.

Stevenson to Speak

Chicago, June 7 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, and Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee will be principal speakers tonight at a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner. Between 1,500 and 2,000 Democrats are expected to attend. The funds are being raised for the recent mayoralty campaign. Winner in the election was Mayor Richard J. Daley, a Democrat. Daley served as state director of revenue during Stevenson's term as governor of Illinois, 1948-52.

Grandsons Keep Wage Pattern Set by Ford

New York, June 7 (AP)—Henry Ford's grandsons are giving their fellow industrialists something like the shock the old man did years ago.

The elder Ford startled management by announcing he would pay his workers $5 a day. He did so, he said: 1. To get and keep top skilled workmen; and 2. To furnish workers with enough money so that he could make customers out of them for his Tin Lizzies.

Henry II and Benson Ford, his grandsons, have accepted the principle that an employer should provide for laid-off workers beyond the limits of state unemployment insurance.

TOP MANAGEMENT in many industries today are trying to assess the effects—if and how far the idea will spread, and how soon labor will make the same demands on them.

One of the first results of the Ford agreement in principle—even while the strike threat was still in the balance—is seen in the call issued by the National Association of Manufacturers. It urges the nation's top business leaders to meet in Chicago next week to discuss the issue of the guaranteed annual wage. NAM says it would be foolish for leaders in other lines than the auto industry just to sit around hoping that "the lightning strikes next door."

The Ford Motor Co.'s proposal isn't quite the same as the guaranteed annual wage. It would be in effect only for a half year and would not provide full pay to laid-off workers, as the union first demanded.

BUT BY AGREEING to the principle that some financial aid should go to laid off workers the younger Fords have opened the door a crack. And that is what top management of other industries is talking about.

Another effect of the Ford negotiations which some observers see is on the stock market. They say that part of the strength of stock prices last week was due to a growing belief that labor will make larger gains this year than last in the matter of wage scales and various fringe benefits.

SOME STOCK traders look upon even a guaranteed semi-annual wage as mildly inflationary. As wages go up, so will prices, they argue. Traditionally, stocks are a hedge against inflation.

Steel wage negotiations are starting, too. Under their contract with the steel mills, union leaders can bring up only wage demands at this time. Talk of the guaranteed annual wage would have to wait until next year.

But the wage demands are expected to be high. And various steel executives have said that steel price hikes are sure to accompany them. Some of the recent heavy ordering of steel by consumers is thought to have ben sparked by an urge to beat any renewed wage-price spiral in steel.

ONE REASON that observers expect labor to make large demands—and get bigger settlements this year—is the excellent profit picture in many industries. First quarter earnings after taxes were, on average, 27 per cent above a year ago. Second quarter earnings statements, due next month, are expected to be just as cheerful. Many a stockholder is hoping for an increased dividend in the second half of this year and for a liberal year-end dividend bonus besides.

Union leaders have been making much wage-getting medicine out of this in their pow-wows with management. Many observers look for more strikes this year than last—and some fear this may cut back the business boom this summer and fall—with any resultant wage hikes leading to more inflation later.

Buyers Converge On New York for Fall Fashions

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

This is old home week in New York's garment center — the time when the buyer from Kansas City meets the buyer from San Francisco, and the one from Des Moines meets with another from New Orleans.

Twice a year, in June and November, buyers from all over the country pour into four square blocks in the heart of Manhattan, making a traffic jam in streets, elevators and showrooms that's a wonder to behold.

BY NEXT MONDAY some 10,000 visitors will be scurrying through showrooms in the garment center, bulging notebooks in hand, choosing the clothes that home-town customers will wear next fall.

It's easy to recognize a buyer. They all have that harried, hurried look that comes from trying to keep a jump ahead of competitors and from the responsibility of gambling hundreds of thousands of dollars each season on their own fashion judgment. If the clothes they buy don't sell, they're stuck with that nightmare of the store buyer—markdowns and bargain sales.

These are the people who decide how American women should look each season. Designers and manufacturers create the original models, but it's up to the buyer to make the final decision as to which styliblic.

THEY HAVE to know their business. They have to have a sixth sense about what will sell and what won't. They have to anticipate their customers' wants six months in advance. And they have to be right.

Fashion reporters for newspapers and magazines also view the collections each season and report to their readers on what's new. But if they are wrong, it's merely an editorial blunder. They don't have to back up their opinions with dollars and cents, as do the buyers.

The successful store buyer, in my opinion, is one of the most highly skilled of all career women. And the hardest working.

DURING BUYING TRIPS to New York, Paris, Rome, Los Angeles, St. Louis or Dallas a buyer works through long and strenuous days. To be sure she doesn't miss anything. Then she usually sits up half the night in her hotel room writing up her orders, always with a nagging fear that maybe she has made a wrong guess.

The buyer's job often is envied by the general public. It seems a glamorous life, seeing all the new fashions first, traveling all over the world in search of the new and the beautiful. But usually she sees no more of the cities she visits than the inside of showrooms and hotel rooms.

Municipal Scandal

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Casper J. Haynes tells a favorite of old-time traveling salesman in Texas. They used to make a point of spending a night at the hotel in the little town of Ganado. Then each would write a letter to his wife, saying he'd "spent the night between Edna and Louise," a couple of other tiny towns.

Arm Injury

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—Three times in nine months, Benny Heiskell, 7, fell and broke his left arm. Then, with the arm still in a cast, a car hit him and knocked him kerplunk on the right arm. He walked away with a minor shoulder scrape.

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

It's hard to blame South for the failure of today's hand. His line of play was reasonable and psychologically sound. Unfortunately for him, his opponents were skillful and trusted each other.

West opened the four of hearts, and dummy won the first trick with the queen. South could now easily take one heart, six diamonds, and one club. He needed one additional trick for his contract, and he wanted to develop this trick without allowing East to get in and lead hearts through the king.

Declarer naturally decided to try the club finesse. If it worked he would have his ninth trick. If it failed, West would be on lead; and West would probably not return the very suit that South had begun with.

Hence declarer led a low club from dummy at the second trick. East properly played the six of clubs, beginning a signal of strength in the suit. West won with the king of clubs and correctly read the meaning of the six of clubs. Hence West returned a club, and East's ten forced out the ace.

South now began on the long diamonds, but his task was hopeless against keen defenders. West signalled the ten and then the eight of spades at his first opportunity, thus telling East that it was safe to discard spades. East could easily afford to keep the jack of clubs and a couple of hearts down to the very end.

Declarer eventually led a spade, and West took the ace. West then led a club to his partner's jack and got the heart return through declarer's king to defeat the contract.

Car Sale Prospects

Detroit (AP) — The National Used Car Dealers Assn. has become the National Independent Automobile Dealers Assn. Some industry sources suggested the change meant there will be a lot more new car selling by dealers not franchised by the car makers. Some used car dealers claim that despite statements that new car bootlegging is on the way out many new cars still are available to them on a wholesale basis. In new car bootlegging a dealer with excessive stocks sells at wholesale prices to used car retailers in distant areas. Frequently the used car dealer then re-sells at prices below the prevailing figure in his area. This has resulted in loud protests from enfranchised dealers.

Airman Is Convicted In Souvenir Theft

Denver, June 7 (AP)—An airman from Kansas City has been convicted of stealing a plaque and a time capsule from atop Pike's Peak.

The plaque, unveiled last September, commemorates the first flight of an airplane with a turbo-jet supercharger. The time capsule, containing messages to future generations, was to be opened in 2053.

A federal court jury yesterday convicted Edward James Wenski, Jr., of swiping the items. Wenski said he pried out the plaque and the capsule beneath it for souvenirs.

Sentence was deferred pending hearings of a new trial motion. The offense carries a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and $10,000 in fines.

City Wild Life

Port Arthur, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. J. A. Hoffpauir slammed on the brakes of her car, jumped out, took off her shoe and beat to death a three foot rattlesnake slithering across Procter street.

Ladies Garments Reflect Types Of Communism

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, June 6 (AP)—One of the biggest differences between Tito communism and Khrushchev's brand is reflected in state-produced panties for ladies.

In Russia, the first country in modern times to nationalize bloomers, they are long in the leg, elastic at top and bottom and coming in only two colors —blue and purple.

BUT DOWN here in the Slivovitz country panties are on sale in many styles, and in colors as varied as the rainbow.

From Split, on the Dalmatian coast, to Ljubljana, in soft, rolling Slovenia, you see them in stores in green, yellow, pink, black and flesh shades.

Such objects of feminine understyling as girdles and garter belts are as hard to find in Red Russia as millionaire bankers, but down here they're as common as plums.

Russian slips, which are short, most always made of cotton and with no more styling than a stove pipe, are plentiful. Because the Soviets don't make nightgowns, slips are often worn instead of gowns.

LACK OF familiarity with flimsy nightgowns once led to a major social blunder in the U. S. S. R.

Three wives of generals, whose husbands had liberated an armful of nighties in Berlin, wore them to a Red army reception thinking they were evening dresses.

In all of Russia, which occupies one-sixth of the earth's surface, there are few, if any, factories manufacturing bathing suits.

In Yugoslavia girls can buy them. Some are as dainty as a delicate cloud in a high summer sky, but vastly smaller.

"YOU SHOULD see my Bikini," said a Zagreb actress. "A girl friend mailed it to me in a regular sized envelope."

When it comes to bras, however, Russia comes out ahead.

This article of femine underwear is as common as samovars and one of the really cheap things in Soviet land, costing less than a dollar.

An American visitor to Moscow once said, "the women of this country either have the best bras or the best chests in the world."

Things haven't developed that far in Yugoslavia.

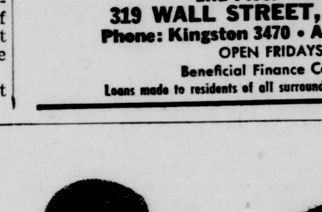

'Outstanding Man' Suspended by Police

Houston, Tex., June 7 (AP)—Texas J. Foster, named one of the nation's 10 outstanding young men by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1952, has been suspended from the Houston police force.

Police Chief Jack Heard said the 29-year-old policeman was suspended indefinitely for "conduct unbecoming an officer." Foster said he will appeal to the city civil service board.

He was honored by the Junior Chamber for his undercover narcotics investigation among Texas teen-agers.

Heard relieved Foster after a fellow-officer was wounded slightly in a shooting at a woman's home. Foster said the shooting was accidental. Heard quoted the officers that they had been drinking and the shooting climaxed horseplay during a social call.

The best thing about some of the popular songs is that they surely can't stay that way very long.

In the Drink?

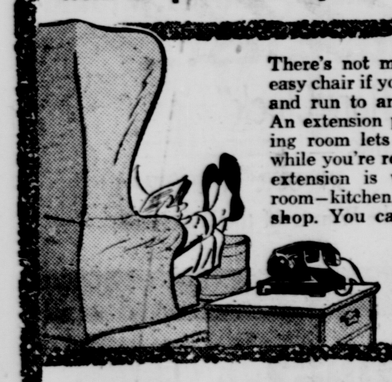

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP)—Morris Barrett, director of the city's clinic for alcoholics, jokingly says he may be his first patient. "Trying to get this clinic going is enough to drive anyone to drink," he said. Legal and financial obstacles have delayed the opening.

Buyers Converge On New York for Fall Fashions

Associated Press Women's Editor

This is old home week in New York's garment center — the time when the buyer from Kansas City meets the buyer from San Francisco, and the one from Des Moines meets with another from New Orleans.

Twice a year, in June and November, buyers from all over the country pour into four square blocks in the heart of Manhattan, making a traffic jam in streets, elevators and showrooms that's a wonder to behold.

BY NEXT MONDAY some 10,000 visitors will be scurrying through showrooms in the garment center, bulging notebooks in hand, choosing the clothes that home-town customers will wear next fall.

It's easy to recognize a buyer. They all have that harried, hurried look that comes from trying to keep a jump ahead of competitors and from the responsibility of gambling hundreds of thousands of dollars each season on their own fashion judgment. If the clothes they buy don't sell, they're stuck with that nightmare of the store buyer—markdowns and bargain sales.

These are the people who decide how American women should look each season. Designers and manufacturers create the original models, but it's up to the buyer to make the final decision as to which styliblic.

THEY HAVE to know their business. They have to have a sixth sense about what will sell and what won't. They have to anticipate their customers' wants six months in advance. And they have to be right.

Fashion reporters for newspapers and magazines also view the collections each season and report to their readers on what's new. But if they are wrong, it's merely an editorial blunder. They don't have to back up their opinions with dollars and cents, as do the buyers.

The successful store buyer, in my opinion, is one of the most highly skilled of all career women. And the hardest working.

DURING BUYING TRIPS to New York, Paris, Rome, Los Angeles, St. Louis or Dallas a buyer works through long and strenuous days. To be sure she doesn't miss anything. Then she usually sits up half the night in her hotel room writing up her orders, always with a nagging fear that maybe she has made a wrong guess.

The buyer's job often is envied by the general public. It seems a glamorous life, seeing all the new fashions first, traveling all over the world in search of the new and the beautiful. But usually she sees no more of the cities she visits than the inside of showrooms and hotel rooms.

Municipal Scandal

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Casper J. Haynes tells a favorite of old-time traveling salesman in Texas. They used to make a point of spending a night at the hotel in the little town of Ganado. Then each would write a letter to his wife, saying he'd "spent the night between Edna and Louise," a couple of other tiny towns.

Arm Injury

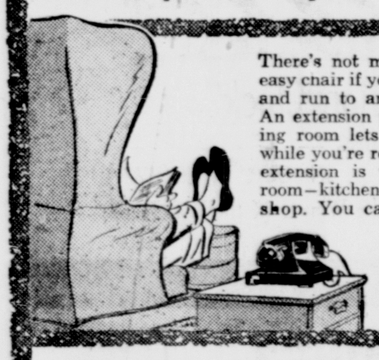

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP) — Three times in nine months, Benny Heiskell, 7, fell and broke his left arm. Then, with the arm still in a cast, a car hit him and knocked him kerplunk on the right arm. He walked away with a minor shoulder scrape.

It's hard to blame South for the failure of today's hand. His line of play was reasonable and psychologically sound. Unfortunately for him, his opponents were skillful and trusted each other.

West opened the four of hearts, and dummy won the first trick with the queen. South could now easily take one heart, six diamonds, and one club. He needed one additional trick for his contract, and he wanted to develop this trick without allowing East to get in and lead hearts through the king.

Declarer naturally decided to try the club finesse. If it worked he would have his ninth trick. If it failed, West would be on lead; and West would probably not return the very suit that South had begun with.

Hence declarer led a low club from dummy at the second trick. East properly played the six of clubs, beginning a signal of strength in the suit. West won with the king of clubs and correctly read the meaning of the six of clubs. Hence West returned a club, and East's ten forced out the ace.

South now began on the long diamonds, but his task was hopeless against keen defenders. West signalled the ten and then the eight of spades at his first opportunity, thus telling East that it was safe to discard spades. East could easily afford to keep the jack of clubs and a couple of hearts down to the very end.

Declarer eventually led a spade, and West took the ace. West then led a club to his partner's jack and got the heart return through declarer's king to defeat the contract.

Miss Ruth Behrens, Addams McAllister Wed in Sage Chapel

The wedding of Miss Ruth Evelyn Behrens and Addams Stratton McAllister took place Saturday, May 7 at 2:30 p. m. in the Sage Chapel at Cornell University, Ithaca. The Rev. Walter A. Dodds, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Ithaca, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, of 108 Oak Hill Road, Ithaca, is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Charles Neville Behrens of River Road, Ulster Park. The bridegroom, of 123 Heights Court, Ithaca, is the son of Mrs. Addams Stratton McAllister of Rose Dale, Covington, Va., and also the late Mr. McAllister.

William A. Austin, professor in the Department of Music, Cornell University, was organist for the ceremony. His selections were: Processional, Overture to Handel's Water Music; Recessional, March from Mendelssohn's "A Midsummer Night's Dream"; Pastorale by Milhaud; Pastorale by Arthur Foote; Chorale Preludes by Brahms, "Deck Thyself My Soul With Gladness," "A Rose Has Blossomed," "My Heart Is Full of Longing," and "Blessed Are the Faithful."

D. Keith Falkner, also a professor in the Department of Music at Cornell University, was soloist. He sang the selections "Where E'er You Walk," by Handel: "God Is My Shepherd," by Dvorak; and "I Love My God Merrily," by Bullock.

Palms, baskets of gladiolas and pompons and snapdragons formed the floral setting for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ballerina length white nylon tulle trimmed with imported Chantilly lace, sequins and seed pearls in a band around the hips and on the molded bodice, and fashioned with a scalloped V neck and cap sleeves. A fingertip veil was secured to a Juliet cap of matching lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white and pink roses.

Mrs. Millard S. Neiger of 160 Longwood avenue, Boston, Mass., was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a waltz length gown of pink net styled with cap sleeves and a V neck, white cap and mitts, and pink shoes. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Sheryl Ann Neiger, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of blue nylon organdy with a bertha collar and white accessories, and carried a basket of yellow roses.

Alfred E. Edelman of Ithaca and Brooklyn, a student in the College of Architecture at Cornell, served as best man. He designed the wedding rings for the couple.

The ushers were R. Alan Lincoln, Ithaca and Los Angeles, Calif., and John N. Bartholomew of Ithaca and Rochester, both students at Cornell University.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Willard Straight Hall dining room, Cornell, for 50 guests. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. R. Alan Lincoln of Ithaca and Pearl River, graduate, and Mrs. Leonard A. Mende, Ithaca and New Hyde Park, student at Cornell, and Miss Sarah B. McAllister of Madison College for Teachers.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and received a bachelor of arts degree in June, 1954, from Cornell University, College of Arts and Sciences, Department of Music. She is now associated with Department of Agricultural Economics, New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Covington (Va.) High School, will receive the BEE degree this month from the Cornell University College of Electrical Engineering. He will begin study for a master of science degree at Cornell in the fall. He is a member of the honorary fraternities, Eta Kappa Nu, Tau Beta Pi, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Mr. and Mrs. McAllister are living at 706 East Seneca street, Ithaca, while the bridegroom completes the spring school term. They will spend the summer in St. Louis, Mo.

Garden Setting for Tea

Mrs. Gavin Cullen who was hostess at tea last week for IBM wives, will be guest of honor Wednesday afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. Raymond R. Gross, at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Invitations sent out by the hostess announce the event from 3 to 5 o'clock. If the sun shines, the lovely gardens will be the perfect setting for the tea. If the weather is uncooperative, the guests will be served in the lounge.

Surprises in Store for Superintendent

"Pleasant surprises are in store for Mr. Laidlaw" was the only comment offered on the program for the testimonial dinner honoring the retiring superintendent of schools, by Mrs. Donovan Buehring, (secret) program chairman. She did say the dinner will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Retiring after 45 years in educational administration, Arthur J. Laidlaw has served as superintendent of schools in Kingston since 1939.

Raymond H. Van Valkenburgh, principal of School No. 4, is general chairman of the dinner. M. Clifford Miller, principal of MJM, and Stephen Hyatt, principal of School No. 6, are on the arrangements committee. Mrs. George L. Dingee, School No. 7 principal, is chairman of decorations committee. Theron Culver, principal of Kingston High School, heads the gift committee. Staging and properties are in charge of Richard McLean, head of maintenance, Kingston public schools.

Dog Fanciers

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Leventhal took the day off to attend the Morris-Essex Kennel Club show at Giralda Farms Estate, Madison, N. J., last Thursday. They were guests of Larry Swars, and enjoyed the wind-swept outdoor show. Ch. Baroque of Quality Hill was the first boxer in history to be honored with best in show, at the event.

Globe-Trotting Artists

Robert Wolfersteig, who is with the Navy at the Bermuda base, is flying to New York Wednesday, and his wife Eloise, is entraining from Baltimore, Md., for their joint concert at the Old Dutch Church Saturday evening.

Mrs. Wolfersteig, a talented soprano, will have to return to Port Deposit, Md., to complete her faculty chores then will fly with her husband to Bermuda on June 18. They will live there until he completes Navy enlistment in August, '56.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, who will be here for the concert, are hosting a bon voyage party for the young couple the eve before departure, at their Brooklyn home. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wolfersteig of Connelly, are planning to attend both events (of course!) and are thinking of a vacation on the island come cold weather.

Recent Visitors in Town

In Kingston over the three-day holiday and more recently were Mr. and Mrs. James Philip, and son, James Jr., of Newark, N. J., visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dittmar. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Connelly and children of Albany, visiting their parents. . . . Miss Rosemary Murphy, of New York city, visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Murphy of 17 Henry street. . . . And Miss Anne Leahy of Albany who spent the three-day holiday visiting friends and relatives here. . . . Mr. and Mrs. John Liccardo were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams of 57 Crown street prior to leaving for Miami, Fla., where they have purchased a motel.

Happy Anniversary!

Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cooper who marked their 34th wedding anniversary Thursday, May 26. Helping them celebrate at their home, 14 Abeel street, were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rasch of Monticello, son-in-law and daughter, and Miss Barbara Cooper, their daughter, of New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Goldfarb of 47 Lounsbery Place were honored on their 45th wedding anniversary Monday, May 30, with a cocktail party and dinner in the Statler Hotel in New York city, hosted by their children. Attending were Dr. and Mrs. Saul Goldfarb, Mr. and Mrs. George Goldfarb of Kingston, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Goldfarb of Akron, O., Mr. and Mrs. A. Soberman, Mr. and Mrs. L. Samberg, Mr. and Mrs. M. Goldfarb, Mr. and Mrs. A. Glassman, Mr. and Mrs. I. Goldfarb, Mrs. H. Webber of New York city, and Ned and Peter Goldfarb.

Wishing Him Well!

Dr. Thomas S. Ingara of 145 Wall street, who will be leaving Thursday for service with the Army as captain, was honored at a party at Judie's Restaurant by members of the staff and their wives, of both the Benedictine and Kingston hospitals. The buffet supper, held Thursday, May 26, was the occasion to present the doctor with a very useful gift of luggage. Dr. Anthony L. Mauceri was in charge of arrangements.

Dr. and Mrs. Ingarra are spending two days in New York city visiting relatives and friends, before he drives to Fort Sam Houston, Tex., to report for duty. Mrs. Ingarra will stay in Kingston for the present.

Wedding Bells in the Distance

A dinner and shower honored Miss Theodora Venditti of 46 Washington avenue, at Judie's, Tuesday evening, May 31. She will be married to Michael Biszick, of Poughkeepsie, Sunday, June 12. There were 40 guests attending.

Miss Helen Ehman, who is receptionist at Radio Station WKNY, was honored at a dinner and shower at Judie's, Wednesday, June 1. She will be wed Sunday, June 19. Attending the social evening were Dorothy Narel, Helen Jacobson, Augusta Steen, Evelyn Dion, Bernadette Wiands, Bereniece De Wells and Vivian Rider.

Knick-Knack Shelves Will Be Bare

If the Junior League Exchange Knick-Knack luncheon doesn't bring forth a rain of ash trays, dish towels, candelabra and house aprons, then the committee will be very surprised. The luncheon will be held at Judie's Monday at 1 p. m., with a very cordial invitation to the public to attend.

Details of this event (which will benefit the social agencies project of the League) may be yours for the asking by chatting with anyone at the Junior League Exchange, 45 Crown street. If you don't have time to drop in, phone for the information. Mrs. James Quinn is chairman of this event.

Chiefs Convene

Fire Chief Joseph Murphy of this city is attending the New York State Fire Chiefs' Association convention at Scaroon Manor, Schroon Lake, which began Sunday, and will close Wednesday. He will be in town for the big parade and drum corps contest to be held here Saturday, June 18.

Kingston Officer at West Point Reunion

Col. Raymond Marsh, a native of Kingston, attended the luncheon and dinner Monday of the class of 1915 at West Point, which President Eisenhower, as a '15 graduate, attended as honored guest.

A graduate of Ulster Academy, Col. Marsh, with Mrs. Marsh, is spending the week visiting relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Copeland Gates of Lake Katrine and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, Sr., of 256 West Chestnut street. Now retired and living in La Plata, Md., Col. Marsh was with the Army of Occupation in Frankfurt, Germany, following active wartime service.

Their daughter is the wife of Col. Frank Smith, stationed with the army in Smyrna, Turkey. A son, Capt. Raymond Marsh, Jr., is stationed with the Army in Tokyo, Japan.

Citizens Should Aid Defense, Theme Of Meeting of DAR

"Every citizen who enjoys the protection of a free government owes his personal services to the defense of it," was the theme of the recent first regional conference of Districts 3 and 9 of the DAR.

Major H. Edgar Timmerman, acting deputy director of Ulster-Kingston Defense, outlined the plans of his committee for the safety and intelligent methods to be used in case of attack. He spoke following the luncheon at the afternon session at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Major Timmerman also paid high tribute to the late Major John G. M. Hilton, his predecessor, outlining the fine work done in the position.

Harry Rigby, 1952 chairman of Kingston's 300th anniversary, the next speaker, cited Kingston's early settlement as the "cradle and testing ground" of the America as we know it today.

In tracing the early history of this area, he emphasized that "good solid middle class skilled artisans" were the original home builders in this area.

THE BRITISH called Kingston a "nursery for almost every villain in the country," with the word "villain" describing men who would dare take up arms to defend their right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The highwater mark of the British advance up the Hudson was at Kingston.

Mr. Rigby concluded by urging vigilance by all, and praising the stand of the DAR, their "vision and determination."

Commander L. R. P. Lawford, of the British frigate, HMS Veryan Bay, introduced to the luncheon group, admitted he was "in a rather tight spot." Mayor Frederick H. Stang introduced the guest as on who in bygone days might not have been welcomed by the DAR because of his British ancestry, and the part which had been taken in the Revolution. The Veryan Bay officers and crew members were guests here last week.

The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra gave the invocation. Mrs. John G. M. Hilton, chairman, president of Hudson Valley Council and regent of Saugerties Chapter, introduced the other guests: Mrs. Harold E. Erb, state regent, Mrs. Lyle Johnston Howland, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ivan Johnson, consulting registrar, Mrs. Carl Crittenden, historian, Mrs. Henry R. Sheldon, custodian, and Mrs. Ray L. Erb, national defense. Mrs. William Ochs led the pledge of allegiance.

Miss Dorothy Marable, accompanied by Mrs. Franklin Pierce, sang three selections.

The morning session was held at the Old Dutch Church, with the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool offering invocation.

Mrs. Harold E. Erb, state regent, urged the DAR members to "do everything to protect the American future." She appointed Mrs. Hilton as chairman of the new Civil Defense Committee, with Mrs. Adam H. Porter as vice chairman.

Mrs. Donald B. Adams spoke for the CAR state meeting, to be held in New York.

The conference committee included Mrs. Hilton, chairman, and Mrs. Raymond R. Gross, vice chairman, regent of Wiltwyck Chapter, DAR.

The arrangements committee included Mmes. J. James Soechting, Maynard Mizel, Adam H. Porter, John Schleede, Alfred Harder, Conrad Gross, William Ochs, Clarence Beehler, Walter Tremper, Robert MacKinnon, Charles Terwilliger, Louis Francello and Miss Carolyn Newkirk and Miss Virginia Curtis.

Miss Ruth Behrens, Addams McAllister Wed in Sage Chapel

The wedding of Miss Ruth Evelyn Behrens and Addams Stratton McAllister took place Saturday, May 7 at 2:30 p. m. in the Sage Chapel at Cornell University, Ithaca. The Rev. Walter A. Dodds, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Ithaca, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, of 108 Oak Hill Road, Ithaca, is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Charles Neville Behrens of River Road, Ulster Park. The bridegroom, of 123 Heights Court, Ithaca, is the son of Mrs. Addams Stratton McAllister of Rose Dale, Covington, Va., and also the late Mr. McAllister.

William A. Austin, professor in the Department of Music, Cornell University, was organist for the ceremony. His selections were: Processional, Overture to Handel's Water Music; Recessional, March from Mendelssohn's "A Midsummer Night's Dream"; Pastorale by Milhaud; Pastorale by Arthur Foote; Chorale Preludes by Brahms, "Deck Thyself My Soul With Gladness," "A Rose Has Blossomed," "My Heart Is Full of Longing," and "Blessed Are the Faithful."

D. Keith Falkner, also a professor in the Department of Music at Cornell University, was soloist. He sang the selections "Where E'er You Walk," by Handel: "God Is My Shepherd," by Dvorak; and "I Love My God Merrily," by Bullock.

Palms, baskets of gladiolas and pompons and snapdragons formed the floral setting for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ballerina length white nylon tulle trimmed with imported Chantilly lace, sequins and seed pearls in a band around the hips and on the molded bodice, and fashioned with a scalloped V neck and cap sleeves. A fingertip veil was secured to a Juliet cap of matching lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white and pink roses.

Mrs. Millard S. Neiger of 160 Longwood avenue, Boston, Mass., was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a waltz length gown of pink net styled with cap sleeves and a V neck, white cap and mitts, and pink shoes. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Sheryl Ann Neiger, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress of blue nylon organdy with a bertha collar and white accessories, and carried a basket of yellow roses.

Alfred E. Edelman of Ithaca and Brooklyn, a student in the College of Architecture at Cornell, served as best man. He designed the wedding rings for the couple.

The ushers were R. Alan Lincoln, Ithaca and Los Angeles, Calif., and John N. Bartholomew of Ithaca and Rochester, both students at Cornell University.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Willard Straight Hall dining room, Cornell, for 50 guests. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. R. Alan Lincoln of Ithaca and Pearl River, graduate, and Mrs. Leonard A. Mende, Ithaca and New Hyde Park, student at Cornell, and Miss Sarah B. McAllister of Madison College for Teachers.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and received a bachelor of arts degree in June, 1954, from Cornell University, College of Arts and Sciences, Department of Music. She is now associated with Department of Agricultural Economics, New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Covington (Va.) High School, will receive the BEE degree this month from the Cornell University College of Electrical Engineering. He will begin study for a master of science degree at Cornell in the fall. He is a member of the honorary fraternities, Eta Kappa Nu, Tau Beta Pi, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Mr. and Mrs. McAllister are living at 706 East Seneca street, Ithaca, while the bridegroom completes the spring school term. They will spend the summer in St. Louis, Mo.

Garden Setting for Tea

Mrs. Gavin Cullen who was hostess at tea last week for IBM wives, will be guest of honor Wednesday afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. Raymond R. Gross, at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Invitations sent out by the hostess announce the event from 3 to 5 o'clock. If the sun shines, the lovely gardens will be the perfect setting for the tea. If the weather is uncooperative, the guests will be served in the lounge.

Surprises in Store for Superintendent

"Pleasant surprises are in store for Mr. Laidlaw" was the only comment offered on the program for the testimonial dinner honoring the retiring superintendent of schools, by Mrs. Donovan Buehring, (secret) program chairman. She did say the dinner will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Retiring after 45 years in educational administration, Arthur J. Laidlaw has served as superintendent of schools in Kingston since 1939.

Raymond H. Van Valkenburgh, principal of School No. 4, is general chairman of the dinner. M. Clifford Miller, principal of MJM, and Stephen Hyatt, principal of School No. 6, are on the arrangements committee. Mrs. George L. Dingee, School No. 7 principal, is chairman of decorations committee. Theron Culver, principal of Kingston High School, heads the gift committee. Staging and properties are in charge of Richard McLean, head of maintenance, Kingston public schools.

Dog Fanciers

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Leventhal took the day off to attend the Morris-Essex Kennel Club show at Giralda Farms Estate, Madison, N. J., last Thursday. They were guests of Larry Swars, and enjoyed the wind-swept outdoor show. Ch. Baroque of Quality Hill was the first boxer in history to be honored with best in show, at the event.

Globe-Trotting Artists

Robert Wolfersteig, who is with the Navy at the Bermuda base, is flying to New York Wednesday, and his wife Eloise, is entraining from Baltimore, Md., for their joint concert at the Old Dutch Church Saturday evening.

Mrs. Wolfersteig, a talented soprano, will have to return to Port Deposit, Md., to complete her faculty chores then will fly with her husband to Bermuda on June 18. They will live there until he completes Navy enlistment in August, '56.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, who will be here for the concert, are hosting a bon voyage party for the young couple the eve before departure, at their Brooklyn home. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wolfersteig of Connelly, are planning to attend both events (of course!) and are thinking of a vacation on the island come cold weather.

Recent Visitors in Town

In Kingston over the three-day holiday and more recently were Mr. and Mrs. James Philip, and son, James Jr., of Newark, N. J., visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dittmar. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Connelly and children of Albany, visiting their parents. . . . Miss Rosemary Murphy, of New York city, visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Murphy of 17 Henry street. . . . And Miss Anne Leahy of Albany who spent the three-day holiday visiting friends and relatives here. . . . Mr. and Mrs. John Liccardo were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williams of 57 Crown street prior to leaving for Miami, Fla., where they have purchased a motel.

Happy Anniversary!

Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cooper who marked their 34th wedding anniversary Thursday, May 26. Helping them celebrate at their home, 14 Abeel street, were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rasch of Monticello, son-in-law and daughter, and Miss Barbara Cooper, their daughter, of New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Goldfarb of 47 Lounsbery Place were honored on their 45th wedding anniversary Monday, May 30, with a cocktail party and dinner in the Statler Hotel in New York city, hosted by their children. Attending were Dr. and Mrs. Saul Goldfarb, Mr. and Mrs. George Goldfarb of Kingston, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Goldfarb of Akron, O., Mr. and Mrs. A. Soberman, Mr. and Mrs. L. Samberg, Mr. and Mrs. M. Goldfarb, Mr. and Mrs. A. Glassman, Mr. and Mrs. I. Goldfarb, Mrs. H. Webber of New York city, and Ned and Peter Goldfarb.

Wishing Him Well!

Dr. Thomas S. Ingara of 145 Wall street, who will be leaving Thursday for service with the Army as captain, was honored at a party at Judie's Restaurant by members of the staff and their wives, of both the Benedictine and Kingston hospitals. The buffet supper, held Thursday, May 26, was the occasion to present the doctor with a very useful gift of luggage. Dr. Anthony L. Mauceri was in charge of arrangements.

Dr. and Mrs. Ingarra are spending two days in New York city visiting relatives and friends, before he drives to Fort Sam Houston, Tex., to report for duty. Mrs. Ingarra will stay in Kingston for the present.

Wedding Bells in the Distance

A dinner and shower honored Miss Theodora Venditti of 46 Washington avenue, at Judie's, Tuesday evening, May 31. She will be married to Michael Biszick, of Poughkeepsie, Sunday, June 12. There were 40 guests attending.

Miss Helen Ehman, who is receptionist at Radio Station WKNY, was honored at a dinner and shower at Judie's, Wednesday, June 1. She will be wed Sunday, June 19. Attending the social evening were Dorothy Narel, Helen Jacobson, Augusta Steen, Evelyn Dion, Bernadette Wiands, Bereniece De Wells and Vivian Rider.

Man's Jacket vs Woman's Jacket

A man writes: "I read your column every day and agree with 99 per cent of your answers, but I disagree, very definitely, with you when you say that it is perfectly proper for a woman to remove the jacket of her suit while a man must keep his on even in torrid weather. You say that a woman's blouse is made to be seen and a man's shirt is not so intended. I have often wondered how such a misconception was ever established in the public mind. I think that a man's shirt with a neat tie is so much neater than a woman's blouse. I have seen so many women's blouses that were messy, sloppy and altogether too revealing. One type particularly offensive is the very sheer blouse that reveals the unsightly straps of undergarments. A man never commits such bad taste. A woman is shocked if a man doesn't wear a coat yet that same woman will wear a very revealing blouse. Does it make sense? I hope that after reading this letter you will change your mind about the 'coatless man.'"

When I said that it was proper for a woman to remove her jacket, I was not referring to the scanty "see-through" blouses, and I agree with you that with this type of blouse the jacket should be left on. But as a rule a woman's blouse is quite lovely and in no way compares to a man's shirt.

Must He Pay?

Dear Mrs. Post: When a man is asked to join two women friends who are already lunching, must he feel obliged to pay their checks? I mean, could he be considered "cheap" if he made no attempt to do this?

Answer: It is not his obligation to pay their checks and I can't imagine that they would consider him cheap for not doing so.

Saying "Sir"

Dear Mrs. Post: Does a gentleman ever grow too old to say "Yes sir" to elders?

Answer: Everywhere in the polite world, a gentleman says "Yes sir" to other gentlemen who are much older until he himself becomes one of the eldest generation, and then younger men say it to him.

Is it permissible to cut a leafy salad with a knife? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-19, "Table Rules of Importance," will help you. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Marshal Suspended

New York, June 7 (AP)—Asst. Fire Marshal Irving Rothenberg has been suspended from his job and faces a fire department trial on charges of selling fire insurance on the side. The fire official's alleged link with the insurance business was discovered at a Queens furniture store blaze Saturday that resulted in the store owners being arrested on charges of arson. A fire department spokesman said last night that Rothenberg revealed his alleged insurance connections when he make a chance remark to another assistant fire marshal, saying, "this fellow (the furniture company owner) is a friend of mine. I think I sold him insurance." The fire was the second one for the furniture firm in 29 months. Owner William Smith, 47, and his partner were charged with arson.

IS YOUR HUSBAND A BIG WHEEL ?

Kingston, N. Y., June 7—Most men aren't above doing a little bragging . . . and if your husband is like most men he wants his wife to come up to his bragging as far as possible.

We don't know how good a braggart your husband is, but we are positive we can put the truth in a lot of his claims about your beauty. Why not let us try?

MICKEY'S Beauty & Barber Shop, 50 N. Front St., Phone 3275. Closed Mondays. Open Tues. & Thurs. evenings. Our shop is air conditioned for your comfort.

Bridal lingerie this year comes dress length or full length, is lavished with lace or simply tailored, is print or plain, looks fragile and is actually incredibly sturdy and easy to maintain. Lace-lavished bridal set (left) in sheer nylon tricot has gown with lace-bordered camisole top. The skirt is split up the front to show off deep rows of lace ruffles on the underskirt. Same lace ruffles form deep cape below the yoke of peignoir. Lace trimmed dacron-and-cotton peignoir (center) has youthful look. Big cape collar is lace edged twice to create effect of double collar. Floral print (right) is used for full-length robe in airy nylon sheer over plain nylon. Flowing tie is nylon velvet. All three launder in minutes, drip dry, need no ironing.

Wedding gown for the junior bride (left) is ankle-length, combines Val lace with nylon tulle. Bands of nylon lace form snug bodice and double layers of nylon tulle make the bouffant skirt. Simple but elegant costume for the informal wedding (right) is in tapestry lace, a mixture of wool and nylon. This is a fragile-looking fabric that has great strength, will retain its shape. Sheath dress is sleeveless, scoop-necked. We show it in mauve.

tion Committee as well as a program for the wives of the firemen attending the convention; the annual association's program of entertainment, and a colorful firemen's parade on Saturday afternoon in which several thousand firemen, together with apparatus and musical units, will participate.

Saturday evening, the Port Ewen Drum and Bugle Corps will present a "Pageant of Champions" at Dietz Memorial Stadium in conjunction with the convention. The contest will feature national and state American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

Convention headquarters will be maintained in the Governor Clinton Hotel while all business sesssions will be in the Elks Club.

FOLLOWING the memorial service at the Thursday morning session, President Anthony DeLisio will give his annual address, touching on the affairs of the organization. Nominations of officers will take place and other business will be transacted. Thursday evening a dance for delegates, members and their wives, will be held in the Elks Club.

Friday's session will open at 10 a. m. with President DeLisio presiding and will consist principally of business. Various officers of the Firemen's Association of the State of New York, and of county and sectional firemanic organizations will be seated on the platform, as well as other guests. Reports of officers and committee chairmen will be given; election of officers will take place, and a convention site for 1955 will be selected.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, delegates and members of the Association will be entertained by the Kingston convention committee, and in the evening, the association will present a program of entertainment. Wives of the firemen who attend the convention will be entertained Friday afternoon.

The Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association organized on July 1, 1890, at Coxsackie, now boasts of a membership of nearly 2,000 members, including about 500 fire companies in the counties of Albany, Columbia, Dutchess, Greene, Orange, Putnam, Rensselaer, Rockland, Saratoga, Schenectady, Sullivan, Ulster, Washington, Warren and Westchester.

100 Day Campers Ready for Start

The YMCA Day Camp will begin its 13th season Monday, June 27, as announced by Lou Schafer, Day Camp director and "Y" general secretary, this morning.

Many applications are coming in daily with more than 100 signed for the 1955 season. The Day Camp is for boys and girls between the ages of 5 years to 14 years. Applications have been sent to many children throughout the Kingston area, but any parent or child interested in Day Camp can get an application or special information the YMCA office.

LEADERS and counsellors were at camp last Saturday along with Mr. Schafer. The order of the day was the cleaning of the camp play area and the renovating of the two wooden cabins. Following lunch the leaders met for a counsellor training session. This was followed by the season's first swim for the group.

William Irland, "Y" physical director will assist Mr. Schafer at camp this season. Mr. Irland is a graduate of Syracuse University and is now in this fourth year in YMCA work and camping. With the two expert adult instructors, two college girls, who are both studying Early Child Education, and the rest of the 12 leaders group; the YMCA Day Camp should have one of the most outstanding summer programs ever promoted by the Kingston Young Men's Christian Association.

W. L. Burnett, owner of the lake used for the Day Camp swimming area, has the entire water front cleaned and improved. He also has a new pier with one of the latest collegiate diving boards. Many new aluminum boats have been purchased which will add greatly to the recreation and good times at the YMCA Day Camp water front. Camp Director Schafer stresses two particular points for safety when in swimming and boating. 1. Counsellors in boats with boys and girls that are non-swimmers. 2. Leaders in boats with boys and girls who have passed swimming tests. This means that all boating is under leadership at all times. The YMCA National Aquatic tests will be given to all campers this summer. There are four groupings, starting with the beginner, going through three other advanced stages of swimming skills leading to life saving. All four stages have national awards and national cards, the latter including the 10 skills accomplished in that particular category. This is considered the best swimming program promoted in the U. S.

Union Plan . . .

Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Inland. The six employ more than 400,000 of the 600,000 USW members in basic steel.

This marks the first time in the union's history that its president is heading negotiations with all six producers. Past practice was for the USW head to lead the U. S. Steel talks with district directors handling the others.

Under a two-year contract signed last year, current bargaining is limited to present wage rates. The guaranteed annual wage will play no part in these talks.

IF NO AGREEMENT is reached by June 30, the union will be free to strike. Most observers consider this a remote possibility.

The USW negotiating committee yesterday stated "unanimous determination to achieve a substantial wage increase before the wage agreement expires June 30."

McDonald said the union is prepared to "meet day and night if necessary to conclude mutually satisfactory agreements."

Industry officials have made it clear they will offset any wage boost by increasing the cost of steel, now priced at about $125 a ton. This could mean a higher price tag on many consumer and industrial goods utilizing steel in their manufacture.

Agreements worked out with the six major producers will be used as the basis for upcoming talks with 90 other smaller basic steel and ore mining firms covered in some 170 contracts.

To Study Reconciliation

London, June 7 (AP)—The big western allies and Yugoslavia have arranged to consider the political consequences of Russia's reconciliation with Yugoslavia at a conference in Belgrade June 24, western officials reported today. American, British and French ambassadors will take part in the discussions, together with chiefs of the Yugoslav Foreign Ministry. An official announcement is expected shortly.

Boy Scout News

TROOP 6, sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Kingston, captured first place in the 1955 Council Camporee of the Rip Van Winkle Council Boy Scouts of America, last weekend at Camp TriMont in East Jewett. There were 576 Scouts, Explorers, and leaders from 35 Troops and Explorer Posts participating in the camporee.

Following the winning Troop 6, scoring 68½ points out of a possible 80, was Troop 9 of the Redeemer Lutheran Church of Kingston. Third place ended in in a tie between Troop 26, sponsored by the Port Ewen Reformed Church and Troop 47 sponsored by the Dutch Arms Society of Catskill.

Sherwood Lasher, new Council Commissioner, presented the trophies to the winning troops. Each troop was responsible for it own equipment, menu, food handling and cooking, and the set up of their campsite and clearing up following the end of the Camporee.

INSPECTIONS of units brought 100 per cent to Troop 12 of Kingston, and Troops 74 and 78 of New Paltz. Nine units received 98 per cent, which indicates on increase in efficiency over previous Camporees. Inspectors were Gordon A. Graig Jr., Edward Safford, and Thomas Orr, commissioners of the Kingston District.

Saturday afternoon an "Adventure Trail" was held through the mountains behind the camp. At various stations on the trail the participants were given problems in knot tying, compass work, knife and axe handling, fire building, first aid, signalling, tracking, and nature. This competition was set up and conducted on a Patrol basis under the leadership of individual patrol leaders.

While the troops were involved in the "Adventure Trail," the Explorer Posts had the problem of mapping a section of Camp which was never thoroughly surveyed at any prior time. The most accurate map was submitted by Post 130, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Saugerties, with William Plimley as Explorer Advisor. Plans for this event were arranged by Richard Waltman, Advison of Post 11 of Kingston.

A Council Campfire was held Saturday night which numbered a fine attendance of parents and friends of Scouting. The Order of the Arrow, honorary camping fraternity of the Boy Scouts of America, presented the opening and closing ceremonies for this campfire.

Envoy to Make Report

Man's Jacket vs Woman's Jacket

A man writes: "I read your column every day and agree with 99 per cent of your answers, but I disagree, very definitely, with you when you say that it is perfectly proper for a woman to remove the jacket of her suit while a man must keep his on even in torrid weather. You say that a woman's blouse is made to be seen and a man's shirt is not so intended. I have often wondered how such a misconception was ever established in the public mind. INSPECTIONS of units brought 100 per cent to Troop 12 of Kingston, and Troops 74 and 78 of New Paltz. Nine units received 98 per cent, which indicates on increase in efficiency over previous Camporees. Inspectors were Gordon A. Graig Jr., Edward Safford, and Thomas Orr, commissioners of the Kingston District.

Saturday afternoon an "Adventure Trail" was held through the mountains behind the camp. At various stations on the trail the participants were given problems in knot tying, compass work, knife and axe handling, fire building, first aid, signalling, tracking, and nature. This competition was set up and conducted on a Patrol basis under the leadership of individual patrol leaders.

While the troops were involved in the "Adventure Trail," the Explorer Posts had the problem of mapping a section of Camp which was never thoroughly surveyed at any prior time. The most accurate map was submitted by Post 130, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Saugerties, with William Plimley as Explorer Advisor. Plans for this event were arranged by Richard Waltman, Advison of Post 11 of Kingston.

A Council Campfire was held Saturday night which numbered a fine attendance of parents and friends of Scouting. The Order of the Arrow, honorary camping fraternity of the Boy Scouts of America, presented the opening and closing ceremonies for this campfire.

Envoy to Make Report

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, June 7 (AP) — James W. Riddleberger, U. S. ambassador to Yugoslavia, will fly to Washington tomorrow for consultations. It is assumed here the consultations will primarily concern talks last week between President Tito and Soviet leaders seeking reconciliation with Yugoslavia.

Motorship Sinks

Copenhagen, Denmark, June 7 (AP)—The 5,414-ton Swedish motorship Saivo sank today 14 miles northeast of Bornholm in the Baltic after colliding in dense fog with the 11,197-ton Panama steamer Windward Islands. The Panama steamer rescued the Swedish crew of 32 and headed for Stockholm.

Police Guard Plane

Hong Kong, June 7 (AP)—The plane carrying Prime Minister Ali Sastroamidjojo of Indonesia home from a visit to Red China was surrounded by a heavy police guard during a 90 minute stopover here today. Reporters and photographers were kept at a distance.

240 HORSEPOWER PACKARD 'PATRICIAN'—"ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE"

SMOOTHS THE ROAD... LEVELS THE LOAD—Automatically

Rest assured . . . with Packard Torsion-Level Suspension you get the most relaxing, most reassuring ride on any road today!

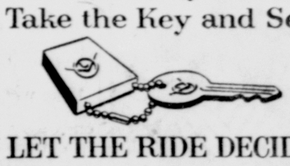

Packard eliminated conventional coil and leaf springs, and designed Torsion-Level Suspension not just for cushioning effect, but to absorb all twisting forces due to up-and-down wheel movement . . . the same twisting forces that in other cars pitch and bounce the passengers, wrack the car frame and body.

A unique power-controlled Levelizer keeps the car automatically at ideal ride level, no matter what the passenger or luggage load.

Packard created a new "free-breathing" V-8 engine, unleashing up to 275 horsepower, and delivering more driving force to the rear wheels at all road speeds than any car! Packard's Twin Ultramatic, smoothest of all automatic transmissions, gives you your choice of starts!

The new Packard is a matchless blend of grace and spirit, luxury and good taste . . . truly, the one new car in the fine car field. Let us arrange a revealing test ride for you today!

Ancient Still

London, Ky. (AP) — Sheriff Harve Steel has found that moonshine still which vanished 37 years ago. When Steele spotted the still during his first term in office in 1918, he left it unmolested in hopes of catching the moonshiners. But when he returned to the wooded area the next day, the still had vanished. The 85-year-old sheriff was sitting in his office recently when deputies brought in a still. It was the same elaborate one Steele had remembered all these years. The moonshiners still weren't around.

tendent of the Board of Public Works, said the fence would be about eight feet high, of meshed wire with a non-climable top. The compartments will be arranged in such a way that all animals and all birds will have cover, can "get out of the weather." The gates will be arranged in a manner permitting movement of the animals without taking them out of the main enclosure.

BIRDS IN the zoo will be supplied by A. H. Chambers who operates a large dairy farm near the new IBM plant in the town of Ulster. Chambers has provided birds in the past, including tropical peacocks and pheasants.

Mayor Stang paid tribute to Mr. Chambers, pointing out that he provided the birds without charge, changed them when he deemed it necessary, etc.

THE ONLY cost to the city for the birds or animals will be for feed. No additional park force will be required. At present two men are in charge of the park and zoo.

The birds will be caged in the four smaller compartments.

Steuding told The Freeman the Mr. Lindermann, who provides hoofed animals and ostriches to zoos all over the United States, has visited Kingston recently and has been very much impressed with zoo facilities. "Due to his being a neighbor he agreed to supply all animals needed to fill the zoo."

HE EXPLAINED that the animals would be changed from time to time. On each cage will be a sign providing information about the animals in that compartment.

Steuding said he hoped it might be possible to get some bear cubs from the game farm in the near future, perhaps by means of an exchange for the large black bear now at Forsyth Park. The bear in about 20 years old.

All that Linderman asks, Steuding pointed out, is that offspring of animals he supplies become his. The animals will be brought down during the week of June 19. When they are delivered Mr. Linderman will be present to supervise unloading and will provide the keepers with complete instructions for care of the animals.

Steuding said Mr. Linderman had been very generous and that the city could get "almost anything he's got" for use in the Forsyth Park zoo.

THE PERSIAN Karakul sheep is a native of Central Asia. The newborn lambs have beautiful tight-curled pelts used in the manufacture of women's Persian lamb coats.

The Aoudad is a Barbary sheep, the only wild type found in Africa, inhabiting the mountainous regions in the northern part of the continent, extending south as far as the Sudan. Its distinguishing characteristic is the absence of face glands. It has goat-like horns.

THE LLAMA is the only member of the camel family in the Western Hemisphere. Its principal habitat is Peru where it is used as a beast of burden. It is valuable for its fine wool. In can go without water and with little food for many days.

THE BISON, commonly known as buffalo, will be placed in a special compartment reinforced with heavy pipe railing to keep the animals at least three feet away from the oustide fence. This buffalo populated the western prairies in the countless millions before it was practically destroyed by hunters. Its meat is excellent and compares favorably with our beef.

THE KANGAROO is a native of Australia. The young remain in the mother's pouch for a long time after birth. Sometimes they grow to a height of eight feet.

The ostrich is the world's largest living bird, growing sometimes to a height of eight feet. They have been known to weigh up to 300 pounds, are fleet of foot and valuable for their feathers.

The ostrich makes a noise which sounds much like the roar of a lion.

CHURCH LEADER — Mrs. Gertrude W. Eiseman of Boston has been named president of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, at the annual meeting in Boston. A native of New York city, Mrs. Eiseman has been active in church work for many years. (AP Wirephoto).

Hobby Expert

Million Shots Are Released

Washington, June 7 (AP) — The government has given the sputtering antipolio inoculation program a shot in the arm with clearance of enough fresh Salk vaccine for about a million more doses.

U. S. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele announced late yesterday the approval for immediate distribution of some one million cubic centimeters of vaccine made by Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis.

A FEW HOURS later, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis — which is paying for the mass immunization of first and second grade children — instructed the Lilly firm to ship cleared supplies by "the quickest possible route" to New Jersey, Maine, Montana, North and South Dakota. Children in these states have yet to receive their first shots in a projected three-shot series.

At the same time, Dr. G. Foard McGinnes, National Foundation consultant who wired the hurry-up shipment orders to Lilly, said in Atlantic City, N. J., the drug firm would be asked today to send vaccine out of the same million-shot supply to eight southern and western states where it would be used for second doses. He listed these states as Florida, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Arizona and New Mexico.

THE GOVERNMENT and the Foundation are aiming at getting two shots into as many of the first and second graders as possible before the polio season reaches its late summer peak. A third "booster" shot is planned for seven months later.

In his announcement yesterday, Scheele said the million or so CC's "met the retesting procedures for vaccine which has already been produced. . . ."

This was the first newly made vaccine to be released under stiffer production and testing safety standards recently adopted by scientific advisers to the Public Health Service and subsequently accepted by the six licensed vaccine manufacturers.

Some supplies, already distributed and in large part used, were re-cleared in mid-May after doublechecks by health service scientists. Still more were re-cleared last week after adoption of the tighter requirements.

Second Innocent Plea Is Registered In Entry Cases

Gerald Jerome Sauer of Route 28, was arraigned in County Court this morning on a charge of burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry. There were two indictments, one charging acts on April 18 and also April 10, 1955. Sauer and others were involved allegedly in gas station entrances. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant, a plea of innocent was entered, 20 days granted for motions and bail was continued. Robert Milton Peterson, Kingston, was jointly indicted with Sauer for the April 18 charge. He entered a plea of innocent Monday.

Thomas McCardle, formerly of West Hurley, appeared in court and entered a plea of guilty to unlawful discharge of a firearm. McCardle has been charged with having held at bay police officers at his place in West Hurley some time ago and endangering the officers. Charles Gaffney appeared for McCardle. He told the court McCardle had been examined by doctors from Middletown State Hospital and their opinion was that at the time McCardle was suffering from the effects of alcoholism and a drug which he was taking as a sedative and that at the time of the act he did not know the difference between right and wrong and did not know what he was doing. He told the court under those circumstances it was problematical whether a conviction could be had.

McCardle has since sold his property, discontinued his business and for the past year had rehabilitated himself to the extent he has caused no further trouble. The defendant plans to move from the state and begin anew.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John told the court those facts were true and he consented to the acceptance of the plea offered. However, he said the acts could not be condoned, that police officers had risked their lives in the fracas but he felt acceptance of the plea would meet the ends of justice.

Judge Cashin, in view of the fact that McCardle is moving from the state, suspended any imposition of sentence at this time and warned the defendant any new trouble would invoke a year sentence in jail. The second count of the indictment was dismissed and bail exonerated.

Court recessed until 10 o'clock Wednesday.

Here's where all that wonderful performance begins!

The way it sweeps uphill or down with the same effortless ease. The tremendous burst of passing power that answers the nudge of your toe. The thought-quick response in stop-and-go traffic that makes the car seem part of you. The smooth, quiet way it goes about its business however hard or far you drive.

Lift the hood of a Pontiac and you'll be face to face with the reason. That compact power plant nested there may look much like other V-8's—but that's where your eyes deceive you!

The Strato-Streak V-8 is in a class all by itself—filled with engineering "firsts" that make it the mightiest engine ever to appear in Pontiac's price field. And it's one of the many Pontiac advantages you can't get anywhere else. Pontiac alone gives you the terrific drive of Strato-Streak performance.

This sensational performance, remember, comes in a distinguished, future-fashioned beauty that is tagged with a price any new-car buyer can readily afford.

Here's your wide-open invitation to come in and try the result—the fastest-selling Pontiac of all time. The car is ready whenever you are! Make it soon.

Most Modern Engine in Any Car

THE STRATO-STREAK V-8

The Strato-Streak V-8 is one of the great landmarks of automotive progress—the newest and most advanced engine you can buy. Standard with all three lines of Pontiacs, it develops 180 H.P. and reaches a blazing 200 H.P. with the four-barrel carburetor, optional at extra cost. Either way you get the most power per dollar delivered by any car at any price.

Ancient Still

London, Ky. (AP) — Sheriff Harve Steel has found that moonshine still which vanished 37 years ago. When Steele spotted the still during his first term in office in 1918, he left it unmolested in hopes of catching the moonshiners. But when he returned to the wooded area the next day, the still had vanished.

The 85-year-old sheriff was sitting in his office recently when deputies brought in a still. It was the same elaborate one Steele had remembered all these years. The moonshiners still weren't around.

Variety of . . .

tendent of the Board of Public Works, said the fence would be about eight feet high, of meshed wire with a non-climable top. The compartments will be arranged in such a way that all animals and all birds will have cover, can "get out of the weather." The gates will be arranged in a manner permitting movement of the animals without taking them out of the main enclosure.

BIRDS IN the zoo will be supplied by A. H. Chambers who operates a large dairy farm near the new IBM plant in the town of Ulster. Chambers has provided birds in the past, including tropical peacocks and pheasants.

Mayor Stang paid tribute to Mr. Chambers, pointing out that he provided the birds without charge, changed them when he deemed it necessary, etc.

THE ONLY cost to the city for the birds or animals will be for feed. No additional park force will be required. At present two men are in charge of the park and zoo.

The birds will be caged in the four smaller compartments.

Steuding told The Freeman the Mr. Lindermann, who provides hoofed animals and ostriches to zoos all over the United States, has visited Kingston recently and has been very much impressed with zoo facilities. "Due to his being a neighbor he agreed to supply all animals needed to fill the zoo."

HE EXPLAINED that the animals would be changed from time to time. On each cage will be a sign providing information about the animals in that compartment.

Steuding said he hoped it might be possible to get some bear cubs from the game farm in the near future, perhaps by means of an exchange for the large black bear now at Forsyth Park. The bear in about 20 years old.

All that Linderman asks, Steuding pointed out, is that offspring of animals he supplies become his. The animals will be brought down during the week of June 19. When they are delivered Mr. Linderman will be present to supervise unloading and will provide the keepers with complete instructions for care of the animals.

Steuding said Mr. Linderman had been very generous and that the city could get "almost anything he's got" for use in the Forsyth Park zoo.

THE PERSIAN Karakul sheep is a native of Central Asia. The newborn lambs have beautiful tight-curled pelts used in the manufacture of women's Persian lamb coats.

The Aoudad is a Barbary sheep, the only wild type found in Africa, inhabiting the mountainous regions in the northern part of the continent, extending south as far as the Sudan. Its distinguishing characteristic is the absence of face glands. It has goat-like horns.

THE LLAMA is the only member of the camel family in the Western Hemisphere. Its principal habitat is Peru where it is used as a beast of burden. It is valuable for its fine wool. In can go without water and with little food for many days.

THE BISON, commonly known as buffalo, will be placed in a special compartment reinforced with heavy pipe railing to keep the animals at least three feet away from the oustide fence. This buffalo populated the western prairies in the countless millions before it was practically destroyed by hunters. Its meat is excellent and compares favorably with our beef.

THE KANGAROO is a native of Australia. The young remain in the mother's pouch for a long time after birth. Sometimes they grow to a height of eight feet.

The ostrich is the world's largest living bird, growing sometimes to a height of eight feet. They have been known to weigh up to 300 pounds, are fleet of foot and valuable for their feathers.

The ostrich makes a noise which sounds much like the roar of a lion.

Hobby Expert

Million Shots Are Released

Washington, June 7 (AP) — The government has given the sputtering antipolio inoculation program a shot in the arm with clearance of enough fresh Salk vaccine for about a million more doses.

U. S. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele announced late yesterday the approval for immediate distribution of some one million cubic centimeters of vaccine made by Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis.

A FEW HOURS later, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis — which is paying for the mass immunization of first and second grade children—instructed the Lilly firm to ship cleared supplies by "the quickest possible route" to New Jersey, Maine, Montana, North and South Dakota. Children in these states have yet to receive their first shots in a projected three-shot series.

At the same time, Dr. G. Foard McGinnes, National Foundation consultant who wired the hurry-up shipment orders to Lilly, said in Atlantic City, N. J., the drug firm would be asked today to send vaccine out of the same million-shot supply to eight southern and western states where it would be used for second doses. He listed these states as Florida, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Arizona and New Mexico.

THE GOVERNMENT and the Foundation are aiming at getting two shots into as many of the first and second graders as possible before the polio season reaches its late summer peak. A third "booster" shot is planned for seven months later.

In his announcement yesterday, Scheele said the million or so CC's "met the retesting procedures for vaccine which has already been produced. . . ."

This was the first newly made vaccine to be released under stiffer production and testing safety standards recently adopted by scientific advisers to the Public Health Service and subsequently accepted by the six licensed vaccine manufacturers.

Some supplies, already distributed and in large part used, were re-cleared in mid-May after doublechecks by health service scientists. Still more were re-cleared last week after adoption of the tighter requirements.

Second Innocent Plea Is Registered In Entry Cases

Gerald Jerome Sauer of Route 28, was arraigned in County Court this morning on a charge of burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry. There were two indictments, one charging acts on April 18 and also April 10, 1955. Sauer and others were involved allegedly in gas station entrances. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant, a plea of innocent was entered, 20 days granted for motions and bail was continued. Robert Milton Peterson, Kingston, was jointly indicted with Sauer for the April 18 charge. He entered a plea of innocent Monday.

Thomas McCardle, formerly of West Hurley, appeared in court and entered a plea of guilty to unlawful discharge of a firearm. McCardle has been charged with having held at bay police officers at his place in West Hurley some time ago and endangering the officers. Charles Gaffney appeared for McCardle. He told the court McCardle had been examined by doctors from Middletown State Hospital and their opinion was that at the time McCardle was suffering from the effects of alcoholism and a drug which he was taking as a sedative and that at the time of the act he did not know the difference between right and wrong and did not know what he was doing. He told the court under those circumstances it was problematical whether a conviction could be had.

McCardle has since sold his property, discontinued his business and for the past year had rehabilitated himself to the extent he has caused no further trouble. The defendant plans to move from the state and begin anew.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John told the court those facts were true and he consented to the acceptance of the plea offered. However, he said the acts could not be condoned, that police officers had risked their lives in the fracas but he felt acceptance of the plea would meet the ends of justice.

Judge Cashin, in view of the fact that McCardle is moving from the state, suspended any imposition of sentence at this time and warned the defendant any new trouble would invoke a year sentence in jail. The second count of the indictment was dismissed and bail exonerated.

Court recessed until 10 o'clock Wednesday.

Here's where all that wonderful performance begins!

They're all true—all the wonderful things you hear about Pontiac's great performance.

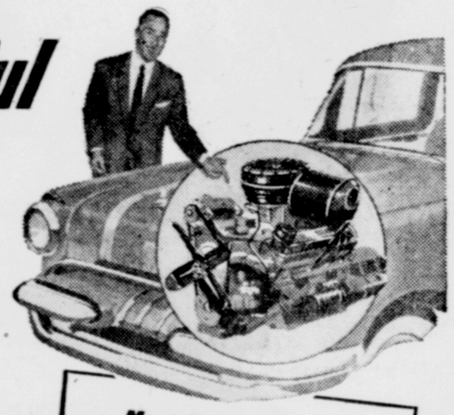

The way it sweeps uphill or down with the same effortless ease. The tremendous burst of passing power that answers the nudge of your toe. The thought-quick response in stop-and-go traffic that makes the car seem part of you. The smooth, quiet way it goes about its business however hard or far you drive.

Lift the hood of a Pontiac and you'll be face to face with the reason. That compact power plant nested there may look much like other V-8's—but that's where your eyes deceive you!

The Strato-Streak V-8 is in a class all by itself—filled with engineering "firsts" that make it the mightiest engine ever to appear in Pontiac's price field. And it's one of the many Pontiac advantages you can't get anywhere else. Pontiac alone gives you the terrific drive of Strato-Streak performance.

This sensational performance, remember, comes in a distinguished, future-fashioned beauty that is tagged with a price any new-car buyer can readily afford.

Here's your wide-open invitation to come in and try the result—the fastest-selling Pontiac of all time. The car is ready whenever you are! Make it soon.

Most Modern Engine in Any Car

THE STRATO-STREAK V-8

The Strato-Streak V-8 is one of the great landmarks of automotive progress—the newest and most advanced engine you can buy. Standard with all three lines of Pontiacs, it develops 180 H.P. and reaches a blazing 200 H.P. with the four-barrel carburetor, optional at extra cost. Either way you get the most power per dollar delivered by any car at any price.

High School Nine Whips Catskill, 9 to 2, in Season's Finale

Giannuzzi Scatters Ten Hits

Maines Socks Homer, Shelightner 3 Hits, Ashdown Keeps Streak

Kingston High closed out its 1955 baseball season on a triumphant note yesterday, polishing off Catskill, 9 to 2.

Staked to an early lead by some robust hitting by Bob Maines and Bob Shelightner, Coach Bill Burke had a chance to clear his bench and used 17 players.

LEROY GIANNUZZI went the distance for Kingston, yielding 10 hits but the swarthy southpaw was tough in clutch and accounted for nine strikeouts. He walked only one batter.

Maines boomed three hits in three trips, including a single, double and homer. Shelightner slammed a double and two singles. The pitcher-outfielder finihsed the season with a robust .441 average, tops on the team. Shelightner's three safeties gave him a final figure of .439.

A second inning single on his second trip to the plate enabled Ronnie Ashdown to achieve a record of hitting in all 12 games on the Kingston schedule.

MAINES POWERED his homer to deep right field behind Shelightner's single in the third inning. The Maroons collected 14 hits off three Catskill pitchers.

Lacey, Catskill first sacker, clubbed three singles and Chewens, the centerfielder, hit a single and triple, the latter accounting for a run in the seventh.

The locals had a season's record of 7 wins and 5 losses.

Saratoga Raceway Cards Nine Races

Saratoga Springs, June 7 (AP)—The Saratoga Raceway will conduct nine races a night during this year's summer meeting, Frank L. Wiswall, Raceway president, announced today.

The customary number is eight. The meeting begins Monday night and runs through Aug. 27. The nine-race program was tried on two nights at the end of last fall's meeting.

Big Name Casualties

Toski, Harrison Miss Qualifying for Open

BY ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

The big-name golfers who will be missing from the United States open championship this year could start a major tournament of their own.

Dutch Harrison . . . Ralph Guldahl . . . Bobby Knowles . . . Skee Riegel . . . Bob Toski . . . Dick Chapman . . . Jay Herbert . . . Fred Wampler.

They'll all be on the outside looking in as a result of yesterday's qualifying round. The U. S. Golf Association cut the list of exempt players severely this year with the thought in mind of giving the run-of-the-mill shotmaker a better chance of qualifying.

Only 17 players were exempt, which meant that most of the top stars had to take their chances on having a bad day.

(Northeastern PGA professionals of this district failed to gain a place at Baltusrol. Under the new setup, the Northeastern qualifying sectional in the Albany area was joined with the group at Baltusrol.)

MANY GOT through, of course. In fact, Chandler Harper, the 41-year-old pro from Portsmouth, Va., toured the Columbia Country Club course in Chevy Chase, Md., in a sizzling 67-67-134 to lead the 125 qualifiers who made it on 23 courses in the United States and one in Hawaii.

Harper, a former PGA champion who has been on the pro trail for more than two decades, set a 36-hole record for the course.

Other big name players who got under the wire included Wally Ulrich, Frank Stranahan, Wally Burkemo, Billy Maxwell, Art Wall, Dave Douglas, Bob Rosburg, Ted Kroll, Johnny Palmer, Doug Ford, Bo Wininger, Claude Harmon, Jack Burke and Porky Oliver.

BYRON NELSON, 1939 champion and one of the greats in the history of U. S. golf, is trying a comeback and going into the second round, he was No. 14 on the list with a 4-over-par 39-36-75. Lawson Little, 1940 Open champion, had a par 71. Jim Turnesa, 1952 PGA titlist, carded a 75 and Walker Cupper Harvie Ward had a 73. All should make it.

Harrison's failure was a peculiar twist of fate, indeed. The veteran pro played the Bellerive Country Club course in St. Louis where he won the 1953 Western Open. In that tournament, he was the only player who did not have an over-par round.

Yesterday, he could do no better than a 74-76—150, 8 over par.

Bobby Cruikshank, a fixture at the Open, qualified for the 27th year at his home club, the Cartiers Country Club in Pittsburgh. He had a 140.

The only untoward incident of the day took place on the same course where George Bayer of San Gabriel, Calif., became incensed after driving four balls out of bounds on the 10th hole. The big pro stalked off the fairway on the 15th and left without turning in a card—or taking a shower.

Merentino KOs Smallwood in 2nd

New York, June 7 (AP)—Rafael Merentino, a 26-year-old Argentine with dynamite in his right hand, is going to get a chance to avenge his only American defeat.

The South American had no more than knocked out inexperienced Hardy Smallwood of Brooklyn in the second round at St. Nicks' Arena last night than matchmaker Tex Sullivan said Merentino had agreed to a return match with Jackie La Bua in the same arena on July 11.

LA BUA originally was slated to be Merentino's opponent last night but he cracked a rib in training. Smallwood was substituted in the nationally televised bout, scheduled for 10 rounds, but was no match for Rafael. He was counted out at 2:36 after taking automatic eight count earlier in the round. Merentino weighed 160½, Smallwood 157.

"I had him just as the bell rang for the end of the first round," said Merentino, "but he got away from me."

Beat Nyack Duo In Three Sets At Newburgh

Play in Intersectional Meet at West Point

Kingston High's tennis tandem of George Baechtle and Richard "Red" Smith won the Class A doubles title in the Section 9 tournament at Newburgh.

The Class A team crown went to Newburgh Academy by a 4-3 margin over Kingston.

Smith and Baechtle rallied from a first set loss to Pete Esmay and Bob Bernstein of Nyack to nail down the victory, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 in a match that was halted at the end of two sets and completed the next day.

EN ROUTE to the finals and a spot in the Intersectionals Friday at West Point, Coach Ken Brown's crack duo had whipped Harold Kaplan and Ernie Napoleon of Newburgh, 8-6, 6-1.

Jack McDonough of Newburgh defeated Marty Kantrowitz of Kingston for the singles title, 6-2, 6-2.

The tournament summaries:

Class A Singles

Jack McDonough, NFA, defeated Ronald Schoonmaker, K, 6-1, 6-4.

Marty Kantrowitz, K, defeated Whitey Dunphy, 6-0, 6-0.

City Baseball Meeting Set

City Baseball League managers will make final preparations for Monday's 1955 opener at a Thursday night meeting at city hall. The time is 7:30 p. m.

President Fred Davi announced today that five teams are definitely set for the 1955 campaign.

The teams are Ferraro's Bowlodrome, Jack Watzka, manager; Nadler Motors, Pucker Davis; Jones Dairy, John Schatzel; New York Panthers, Charlie Havlin; Dobler's, George Magley. The latter team may play under the banner of Frank Reis.

Jack McDonough, NFA, defeated Marty Kantrowitz, K, 6-2, 6-2.

Class A Doubles

Harold Kaplan-Ernie Napoleon, NFA, defeated Bob McCoy-Bob Morgan, Middletown, 6-1, 6-2.

Richard Smith-George Baechtle, KHS, defeated Franklin Fiedelholtz-Richard Ochs, NFA, 6-2, 6-3.

Manfro Pounds 800 in Classic

Charlie Manfro cracked an 800 series in four games to make the standing board and earn a squad prize in the $1,200 Landgraf bowling classic in New York city.

The Jones Dairy captain fired games of 196, 169, 246 and 189 on the Bowlmor Recreation lanes.

Foaming Menace

Chambersburg, Pa. (AP)—D-D, the pet parakeet of John Gibbons, drowned his sorrows. A glass of beer caught his fancy. He perched on the rim, dipped his beek into the foam for a nip fell into the glass. Gibbons rescued the drenched bird but D-D was found dead on the floor of his cage next morning.

Hartung Slams Two Home Runs

(By The Associated Press)

Clint Hartung, who could never quite make the grade as either a major league outfielder or pitcher, now and then has himself a real night in the International League.

Last night was one of those occasions. The former New York Giant, who came up to the major leagues during the post war years heralded as a great slugger, drove in five runs with two homers as the Cuban Sugar Kings defeated the Rochester Red Wings 6-4 to move into undisputed possession of third place. Clint also got a single for a perfect night at the plate.

In the only other game last night, the Toronto Maple Leafs strengthened their hold on first place by downing the Richmond Virginians 5-1 in 11 innings.

The leafs got a nifty pitching performance from Connie Johnson and then broke the game wide open with four runs in the top of the 11th.

Sharp increases in low U. S. incomes during World War 2 brought a considerable increase in the consumption of human food.

They'll all be on the outside looking in as a result of yesterday's qualifying round. The U. S. Golf Association cut the list of exempt players severely this year with the thought in mind of giving the run-of-the-mill shotmaker a better chance of qualifying.

Only 17 players were exempt, which meant that most of the top stars had to take their chances on having a bad day.

(Northeastern PGA professionals of this district failed to gain a place at Baltusrol. Under the new setup, the Northeastern qualifying sectional in the Albany area was joined with the group at Baltusrol.)

MANY GOT through, of course. In fact, Chandler Harper, the 41-year-old pro from Portsmouth, Va., toured the Columbia Country Club course in Chevy Chase, Md., in a sizzling 67-67-134 to lead the 125 qualifiers who made it on 23 courses in the United States and one in Hawaii.

Harper, a former PGA champion who has been on the pro trail for more than two decades, set a 36-hole record for the course.

Other big name players who got under the wire included Wally Ulrich, Frank Stranahan, Wally Burkemo, Billy Maxwell, Art Wall, Dave Douglas, Bob Rosburg, Ted Kroll, Johnny Palmer, Doug Ford, Bo Wininger, Claude Harmon, Jack Burke and Porky Oliver.

BYRON NELSON, 1939 champion and one of the greats in the history of U. S. golf, is trying a comeback and going into the second round, he was No. 14 on the list with a 4-over-par 39-36-75. Lawson Little, 1940 Open champion, had a par 71. Jim Turnesa, 1952 PGA titlist, carded a 75 and Walker Cupper Harvie Ward had a 73. All should make it.

Harrison's failure was a peculiar twist of fate, indeed. The veteran pro played the Bellerive Country Club course in St. Louis where he won the 1953 Western Open. In that tournament, he was the only player who did not have an over-par round.

Yesterday, he could do no better than a 74-76—150, 8 over par.

Bobby Cruikshank, a fixture at the Open, qualified for the 27th year at his home club, the Cartiers Country Club in Pittsburgh. He had a 140.

The only untoward incident of the day took place on the same course where George Bayer of San Gabriel, Calif., became incensed after driving four balls out of bounds on the 10th hole. The big pro stalked off the fairway on the 15th and left without turning in a card—or taking a shower.

Merentino KOs Smallwood in 2nd

New York, June 7 (AP)—Rafael Merentino, a 26-year-old Argentine with dynamite in his right hand, is going to get a chance to avenge his only American defeat.

The South American had no more than knocked out inexperienced Hardy Smallwood of Brooklyn in the second round at St. Nicks' Arena last night than matchmaker Tex Sullivan said Merentino had agreed to a return match with Jackie La Bua in the same arena on July 11.

LA BUA originally was slated to be Merentino's opponent last night but he cracked a rib in training. Smallwood was substituted in the nationally televised bout, scheduled for 10 rounds, but was no match for Rafael. He was counted out at 2:36 after taking automatic eight count earlier in the round. Merentino weighed 160½, Smallwood 157.

"I had him just as the bell rang for the end of the first round," said Merentino, "but he got away from me."

Nottingham, England—Jack Gardner, 217, England, stopped Johnny Williams, 192, England, 5.

Smith, Baechtle Cop Section 9 Doubles

Play in Intersectional Meet at West Point

Kingston High's tennis tandem of George Baechtle and Richard "Red" Smith won the Class A doubles title in the Section 9 tournament at Newburgh.

The Class A team crown went to Newburgh Academy by a 4-3 margin over Kingston.

Smith and Baechtle rallied from a first set loss to Pete Esmay and Bob Bernstein of Nyack to nail down the victory, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4 in a match that was halted at the end of two sets and completed the next day.

EN ROUTE to the finals and a spot in the Intersectionals Friday at West Point, Coach Ken Brown's crack duo had whipped Harold Kaplan and Ernie Napoleon of Newburgh, 8-6, 6-1.

Jack McDonough of Newburgh defeated Marty Kantrowitz of Kingston for the singles title, 6-2, 6-2.

The tournament summaries:

Class A Singles

Jack McDonough, NFA, defeated Ronald Schoonmaker, K, 6-1, 6-4.

Marty Kantrowitz, K, defeated Whitey Dunphy, 6-0, 6-0.

City Baseball Meeting Set

City Baseball League managers will make final preparations for Monday's 1955 opener at a Thursday night meeting at city hall. The time is 7:30 p. m.

President Fred Davi announced today that five teams are definitely set for the 1955 campaign.

Manfro Pounds 800 in Classic

Charlie Manfro cracked an 800 series in four games to make the standing board and earn a squad prize in the $1,200 Landgraf bowling classic in New York city.

The Jones Dairy captain fired games of 196, 169, 246 and 189 on the Bowlmor Recreation lanes.

Foaming Menace

Chambersburg, Pa. (AP)—D-D, the pet parakeet of John Gibbons, drowned his sorrows. A glass of beer caught his fancy. He perched on the rim, dipped his beek into the foam for a nip fell into the glass. Gibbons rescued the drenched bird but D-D was found dead on the floor of his cage next morning.

Hartung Slams Two Home Runs

(By The Associated Press)

Clint Hartung, who could never quite make the grade as either a major league outfielder or pitcher, now and then has himself a real night in the International League.

Last night was one of those occasions. The former New York Giant, who came up to the major leagues during the post war years heralded as a great slugger, drove in five runs with two homers as the Cuban Sugar Kings defeated the Rochester Red Wings 6-4 to move into undisputed possession of third place. Clint also got a single for a perfect night at the plate.

In the only other game last night, the Toronto Maple Leafs strengthened their hold on first place by downing the Richmond Virginians 5-1 in 11 innings.

The leafs got a nifty pitching performance from Connie Johnson and then broke the game wide open with four runs in the top of the 11th.

Dodgers Beat Yanks, 10-1, in American Little League Opener

THE SCOREBOARD

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

It's about time the rest of the National League gave up the idea of waiting for the Brooklyn Dodgers to collapse. The Brooklyns can't lose for "winnin'."

Take last night. Their righthanded power hitters had been limited to four hits in eight innings by a southpaw rookie named Louis Arroyo and the St. Louis Cardinals had a 4-3 lead going into the last of the ninth.

When Gil Hodges led off with a walk, Manager Walt Alston couldn't decide whether to have Jackie Robinson lay down a sacrifice bunt and go for a tie or have him swing away and go for broke.

ALSTON FLASHED the "bunt" sign, but Robbie fouled off the pitch. Alston switched to the "hit" sign then, but the pitch was wide and Jack watched it go by. So Alston changed back to the bunt strategy. But Robinson again fouled it off.

It was hit or nothing then. Alston wasn't bunting on the third strike.

So what's Robbie do? He smacks the next pitch into the left field seats and the Brooklyns win it 5-4. And just like that, they're eight games up on the runnerup Chicago Cubs, who were idle like most of the other teams.

The only other National League action was at Philadelphia. The Milwaukee Braves stayed a half game behind the third place New York Giants by whipping the Phils 5-2 after Philadelphia had wrapped up a 4-2 triumph in the three-inning completion of the suspended second game in Sunday's doubleheader.

IN THE AMERICAN, the New York Yankees made hay on the slack schedule, bombing Detroit with home runs 7-5 for a 4½ game lead. Rain postponed the only other game, Washington at Kansas City.

The Yanks counted all their runs on homers. Eddie Robinson hit a pair, each good for two runs. Billy Hoeft lost his third in eight decisions.

Rookie Johnny Kucks was the winner, but claimed his fifth success only after Jim Konstanty put down a two-run Tiger rally in the ninth. Able Al Kaline, who has hit in all but four of Detroit's 49 games, homered with none on in the seventh to run his current hitting string to 14 games.

Barnes Hurls 5-Hitter And Fans 12 Batters; Secreto Slugs 4 Hits

A couple of little pros—Gary Barnes and Ronnie Secreto—combined to inflict heavy damage on the Yankees.

Barnes pitched a five-hitter and struck out 12 to gain the decision over Frank Fay, who allowed 13 hits and fanned six.

SECRETO WENT "4 for 4", including a single, two doubles and a triple. Tom Ashdown, the Dodger cleanup hitter, stroked a double and single and Tom Cioni and Ron Thomas also had two hits for the winners.

Leading Yankee hitters were Dick Ellis and Walt Daw with two blows apiece.

About 200 fans, including the new director of the league, Harold Anderson, watched the opener.

Barnes lost his shutout in the third inning and the Dodgers scored in five of their six turns at bat, failing only in the fourth inning.

TUESDAY, JUNE 14, has been set as Kingston day for the Little League Fight Against Polio, a nationwide movement that recently received the endorsement of President Eisenhower.

The secondary opener this evening pairs the Giants and Red Sox.

The Yankees and Red Sox are scheduled Thursday, followed by Dodgers and Giants on Friday.

Musto's Homer Beats Destroyers for Perrys

Connects in 7th For 6-5 Victory

Tony Musto's homer in the top of the seventh gave Perry's a crucial 6-5 victory over the Destroyer A. C. yesterday in the City Softball League.

Musto's round tripper broke up a tense 5-5 mound duel between Frank Boyce and Joe Venuti.

Perry's then executed a fast double play in the bottom of the seventh to close out the game. Boyce had helped his own cause with a tremendous homer in the fifth.

J. ARMSTRONG rapped a double and single for the Destroyers and Dave Lindsay and Boyce came up with a pair of safeties.

R. Freer scattered six hits as Chez Emile downed Hilltops, 4 to 1, with a four-run first inning. The winners collected five blows off Brown. No player on either side had more than one hit.

Kaplan Bag backed up Danny Basch's six-hit pitching with 15 safeties to rout Hercules, 11 to 4.

Ted Beland, Kaplan's slugging centerfielder, cracked a single, two doubles and a triple in five trips to the plate. Basch helped himself with three singles.

MIRON LUMBER opened with an 8-run first inning and went on to route Turcams, 19 to 7, behind Ferrell McElrath.

R. B. Sickler clouted a homer and a double for the Lumberjacks. C. Burd hit a triple and two singles for Turcams and Peer went "4 for 4", all singles for Mirons.

Locke Scores Double

Onteora Trackmen Trip Arlington in Track

Onteora Central closed out its 1955 track season with a victory over Arlington Jayvees on the Boiceville track.

Coach Bernie Stahl's thinclads captured 8 of 12 first places and tied for two and had Ronnie Locke score a double in the 100 yards dash and shotput.

Locke was clocked in 10.8 in the century and heaved the shot 40 feet, 1 inch. Lou Bolter copped the 440 in 58 seconds and Howard Wendler reeled off the 880 in 2:16.

GLENN GLASS won the mile for the Indians in 5:08. Joe La Rocca heaved the discus 100 feet, 4 inches and Ben Robinson broad jumped 17 feet, 5 inches.

Joe Tumasian tied with Ludovici of Arlington in the pole vault at 8 feet, 6 inches. Three Onteora representatives — Ben Robinson, Bob Hall and Walt Etz—tied with Bill Robinson of Arlington at five feet in the high jump.

The Onteora 880 relay squad remained undefeated in dual competition. Bill Reynolds, Joe Tumasian, Ben Robinson and Ronnie Locke ran for the Indians.

The summaries:

100 yards — Won by Locke (O); 2. Dindot (A); 3. Black (A). Time. 10.8 seconds.

180 yard hurdles—Won by Andrews (A); 2. Lee Schirmer (O); 3. Reynolds (O). Time: 24 seconds.

India Sends Students

New Delhi (AP)—For the first time, India is sending girls to the United States to participate in the Live-and-Work Exchange Program sponsored jointly by the 4-H clubs and the Ford Foundation. The Indian government has selected 10 girls to go to the United States to study home economics. During the past three years, Indian farm boys have been going to the United States to work on American farms. As part of the exchange, several American boys and girls are scheduled to visit India for six months, starting in September.

Age Comparison

In colonial times, 40 per cent of the people in what became the United States were under 15 years old compared with 27 per cent today.

More than 1,000 ships leave New York harbor in an average month.

SUNFISH BAITS

WHOLE WORM IS TOO LARGE

6-7

SUNFISH (BLUEGILLS, BREAM, "PUNKINSEEDS," ETC.) HAVE A SMALL MOUTH, SO USE HOOKS AND BAITS THEY CAN TAKE IN ONE GULP. A WORM (OR PIECE) 1" LONG, THREADED ON A SHORT-SHANK, SIZE 8 (OR LESS) HOOK IS TOPS. IF A LARGE WORM IS USED, SMALL SUNNIES PECK IT UNTIL IT'S GONE AND MAY NOT GET HOOKED, WHILE BIG BREAM MAY GROW SUSPICIOUS AND LET IT ALONE AFTER ONE PECK. 2ND CHOICE BAITS ARE GRUBS, "HOPPERS," CRICKETS, BEETLES, ETC., AND NYMPHS. MINNOWS ARE TOO LARGE, SO THEY'RE POOR BAIT.

Dodgers Beat Yanks, 10-1, in American Little League Opener

THE SCOREBOARD

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

It's about time the rest of the National League gave up the idea of waiting for the Brooklyn Dodgers to collapse. The Brooklyns can't lose for "winnin'."

Take last night. Their righthanded power hitters had been limited to four hits in eight innings by a southpaw rookie named Louis Arroyo and the St. Louis Cardinals had a 4-3 lead going into the last of the ninth.

When Gil Hodges led off with a walk, Manager Walt Alston couldn't decide whether to have Jackie Robinson lay down a sacrifice bunt and go for a tie or have him swing away and go for broke.

ALSTON FLASHED the "bunt" sign, but Robbie fouled off the pitch. Alston switched to the "hit" sign then, but the pitch was wide and Jack watched it go by. So Alston changed back to the bunt strategy. But Robinson again fouled it off.

It was hit or nothing then. Alston wasn't bunting on the third strike.

So what's Robbie do? He smacks the next pitch into the left field seats and the Brooklyns win it 5-4. And just like that, they're eight games up on the runnerup Chicago Cubs, who were idle like most of the other teams.

The only other National League action was at Philadelphia. The Milwaukee Braves stayed a half game behind the third place New York Giants by whipping the Phils 5-2 after Philadelphia had wrapped up a 4-2 triumph in the three-inning completion of the suspended second game in Sunday's doubleheader.

IN THE AMERICAN, the New York Yankees made hay on the slack schedule, bombing Detroit with home runs 7-5 for a 4½ game lead. Rain postponed the only other game, Washington at Kansas City.

The Yanks counted all their runs on homers. Eddie Robinson hit a pair, each good for two runs. Billy Hoeft lost his third in eight decisions.

Rookie Johnny Kucks was the winner, but claimed his fifth success only after Jim Konstanty put down a two-run Tiger rally in the ninth. Able Al Kaline, who has hit in all but four of Detroit's 49 games, homered with none on in the seventh to run his current hitting string to 14 games.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Bob Buhl, Milwaukee Braves, two-hit the Philadelphia Phils over the last eight innings in a 5-2 Milwaukee triumph.

Hitting — Eddie Robinson, Yankees, smacked a pair of two-run homers as New York beat Detroit 7-5.

OPENING DAY LL BATTERIES—Garry Barnes, Dodger pitcher, Tom Ashdown, catcher and Henry Barnes, manager, exchange greetings with Frank Fay, pitcher, Walter Daw, catcher, and Tom Heneberry, manager, of the Yankees in the 1955 American Little League opener yesterday at the 156th FA stadium. The Dodgers, 1954 champions, won 10 to 1. (Freeman photo)

Barnes Hurls 5-Hitter And Fans 12 Batters; Secreto Slugs 4 Hits

Sprague Electric Dodgers, 1954 champions of the American Little League, picked up where they left off last season by trouncing the Lions Club Yankees, 10 to 1, in the 1955 opener yesterday at the 156th FA diamond.

A couple of little pros—Gary Barnes and Ronnie Secreto—combined to inflict heavy damage on the Yankees.

Barnes pitched a five-hitter and struck out 12 to gain the decision over Frank Fay, who allowed 13 hits and fanned six.

SECRETO WENT "4 for 4", including a single, two doubles and a triple. Tom Ashdown, the Dodger cleanup hitter, stroked a double and single and Tom Cioni and Ron Thomas also had two hits for the winners.

Leading Yankee hitters were Dick Ellis and Walt Daw with two blows apiece.

About 200 fans, including the new director of the league, Harold Anderson, watched the opener.

Barnes lost his shutout in the third inning and the Dodgers scored in five of their six turns at bat, failing only in the fourth inning.

TUESDAY, JUNE 14, has been set as Kingston day for the Little League Fight Against Polio, a nationwide movement that recently received the endorsement of President Eisenhower.

The secondary opener this evening pairs the Giants and Red Sox.

The Yankees and Red Sox are scheduled Thursday, followed by Dodgers and Giants on Friday.

Musto's Homer Beats Destroyers for Perrys

Connects in 7th For 6-5 Victory

Tony Musto's homer in the top of the seventh gave Perry's a crucial 6-5 victory over the Destroyer A. C. yesterday in the City Softball League.

Musto's round tripper broke up a tense 5-5 mound duel between Frank Boyce and Joe Venuti.

Perry's then executed a fast double play in the bottom of the seventh to close out the game. Boyce had helped his own cause with a tremendous homer in the fifth.

J. ARMSTRONG rapped a double and single for the Destroyers and Dave Lindsay and Boyce came up with a pair of safeties.

R. Freer scattered six hits as Chez Emile downed Hilltops, 4 to 1, with a four-run first inning. The winners collected five blows off Brown. No player on either side had more than one hit.

Kaplan Bag backed up Danny Basch's six-hit pitching with 15 safeties to rout Hercules, 11 to 4.

Ted Beland, Kaplan's slugging centerfielder, cracked a single, two doubles and a triple in five trips to the plate. Basch helped himself with three singles.

MIRON LUMBER opened with an 8-run first inning and went on to route Turcams, 19 to 7, behind Ferrell McElrath.

R. B. Sickler clouted a homer and a double for the Lumberjacks. C. Burd hit a triple and two singles for Turcams and Peer went "4 for 4", all singles for Mirons.

On Ellesmere Island, near the North Pole, the sun never sets for 147 days and never rises for 145 days during the year.

Onteora Central closed out its 1955 track season with a victory over Arlington Jayvees on the Boiceville track.

Coach Bernie Stahl's thinclads captured 8 of 12 first places and tied for two and had Ronnie Locke score a double in the 100 yards dash and shotput.

Locke was clocked in 10.8 in the century and heaved the shot 40 feet, 1 inch. Lou Bolter copped the 440 in 58 seconds and Howard Wendler reeled off the 880 in 2:16.

GLENN GLASS won the mile for the Indians in 5:08. Joe La Rocca heaved the discus 100 feet, 4 inches and Ben Robinson broad jumped 17 feet, 5 inches.

Joe Tumasian tied with Ludovici of Arlington in the pole vault at 8 feet, 6 inches. Three Onteora representatives — Ben Robinson, Bob Hall and Walt Etz—tied with Bill Robinson of Arlington at five feet in the high jump.

The Onteora 880 relays squad remained undefeated in dual competition. Bill Reynolds, Joe Tumasian, Ben Robinson and Ronnie Locke ran for the Indians.

The summaries:

100 yards — Won by Locke (O); 2. Dindot (A); 3. Black (A). Time. 10.8 seconds.

180 yard hurdles—Won by Andrews (A); 2. Lee Schirmer (O); 3. Reynolds (O). Time: 24 seconds.

220 yards—Won by Andrews (A); 2. Reynolds (O); 3. Black (A).

440 yards—Won by Lou Bolter (O); 2. Etz (O); 3. Adams (A). Time: 58 seconds.

880 yards—Won by Wendler (O); 2. Jaymes (A); 3. Hahn (O). Time: 2:16.

Mile run—Won by Glen Glass (O); 2. Haines (A); 3. Robinson (A). Time: 5.08.

Discus—Won by Joe La Rocca (O); 2. Bremer (O); 3. Schirmer (O). Distance: 100 feet, 4 inches.

Shot put—Won by Locke (O); 2. La Rocca (O); 3. Jones (A). Distance: 40 feet, 1 inch.

Broad jump—Won by Ben Robinson (O); 2. Mesh (A); 3. Mackey (A). Distance: 17 feet, 5 inches.

Pole vault—Tie for first between Joe Tumasian (O) and Ludovich (A); 3. Hahn (O). Height: 8 feet, 6 inches.

High Jump—Tie among Robinson, Hall, Etz (O); and Robinson (A) at 5 feet.

India Sends Students

New Delhi (AP)—For the first time, India is sending girls to the United States to participate in the Live-and-Work Exchange Program sponsored jointly by the 4-H clubs and the Ford Foundation. The Indian government has selected 10 girls to go to the United States to study home economics. During the past three years, Indian farm boys have been going to the United States to work on American farms. As part of the exchange, several American boys and girls are scheduled to visit India for six months, starting in September.

Age Comparison

In colonial times, 40 per cent of the people in what became the United States were under 15 years old compared with 27 per cent today.

More than 1,000 ships leave New York harbor in an average month.

SUNFISH BAITS

SUNFISH (BLUEGILLS, BREAM, "PUNKINSEEDS," ETC.) HAVE A SMALL MOUTH, SO USE HOOKS AND BAITS THEY CAN TAKE IN ONE GULP. A WORM (OR PIECE) 1" LONG, THREADED ON A SHORT-SHANK, SIZE 8 (OR LESS) HOOK IS TOPS. IF A LARGE WORM IS USED, SMALL SUNNIES PECK IT UNTIL IT'S GONE AND MAY NOT GET HOOKED, WHILE BIG BREAM MAY GROW SUSPICIOUS AND LET IT ALONE AFTER ONE PECK. 2ND CHOICE BAITS ARE GRUBS, "HOPPERS," CRICKETS, BEETLES, ETC., AND NYMPHS. MINNOWS ARE TOO LARGE, SO THEY'RE POOR BAIT.

REMOVE HIND LEGS AND WINGS, THEN THREAD GRASSHOPPER TAIL-FIRST ON HOOK.

Storm May . . .

Bits of clothing hung on tree limbs.

The plane itself was demolished, its landing gear, wings, propeller and other parts scattered along a line from the point where the plane first cut into the trees. The plane did not burn.

The plane, a Cessna 180, was silver with a red streak. Its registration was N 1562 C.

WHAT LATER proved to be the wreckage of Dr. Lester's plane was spotted from the air about 12:30 p. m. Monday by Aldie Kadlick and Charles Saxe, two pilots from Athens, according to Lt. Joseph J. Mickolas of Ferndale, state police zone commander in charge of Ulster and Sullivan counties, who was in charge of the investigation.

Kadlick and Saxe pinpointed the wreckage, landed their plane at Catskill and after picking up two Civil Air Patrol men, Lee Decker and Elwood Morrow of the Windham squad, returned to Quarryville by automobile.

THERE THEY met Trooper William Shurter of the Kingston station, and at about 1:45 p. m. they located the wreckage from the ground, not far from an unpaved road which intersects with Route 32.

Cpl. Elliott Johnson, who was coordinating the search for the plane from the Kingston station, was notified and Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly, BCI, Troopers John Ripa, Henry Stableford, and Henry S. Rhodes were dispatched to the scene, where they were joined by Lt. Mickolas.

Coroner Michael A. Galietta of Saugerties was also notified and he took charge of removing the bodies.

THE BODIES were removed to the Galietta Funeral Home, and relatives were contacted last night.

The plane had been the object of a widespread search after it was reported missing when it failed to arrive in Schenectady Saturday night.

Troopers at Kingston and Catskill received numerous reports from residents who recalled hearing crashes. Most thought little of the crashes, believing them to be thunderclaps, until after it became known that a plane was missing in the area.

Each report was meticulously followed up by state police with ground searching parties and air observation by CAP units.

On Sunday, the search concentrated in the Catskill area in Greene county.

FIRST IN a series of tips which led the search to the Quarryville area was received by the Saugerties Police Department about 7:45 a. m. Monday from Gerald Finger of Asbury, who reported seeing a plane "in trouble" about 5 p. m. Saturday. Sgt. Keeley of the Saugerties police relayed this report to the Kingston state police station.

At 9:30 a. m. Monday, Mrs. Patrick Gavigan of the Saugerties Ground Observers Post reported that William Aherns of Quarryville notified her that he had seen a plane appear to fall Saturday afternoon somewhere between West Saugerties and Woodstock.

BY 10:10 A. M., several more calls were received at the state police barracks, among them one from Edgar Wilhelm of Asbury, who reported having heard a plane between Asbury and Saugerties, and that the motor sounded as if it stopped suddenly.

There reports were relayed by Cpl. Johnson at the local barracks to Sgt. F. W. Hilfrank at Catskill, who was in contact with CAP planes in that area and who advised the pilots to direct their search southward into Ulster county.

3. There now are 16 full-time county health commissioners in the state. Clinton and Genesee counties were added to the list during the past year.

Hilleboe said mortality per 100,000 in 1954 was 449.2 for heart disease, 187.2 for cancer and 19.9 for diabetes. The death rate for tuberculosis was about 15 per cent lower last year than in the previous year.

Sentence Is Upheld

New York, June 7 (AP)—The Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court unanimously upheld today a five-day sentence imposed on William J. Keating for contempt of court in a wiretap investigation.

Dulles Sees . . .

he would rely upon the Yalta agreement as well as others in which the Soviets promised those nations independence.

A formal invitation to a top level meeting of the big powers, to start at Geneva July 18, was delivered to the Soviets yesterday. The United States, Britain and France suggested four days of talks. The satellite issue is to be brought up in that session.

The Western invitation, delivered in Moscow, came as no surprise. The suggested place and date came out over the weekend.

Storm May . . .

off course and was turned around in the storm.

ALL THE occupants apparently met instant death, their bodies being torn to pieces and scattered over a wide area. One of the bodies, that of one of the women, was thrown an estimated 100 feet ahead of the point where the cabin of the plane came to rest.

Bits of clothing hung on tree limbs.

The plane itself was demolished, its landing gear, wings, propeller and other parts scattered along a line from the point where the plane first cut into the trees. The plane did not burn.

The plane, a Cessna 180, was silver with a red streak. Its registration was N 1562 C.

WHAT LATER proved to be the wreckage of Dr. Lester's plane was spotted from the air about 12:30 p. m. Monday by Aldie Kadlick and Charles Saxe, two pilots from Athens, according to Lt. Joseph J. Mickolas of Ferndale, state police zone commander in charge of Ulster and Sullivan counties, who was in charge of the investigation.

Kadlick and Saxe pinpointed the wreckage, landed their plane at Catskill and after picking up two Civil Air Patrol men, Lee Decker and Elwood Morrow of the Windham squad, returned to Quarryville by automobile.

THERE THEY met Trooper William Shurter of the Kingston station, and at about 1:45 p. m. they located the wreckage from the ground, not far from an unpaved road which intersects with Route 32.

Cpl. Elliott Johnson, who was coordinating the search for the plane from the Kingston station, was notified and Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly, BCI, Troopers John Ripa, Henry Stableford, and Henry S. Rhodes were dispatched to the scene, where they were joined by Lt. Mickolas.

Coroner Michael A. Galietta of Saugerties was also notified and he took charge of removing the bodies.

THE BODIES were removed to the Galietta Funeral Home, and relatives were contacted last night.

The plane had been the object of a widespread search after it was reported missing when it failed to arrive in Schenectady Saturday night.

Troopers at Kingston and Catskill received numerous reports from residents who recalled hearing crashes. Most thought little of the crashes, believing them to be thunderclaps, until after it became known that a plane was missing in the area.

Each report was meticulously followed up by state police with ground searching parties and air observation by CAP units.

On Sunday, the search concentrated in the Catskill area in Greene county.

FIRST IN a series of tips which led the search to the Quarryville area was received by the Saugerties Police Department about 7:45 a. m. Monday from Gerald Finger of Asbury, who reported seeing a plane "in trouble" about 5 p. m. Saturday. Sgt. Keeley of the Saugerties police relayed this report to the Kingston state police station.

At 9:30 a. m. Monday, Mrs. Patrick Gavigan of the Saugerties Ground Observers Post reported that William Aherns of Quarryville notified her that he had seen a plane appear to fall Saturday afternoon somewhere between West Saugerties and Woodstock.

BY 10:10 A. M., several more calls were received at the state police barracks, among them one from Edgar Wilhelm of Asbury, who reported having heard a plane between Asbury and Saugerties, and that the motor sounded as if it stopped suddenly.

There reports were relayed by Cpl. Johnson at the local barracks to Sgt. F. W. Hilfrank at Catskill, who was in contact with CAP planes in that area and who advised the pilots to direct their search southward into Ulster county.

A formal invitation to a top level meeting of the big powers, to start at Geneva July 18, was delivered to the Soviets yesterday. The United States, Britain and France suggested four days of talks. The satellite issue is to be brought up in that session.

The Western invitation, delivered in Moscow, came as no surprise. The suggested place and date came out over the weekend.

Struggle for

18, Eisenhower said of the struggle to iron out differences:

"It is a task that may result in a long series of conferences."

Eisenhower declared that although the strength of this nation and its allies provides reason for confidence, "We likewise have need for wisdom and the caution that wisdom enforces"—at the conference table itself, in the halls of government, in every place of business and in every home in America." He added:

"BY CAUTION, I mean: A prudent guard against fatuous expectations that a world, sick with ignorance, mutual fears and hates, can be miraculously cured at a single meeting. I mean a stern determination that we shall not be reckless and witless, relaxing our posture merely because a persistent foe may assume a smiling face and soft voice.

"By wisdom, I mean: A calm awareness that strength at home, strength in allies, strength in moral position, arm us in impregnable fashion to meet every wile and strategem that may be used against us."

The President's effort to guard against the building of great expectations that an "at-the-summit" meeting will solve everything was in line with views he has expressed several times.

SPEAKING at the Field House at his alma mater, Eisenhower devoted nearly a quarter of his address to the proposal that he meet with Russia's Premier Bulganin, Britain's Prime Minister Eden and France's Premier Faure.

The President said the populations of the four countries to be represented at the meeting "constitute only a fraction of mankind," and "free nations do not claim any right to speak for others."

For that reason, said Eisenhower, the Big Four conference is "only a beginning."

Turning to atomic power, the President said "war necessity made nuclear fission a science of destruction, but we aspire to be foremost in harnessing its mighty power for peaceful use and the betterment of human living."

Much of the rest of his address, climaxing a three-day visit to West Point, dealt with the role he envisions for the academy graduates.

There are about 150 species of maple trees.

Forest Production

More than a third of the land area of the United States is considered useful primarily as forest land and more than two-thirds of the forest land area can produce commercial timber.

Mexican Death Rate

In Mexico, the death rate of infants under 1 year old has dropped from 200 per 1,000 population in the early 20s to less than 100 a year.

THE WISTFUL HUNCH

plays by ear and lets his mind take a holiday

The HUNCH is a manufacturer who says advertising is an art — so why try to be scientific about it?

He bets on horses by the sound of their names, draws to inside straights, and always uses a putter when driving off a tee.

He's an amateur's amateur.

Fortunately, the HUNCH is a rare creature. Most advertisers realize that there is a degree of science in all human endeavors — and advertising is no exception.

Most manufacturers carefully weigh their markets and advertise accordingly. They watch their competition closely — and throw in shock troops when sales are threatened. They time campaigns to meet seasonal opportunities. They saturate markets to gain sales supremacy.

Naturally, they use newspapers. Because with newspapers they can pin-point any market, really cover any market. More so now than ever before . . . because U. S. daily newspaper circulation is highest in history — 55,072,480.

Their national advertising starts at the local level in newspapers!

All business is local...and so are all newspapers!
